CHAPEL — The chapel of San Rafael's First Presbyterian Church was extensively remodeled in 1963, but an engineering report says the church structure is an earthquake hazard. A decision on whether the building will be demolished will be made in January.

First Presbyterian Church May Have To Be Demolished

The First Presbyterian Church at Fifth Avenue and E Street in San Rafael will be demolished next year if the church's congregation gives its approval.

Rev. Charles C. Griffin, pastor, said engineering studies have declared the structure, built in the 1890's an earthquake hazard.

A letter sent to the church's members said the sanctuary walls were built inexpensively in 1896 of local rock which was not reinforced. Lime mortar used to "glue" the rocks together has generally deteriorated, the letter said.

The same deterioration is evident in brick columns which support the roof beams.

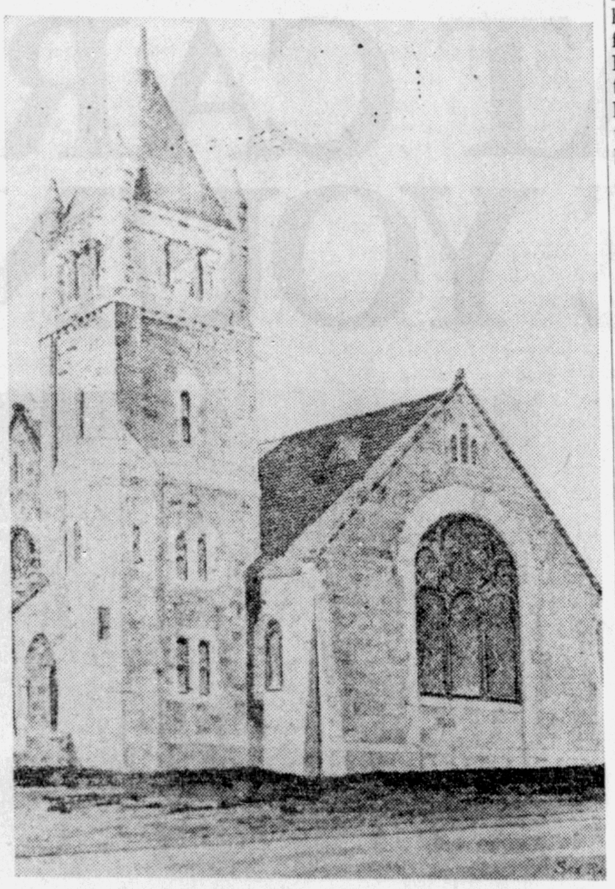

Dr. Griffin said a final decision on demolishing the structure will be made by the congregation at its annual meeting in January.

Church officers will recommend demolition, rather than reconstruction, he said, for economic reasons.

He said figures were not available, but restoration of the present structure was estimated to cost 25 per cent more than demolition and construction of a new church.

If approval is given in January, Dr. Griffin said, the demolition of the old church and construction of a new one would probably begin in late 1971.

He said a study by the San Rafael engineering firm of Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton left little doubt the construction and condition of the sanctuary makes it a hazard in tremors.

EARTHQUAKE HAZARD — The bell tower and main structure of the First Presbyterian Church are a San Rafael landmark. The building, looking today much as it did in this photo when dedicated in 1896, may be torn down next year.

The report said no accurate prediction of the safety of the building under normal conditions can be made.

The letter from the church officers to the congregation said that it is assumed the stained glass windows, bell, organ and furniture in the church can be used in a new structure.

The building was dedicated in 1896, having been built at a cost of $12,500 for stonemasons and $11,500 for a carpenter and contractor.

OR NO PEACE TALKS

Israel Demands End To Missiles

NEW YORK (UPI) — Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir, saying "we can't negotiate with revolvers pointing at our heads," vowed Sunday Israel would refuse to return to the Mideast peace talks until Soviet-built missiles were removed from the Egyptian side of the Suez Canal cease-fire line.

"This is the reason we cannot continue these talks," she said.

In Washington earlier, Mrs. Meir said, "We are being threatened physically by the Egyptians and the Russians with the missiles they have introduced and are introducing every hour into the area. I don't think we have a fair chance at all."

Asserting that if Israel does not fight "for our freedom and safety, nobody else will," she said her nation needs help from the United States. "I would like to say I am convinced — maybe I should say I am convinced — that we will get it."

The 72-year-old premier spelled out Israel's position on the last day of a five day of a U.S. tour which included meetings Friday with President Nixon and State Department officials.

She wound up her stay with a Washington television interview (Issues and Answers—ABC) and an address at the New York Hilton to more than 3,000 persons attending a $20-a-plate United Jewish Appeal fund raising dinner, part of which was telecast via closed circuit to some 40,000 persons in 19 other U.S. cities. After an hour-long meeting with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, Mrs. Meir left for Israel early today on a scheduled El Al jetliner which took off despite the threat of an airline strike in Israel.

Speaking emphatically and without notes Mrs. Meir attacked the Soviet Union for backing Egypt and said Egypt's movement of the SAM2 and SAM3 missiles into the 31-mile-wide cease-fire zone "within an hour" after the 90-day truce began Aug. 7 would not have occurred without Soviet orders.

"It is a frightening thing that the Soviet Union and Egypt did not keep their promise to the entire world" by violating the truce, Mrs. Meir said. "This is a terribly frightening thing for

Another Cease-Fire Ordered By Hussein

Accuses Syrian Army Of Invading Country

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

King Hussein of Jordan ordered his army in Amman today to cease firing in the Jordanian civil war and demanded "absolute and strict observance." The cease-fire order was issued after he accused the Syrian army of invading Jordan.

An Israeli military spokesman in Tel Aviv said 200 Syrian tanks moving under cover of an artillery barrage had seized the city of Irbid, 14 miles south of the border, in a move that outflanked the Golan Heights cease-fire line and brought Syrian armor to with 18 miles of Israel.

Hussein's cease-fire apparently applied only to the Amman area where Cairo newspapers said 6,000 persons had been killed in the civil war and where they said the bodies of thousands of persons were strewn in the streets, raising the possibility of serious epidemics.

Guerrilla radio broadcasts reported heavy fighting in the Irbid area and at Salt, 15 miles north west of Amman, the site of a major Palestinian refugee camp. The guerrillas said they had "liberated" all of North Jordan but fighting was still going on at Salt.

The respected Tel Aviv newspaper Yedioth Haronoth openly speculated that U.S. intervention was imminent and said Washington would send in paratroops if Hussein asked for help. But in his first broadcast since the war started Hussein announced the Syrian invasion and appealed to the Syrians not to fight Jordanians.

Shortly afterward he ordered the cease-fire in Amman as of 5:15 p.m. (11:15 a.m. EDT).

Hussein said, "In response to the appeal of conscience and national duty and to put an end to the tragedies which the (Syrian) conspiracy imposed on our country, and in appreciation of our major responsibilities in these historic moments in the life of our nation, I order absolute and strict observance of the cease-fire as of this moment."

Fifty-four airplane hijack hostages are believed still in the Amman area, although no word of their fate has been received in several days. There are also about 400 American citizens in Jordan and any American intervention would be to evacuate them.

Hussein ordered one cease-fire Saturday evening but guerrilla broadcasts said they did not accept it. Field Marshal Habes Al-Majali, the Jordanian commander-in-chief, said guerrillas opened fire and his men fired back.

Parts of Amman, a city of 600,000, was in flames and smoke spiraled over the burn-

Two New York Banks Lower Prime Rates

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two big New York banks forced a major breach today in the wall of resistance to a cut in the commercial bank prime interest rate that has been under pressure since late in August.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. led the New York banks with a half-point cut to 7 1-2 per cent, followed quickly by Chemical Bank, New York Trust Co. The two banks, fifth and sixth largest in the nation, respectively, sent other New York bankers into hasty conferences and sparked a rash of similar cuts around the country.

While prime rate cuts will make loans obtained by big business borrowers a bit cheaper, the interest rates being paid by the man on the street for automobile and personal loans aren't likely to go down, at least not as a direct result of the prime rate cuts.

However, a spillover reduction in the consumer side of the credit market can't be ruled out. An official of one New York bank said demand for car loans has weakened and an interest rate cut might be possible. The current rate on new car loans is 5 3-4 per cent, discounted and including life insurance, which works out to 12.74 per cent on a simple interest basis for a three-year loan.

Mortgage rates, like consumer loan rates, move in a separate market and are not directly or automatically affected by changes in the business prime rate.

Several smaller banks reduced their prime rates to 7 1-2 per cent in recent weeks. Morgan, as the first New York "money maker" bank to make the cut, is expected to touch off a general trend.

Financial officials in Washingon had anticipated a prime rate cut if business borrowing was not heavy prior to the Sept.

Forces Put On Alert For Possible Jordan Rescue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 82nd Airborne Division in North Carolina and other U.S. military forces at home and in Europe were put on alert today for possible use in rescuing Americans in Jordan.

The White House expressed "deep concern" over the safety of about 400 Americans, plus nearly 40 hostages from airliner hijackings, in Jordan. A spokesman said the situation was "very serious, complicated and very fluid."

The Pentagon said an alert involving Army, Air Force and Navy units in Europe, the United States and the Atlantic and Mediterranean areas was ordered overnight.

The alert included movement of more warships toward the Mediterranean from the Atlantic and placing infantrymen in Europe and paratroopers at Ft. Bragg, OPMC., on standby.

The action was described as part of a continuation of a series of precautionary moves on the part of the United States in event Jordanian forces, facing a new threat from Syrian armor and manpower, appear in danger, and Americans' safety were jeopardized.

The alert was disclosed by a Pentagon spokesman, Jerry W. Friedheim.

At the White House, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the Syrian intervention, branded an invasion by Secretary of State William P. Rogers on Sunday, was "irresponsible and imprudent."

Ziegler said, "We are undertaking prudent planning regarding the Middle East should the situation regarding the hostages and the Americans (in Jordan) become untenable."

"We continue to have concern for all hostages in the area and deep concern for U.S. citizens in the areas," Ziegler told reporters.

As of shortly after noon EDT, Ziegler said there were no present plans to evacuate Americans from the troubled country. He also said "the situation as it now stands does not suggest a change" in President Nixon's planned European trip starting next Sunday.

Friedheim told reporters at the Pentagon:

"We can tell you today we are continuing to take a series of precautionary actions to increase the readiness of Army, Navy, Marine, and Air Force

Soviet Luna 16 Returning With Samples Of Moon Soil

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union's Luna 16 unmanned lunar probe lifted off from the moon's surface today after scooping lunar soil and is on its return to earth, the official news agency Tass reported.

Tass said "an electric drill of the Luna 16 station took samples of lunar rock that were later placed into a container and hermetized.

"The Soviet space rocket, returning from the moon to the earth, carried samples of the moon rock," it said.

Tass said samples of lunar rock were gathered by the automatic station in the Sea of Fertility at a depth of up to 350 millimeters (13.7 inches).

The automatic craft landed gently on the moon Sunday.

Today's liftoff from the moon's surface was the first ever by an unmanned craft from the surface of a celestial body. It capped a 14-month comeback effort for the Soviet lunar exploration program.

The Russians had given no prelaunch details and a few after the space craft went into orbit, but Russian space experts had predicted an attempt to scoop up moon rocks.

First word of its activities upon landing was from the West German space observatory at Bochum which said the craft transmitted excellent test pictures upon landing.

Nixon Asks Added Tax To Pay For Air Guards

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon today appointed retired Air Force Lt. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis to head the administration's new program to deter airline hijacking.

At the same time the administration:

—Asked Congress to increase the tax on domestic and international airline tickets to help pay for a 2,500-man force of sky marshals.

—Offered to make available government-backed insurance coverage to American air carriers where insurance is not available at reasonable rates from commercial insurers.

Davis, 57, the highest ranking Negro in the armed forces before his retirement, resigned as Cleveland's public safety director earlier this summer after a dispute with Mayor Carl B. Stokes, another black. He will have the title of director of civilian aviation security for the Transportation Department.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said Davis will advise him on the anti-hijacking program and will coordinate the functions of the Airport and Airborne Security force, now composed of Federal Aviation Administration peace officers and other federal agency guards.

Volpe appeared at a House Ways and Means Committee hearing to urge prompt approval of the financing plan for the guard force.

Volpe's department already has started implementing the program and guards have been flying aboard some overseas flights for over a week. The plans also call for putting guards on some domestic flights.

An Allegheny Airlines jet was hijacked to Cuba Saturday from Philadelphia.

Davis, 58, is a West Point graduate and the son of the Army's first Negro general.

Before his retirement, Davis

GETTING READY — Almost ready to lift off from a pasture at East Hampton, N.Y. is this 10-story balloon. It left yesterday with four persons aboard for Europe. Seeking adventure they hope to land in France in four to five days or up to two weeks, depending on the wind.

Four Sailing For Europe With Balloon

EAST HAMPTON, N.Y. (UPI) — A Free Life helium balloon set out for Europe Sunday, bearing a securities broker, his wife and a British aeronautics engineer looking for a world distance record and adventure.

With a last-minute addition to the crew, the 10-story balloon named Free Life lifted off a pasture some 115 miles east of New York City about 1:30 p.m. EDT eight hours late, loaded with equipment.

Rodney Anderson, 32, his wife, television actress Pamela Brown, 28, and Malcolm Brighton, 32, want to become the first persons to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a balloon. They're aiming for Paris, but said they'll take any land they can get.

The present ballooning record is 1,896 miles set in 1914 by an eight-man German team. If they make it, the crew of the Free Life will log more than 3,000 miles.

The flight of the Free Life was planned for just two — Brighton, parttime balloonist and full time engineer whose longest flight was across the English channel twice, and Anderson, who has been up in a balloon once for half an hour.

But at the last minute, Miss Brown climbed aboard, saying, "I want to be with Rod." She has never been in a balloon before.

If all goes well, they'll cruise at about 8,000 feet and reach France in four days or five days or two weeks, depending on the wind.

Free Life is 10 stories high, 50 feet across and filled with helium. Aboard is propane gas for heating air for the balloon if necessary.

The fiberglass gondola is 12 feet across and has walls 4-1-2 feet high. On the side was taped a sign reading "hijack-proof."

The excursion has been financed by Miss Brown's father, John Young Brown, who estimated he has sunk "at least $100,000" into the flight of fancy over the last four years. Mr. Brown's son, John Young Brown Jr., is president of the Kentucky Fried Chicken Corp.

"There are so few adventures left, I wanted to try it," Anderson said. "I guess that's the biggest reason for going. Besides, I've never been to Europe."

Brighton plans to join his wife in France and both couples will vacation before Anderson returns to New York and the securities brokerage business and Miss Brown to television acting.

Mrs. Mitchell Blames Educators For All The Country's Troubles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Martha Mitchell, wife of the attorney general, says America's professors and educators are a bunch of "sidewalk diplomats" who are destroying the country.

That and other comments on the education community came in the course of a weekend telephone call to a UPI reporter —a call Mrs. Mitchell made to express her irritation over a story about her husband published last week by Women's Wear Daily.

She described as "ridiculous" the dispatch which quoted Attorney General John N. Mitchell as calling educators the "stupid bastards who are ruining our educational institutions."

The blonde and voluble Mrs. Mitchell then voiced her own comments on the academic world:

"The academic society is responsible for all of our troubles in this country. These are people that are destroying our country."

Asked if she was referring to any particular educators, she said "the whole academic society is to blame . . . the professors in every institution of learning."

"It makes me sick at my stomach. They're a bunch of sidewalk diplomats that don't know the score," she declared. "They don't know what's going on. They don't have any right to talk.

"They are the sidewalk diplomats, who do not know and have no right to express an opinion on diplomacy," she said. "Why, some of 'em can't talk as well as I can and I can't talk very well.

"There are more repercussions in our society today because of them," she said. "They are totally responsible for the sins of our children. The academicians have not taken care of our children. They are at fault for a whole generation of children."

Mrs. Mitchell said she was calling from the telephone in her upstairs bathroom at their plush Watergate apartment on the Potomac "so John won't hear me talking to you."

Women's Wear Daily also quoted Mitchell as saying Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's national affairs adviser and a former Harvard professor, was "an egocentric maniac."

"That's ridiculous," Mrs. Mitchell said. "Why, we just love Henry."

On their return last week from a vacation with President and Mrs. Nixon at the Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., Mrs. Mitchell joined the press section aboard Air Force One to sound off about the Vietnam war.

When the attorney general joined her and was asked if he'd like to hear what she had to say, he replied, "No. I might want to jump out the window."

Cambodia Forces Fight Entrapment

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian reinforcements poured north today in an effort to break a week-old Communist entrapment of 4,000 government soldiers at Tang Kauk. At the same time a new Communist offensive was reported underway to the south.

Military sources said at least a part of the estimated 5,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese occupying the mountain terrain around the Kirirom plateau, 56 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, had moved into the lowlands.

Officers in Phnom Penh said the new action, coupled with the continued entrapment of Cambodian soldiers at Tang Kauk 49 miles north of Phnom Penh, was considered "serious."

In South Vietnam, U.S. military sources said 11 American soldiers were killed and 11 were wounded Sunday when Communist gunners shot down a U.S. helicopter near the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) between North and South Vietnam and then fired mortar shells at a rescue force.

The UH1 Huey helicopter preparing to drop a six-man Ranger team on a reconnaissance patrol was hit six miles west of the allied base at Gio Linh and one-half miles south of the DMZ. It crashed and was destroyed, killing nine of the GIs aboard and wounding one, the sources said.

The U.S. Command in Saigon reported today that 800 more Americans were redeployed from Vietnam in the week ending Sept. 17 and that 395,500 men were now stationed in the war zone. It was the lowest troop strength figure since Jan. 7, 1967, when 395,400 men were here, records showed.

Another 10,780 American will have to be removed by Oct. 15 to meet President Nixon's "Phase Four" withdrawal program of 50,000 U.S. troops.

Two U.S. Marine units numbering 1,400 men departed Da Nang today bound for the United States. They were the 1st Battalion, 7th Marine Regiment, and companies "C" and "D" of the 1st Reconnaissance Battalion, spokesmen said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Loses Majority

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Premier Olof Palme's Social Democratic party lost its majority in parliament Sunday during general elections in which the Communists unexpectedly made a strong showing. But the Communist gains assured continued Socialist rule for the next three years.

The 43-year-old premier, Europe's youngest government chief who gained publicity for his outspoken criticism of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, virtually confirmed the Social Democrats will continue to rule even if they must rely on Communist support.

The three nonsocialist parties, the Center party, the Liberals and the Conservatives, together polled the largest majority with 46.6 per cent of the vote. The Social Democrats lost 3.7 per cent and totaled 46.4 per cent of the vote and the Communists tallied nearly 5 per cent.

Italy Celebrates

ROME (UPI)—Italy began its second century as an independent and unified country today following ceremonies that celebrated the capture of Rome from the Pope on July 20, 1870.

Pope Paul VI blessed the descendants of troops who breached the city defenses and captured the city in a short, sharp battle on that day. It was a far cry from the opinion of his predecessor, Pope Pius IX, who said the invaders had been sent by the anti-Christ.

A Hijacker Twice

BANGKOK (UPI)—The U. S. embassy said today the American who hijacked a plane from Thailand to North Vietnam Friday had been imprisoned for stealing a plane and flying it to Cuba in 1962.

An embassy spokesman said Bobby Joe Keesee, 36, of Phoenix, Ariz., stole a Piper Comanche in June of 1962 and flew it to Cuba.

The spokesman said Keesee was expelled from Cuba and in June, 1962, was tried for stealing the plane and an automobile. He was convicted and received two five-year concurrent sentences, the spokesman said.

Keesee was paroled from the federal correctional institution at La Tuna, Tex., June 8, 1965, the spokesman said.

Plot Warning

MONTEVIDEO (UPI) — A Montevideo radio station said it received a communique from the leftist Tupamaro terrorists Sunday that prison officials were hatching a plot to kill imprisoned members of the organization.

Radio Montecarlo said the communique accused the officials of storing firearms in a prison hospital "to be later placed alongside the bodies of our assassinated comrades."

The communique warned that if the plan was carried out, "government officials, the chiefs of the repression, (against the Tupamaros) foreign diplomats and the oligarchs" would be held responsible for the act.

The communique also said the situation of two hostages, American soils expert Claude L. Fly of Ft. Collins, Colo., and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Dias Gomide," was the same."

Spending 'Folly'

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — World Bank President Robert S. McNamara said today it is the mark of "incurable folly" for the nations of the world to spend 20 times more on military power than they do on constructive progress.

In remarks prepared for delivery to the opening meeting of the International Monetary Fund (IMF), McNamara also said, "We must insure that in such critical fields as population planning, rural renewal, fuller employment and decent urbanism, positive policies support and hasten social transformation."

Asks Patriotism

DENVER (UPI)—Gen. Lewis W. Walt, assistant commandant of the U. SK. Marine Corps, said Sunday "the fires of patriotism must be rekindled" if the nation is to remain free.

The former head of Marine forces in Vietnam urged nationwide support of President Nixon's policies in Indochina and other places across the world. "As some men are called on to pay a greater price, so some nations bear a greater burden," Walt said.

Walt, speaking at Citizenship Day ceremonies, said a "conflict is being waged right here in our country and each of you is a part of it.

New Format For Emmy Telecasts

NEW YORK (UPI)—There will be two streamlined Emmy Award telecasts this year instead of one because critics have found past awards programs tedious for viewers.

A 90-minute program originating on the West Coast will be devoted solely to entertainment awards, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences announced Sunday. NBC will carry this one.

The second show originating in New York City will be devoted exclusively to news and public affairs program awards. Dates for both shows will be announced later.

The new format was approved during a weekend trustee meeting.

Past award programs, alternating between Los Angeles and New York, lasted two or more hours. Critics found the time devoted to technical awards tedious for the general public.

The changes were "designed to give the show a new pace and cohesiveness and enhance its attractiveness to the public and to advertisers," Robert Lewine, academy president, and Sonny Fox, academy board chairman, said in an announcement.

Convicted Singer Awaits Sentence

MIAMI (UPI)—Rock singer Jim Morrison, convicted of indecent exposure and using obscenities in public, is free on $50,000 bond awaiting sentencing Oct. 23.

"This trial and its outcome won't change my style because I maintain that I did not do anything wrong," Morrison said. "It could have been worse, I suppose. I've only been found guilty of misdemeanors."

A jury of three men and three women found Morrison guilty of "vulgar and indecent exposure" and using "vulgar and indecent language" Sunday, ending a two-month trial which included 15 days of testimony.

Forest Claims Information On Bagley Wrong

Joseph A. Forest, Democratic nominee for the state Assembly, has conceded that his recent attack on the incumbent he is challenging was based on incorrect information.

Forest had attacked what he termed a "record of absenteeism" on the part of Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, on votes on several conservation bills.

"I deeply regret criticizing Mr. Bagley undeservedly, and I have informed my research staff to use meticulous care to be more accurate in the future," Forest said in a press statement.

Forest had said that Bagley had failed to save legislation allowing diversion of gasoline taxes to rapid transit. Bagley countered with a letter from the author of such a measure crediting Bagley with its passage.

Forest also had claimed Bagley had missed a vote that helped kill another bill, but Bagley pointed out that he not only had voted for it, but it had passed the Legislature. The bill limited drilling leases in the Santa Barbara Channel.

Forest disputed Bagley's claim, however, that the assemblyman had had no role in the defeat of a request to the federal government to halt oil drilling in the channel. Forest had claimed that Bagley was absent when the Assembly killed the request, which Bagley pointed out had in fact never even reached the Assembly floor.

Forest, conceding he had been misinformed, said that Bagley missed a vote to have the measure bypass the committee that killed it.

Unruh Is Challenged On Angela Davis View

Paul R. Haerle of San Rafael, Northern California chairman of Gov. Ronald Reagan's reelection campaign, has described as "a blatant fabrication" a claim by Assemblyman Jess Unruh that he never favored hiring Angela Davis.

Miss Davis, fired last year as an instructor from the University of California, is wanted on charges of murder and kidnapping for the Aug. 7 escape attempt at the Marin County Hall of Justice in which Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley and three of his abductors were killed.

Unruh, the governor's Democratic challenger in the November election, recently said, "I have never advocated retention or hiring of Miss Davis and any charge to the contrary is made either through ignorance or out of a deliberate attempt to mislead the public."

Haerle, however, said that Unruh, in a May 22 broadcast in Los Angeles, according to the Los Angeles Times, declared "that if he were governor and thus a UC regent, he 'would have to vote to support the chancellor's recommendations (to rehire her)'."

Hearle said "There is no evidence that Unruh has ever demanded a retraction of that statement by KNBC, the Times — or himself."

Haerle, in a joint statement with David L. James, Reagan's campaign chairman for Southern California, said that Unruh's reply "stands as a complete misrepresentation of the posture he embraced before Miss Davis was charged with murder and kidnapping and placed on the FBI's 10-most-wanted list."

Council To Talk On Mortuaries

The Corte Madera Town Council will continue consideration today at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall on a recommendation to allow operation of mortuaries in retail shopping zones.

The recommendation was presented Aug. 20 to the council by the town's planning commission following approval by the commission of a use permit to San Francisco mortician Nicholas P. Daphne.

The council will also continue discussion on bicycle paths along Tamalpais Drive, architectural control of improvements to the town park, and hold a hearing on an application by Nathan Blumenfield to raise the sign at Cinema I Theater on Tamal Vista by ten feet.

Faculty Asks Delay In Naming Jones

A Sonoma State College faculty petition has asked the state college board of trustees to delay naming a permanent president until the campus presidential selection committee can make a recommendation.

The petition was in response to reports that acting President Earl W. Jones would be appointed permanently at the trustees' meeting next week in Los Angeles.

Dr. Cheryl Petersen, a petition circulator, said information about the petition and the number of signers would not be released until after a faculty meeting today.

After the resignation of President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke promised that an elected campus selection committee would be fully involved in the search for a new president.

Dr. Yvette Fallandy, head of the campus commtitee, said last week that consideration of other candidates is continuing.

The Smithsonian Institution at Washington was established Aug. 10, 1846 by Act of Congress.

FRANCES MORTON
Outstanding teacher

TEACHER OF THE WEEK

Mrs. Morton Finds Each Level 'Best'

(The Independent-Journal today introduces a new feature, "Teacher of the Week," in which an outstanding teacher in some school in Marin County will be honored each week during the school year.)

When Frances Morton moved with her husband, Robert F., to Hamilton Air Force Base in 1959, she thought her teaching days were behind her. Today, she looks forward to more of them.

Mrs. Morton, who teaches sixth grade at Bernard Hoffman School in the Dixie district, had taught in Ohio before the birth of her daughter, Ruth Ann. She taught high school in Wickliffe, a suburb of Cleveland, and in Perry, Ohio, and both high school and elementary school in Ravenna, Ohio.

She re-entered the profession as a substitute teacher in the Dixie district in January, 1961, and in April of the same year returned to it full time, teaching seventh grade at Vallecito School to replace a teacher who resigned. She is now in her fourth year as Hoffman sixth grade teacher.

A clue to her success with the pupils may be found in her response to the question of whether she preferred elementary or high school teaching.

"Wherever I'm teaching, I like what I'm teaching at the time best and wouldn't want to do anything else," she said.

Her sixth grade pupils wouldn't want her to do anything else, either.

Robert Morton is still employed at Hamilton Air Force Base, as base ground safety officer, and the family lives at 2066 Feliz Road, Novato.

The career that Mrs. Morton has found rewarding is being followed also by their daughter, Ruth Ann, who began her first year of teaching this month at Rancho School in the Novato district.

"She has served kind of an apprenticeship at home," laughed Mrs. Morton.

Sonoma State To Accept Spring Applications By Mail

Admission applications to Sonoma State College for the spring semester will be accepted by mail on Oct. 1, according to Harold J. Soeters, dean of admissions and records.

Soeters said there will be no repeat of last year's long line of people waiting to submit applications. He said all forms must be received on Oct. 1 and will be processed on a first-come, first-serve basis. No applications should be submitted before Oct. 1.

Last semester more than 1,000 applications were returned unprocessed. The college opened with a fall enrollment of 4,000 students.

Those who may apply include freshmen with no previous college work; junior and senior transfers who have or will complete a minimum of 60 units; and graduates of an accredited college or university.

Students wishing to pursue a master's degree must apply to the office of admissions and records and to the department in which they intend to major.

All applications must include the $20 application fee.

Prison Officers To Get Benefits

A bill signed yesterday by Gov. Ronald Reagan will allow San Quentin Prison correctional and parole officers retirement benefits similar to other law enforcement officers in the state.

James W. L. Park, associate warden at the prison, said the law, which will go into effect in July, will affect more than 50 San Quentin employees immediately.

Under the new regulation, employees will be eligible for the same retirement benefits at age 55 with 25 years service as they can now obtain at age 60 with 30 years service.

Four Injured In Two Automobile Accidents

One man was reported in serious condition today with head injuries at Letterman General Hospital and three other persons reported to have received minor injuries in two accidents in San Rafael during the weekend.

Graham Clinton Whiteford, 21, U.S. Army 51st Brigade, was injured at 11:40 a.m. when the car he was driving on Smith Ranch Road overturned, police reported. He was taken by Army ambulance to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

A passenger in the car, Richard Dorsett Ives, was treated for multiple cuts at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Police reported that the Whiteford car swerved to miss a truck on a cruve and overturned.

In a minor collision in the parking lot at 555 Francisco Boulevard at 1:45 p.m. Saturday, two people received neck sprains, according to police.

They were the driver of one car, Mary Ellen Wilson, 17, of 599 Tamarack Drive, and her passenger, Shirley Jones of 39 Dolores Street, both San Rafael. Both were to see their own doctors.

The driver of the other car, Charlotte Estelle Strom, 51, of 14 Bret Harte Avenue, San Rafael, was unhurt, according to police.

Both cars were westbound in the parking lot when they collided, police reported.

ing city. The Palestinian Red Crescent appealed for help and said "Jordan is threatened with disease and hundreds of thousands are threatened with death from starvation and thirst."

The Egyptian government announced it had called an emergency Arab summit conference in Cairo Tuesday to deal with the worsening crisis and said King Hussein and guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat would attend.

Britain joined the United States today in appealing to Russia to use its influence with Syria to end the invasion, but diplomatic sources in London said the Kremlin's influence with the ruling Baath Party in Damascus was virtually nil despite quantities of military supplies provided Syria by the Russians.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers called on Syria Sunday to end its invasion and warned that Syrian intervention raised the danger of a wider war Syria replied with a demand the United States remove the 6th Fleet from the eastern Mediterranean.

Irbid long was a sleepy mountain town surrounded by olive groves and wheat fields with a population of about 7,000. In recent years thousands of Palestinian refugees have flooded in, and it is the headquarters of the 12,000 Iraqi troops in Jordan.

There was no indication whether the Iraqi troops, mostly artillerymen used to shell Israeli villages, were taking part in the fighting. The guerrillas have appealed for Iraqi help and Baghdad Radio has supported the guerrillas.

Reports from Amman through diplomatic channels indicated the army was more or less in control there, still fighting small bands of guerrilla holdouts. But there was no word on the fate of the 54 airline hijack victims held in the Amman area by the guerrillas.

Because of the danger to the 400 or more American citizens in Jordan units of the U.S. 6th Fleet have been moved in closer to the war zone. Last week the Pentagon ordered the Atlantic Fleet helicopter carrier Guam with 1,500 more Marines to join the 1,500 Marines already there aboard the carrier Independence.

With the situation somewhat eased in Amman, the army briefly lifted the curfew on seven areas of the city so citizens could restock on water and food. British diplomatic sources said some firing was heard in Amman this morning, especially toward the southern end of the city.

London sources said the British government was in touch with Hussein but had no direct diplomatic contact with Syria and asked Russia to intervene with the Damascus regime. By late today there was no reply.

"These increased readiness operations involve units both here and in Germany, including some medical and hospital units and some ships and aircraft."

Friedheim said that in the United States among the units placed on standby was the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C., a 10,000-man reserve force that is part of the U.S. Strike Command.

In connection with this, some C141 jet transports were reported ready at Pope AFB, next to Ft. Bragg, and others were being ordered in to back them up.

Morgan's action indicated that the business borrowing was only moderate last week.

Nixon Administration officials have said in recent weeks that they expect interest rates to decline gradually as a reaction to reduced inflationary pressures.

Ordinance Of Logging On Agenda

Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow will hear a recommendation to expand the county's emergency logging control ordinance into San Geronimo Valley, east of Samuel P. Taylor State Park and south of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The emergency ordinance presently covers Bolinas Ridge, west of Taylor Park and parts of Nicasio. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said there is indication that loggers may move into San Geronimo Valley.

Other items on the supervisors' all-day agenda include:

DILAPIDATED SHACKS — Citizens of San Geronimo Valley will ask for stricter abatement of shacks that are being occupied illegally.

FIRE PROTECTION — Marin County Fire Chiefs Association will submit a resolution favoring a consolidation of all fire departments in the county.

MENTAL HEALTH — Donovan O. Cooke, director of community mental health services, will submit a mental health budget of $4,291,188 for the 1971-72 fiscal year, as required by the state. Dr. Cooke said this budget merely insures that current services will continue, and additional programs may be added to the budget by January of next year.

SUIT AGAINST BOOK PUBLISHERS — County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney will report that Marin school districts will recover $2,344 and the county library $150 as a result of a lawsuit filed in 1968 against several publishers. The suit charged that the publishers sold children's books to public agencies without giving the normal discounts.

MILLION DOLLAR CLAIM — Maloney will ask for authority to defend the county against a $1,020,800 damage suit filed by Robert D. Marshall because the county turned down his tentative map for the 319-acre Laird's Landing subdivision on the west side of Tomales Bay.

Youths Set Fire To Woman's Hair

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two young teenage girls set fire to a woman's hair on a bus Sunday and giggled as she put the flames out, police reported.

The girls, 13 and 14 years old, and two boys who were with them on the bus, were caught by mounted police after a chase through Golden Gate Park.

The Municipal Railway bus driver stopped his vehicle and called police when the incident occurred and the youngsters fled. The woman was not seriously injured.

The two girls were held at the Youth Guidance Center and the two boys were released to their parents.

Tickets are being handled by Mrs. Fred F. Enemark of San Rafael and Mrs. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of San Anselmo.

Mrs. Priest, a Republican, is seeking reelection to a second term. She is being challenged by Democrat Milton Gordon.

Novato Bypass Hearing Slated

Novato city officials will have the ear of the California Highway Commission Oct. 21 at a hearing on the city's plea for a speed-up of the Novato bypass project on Highway 101.

The council on July 29 asked for a hearing at the commission's meeting Saturday and yesterday, but the hearing later was postponed to the October date, according to Novato City Mgr. Charles A. Brown's office.

Applicants Disqualified For Principal

The screening committee charged with interviewing applicants for the position of principal of Sleepy Hollow School has informed the San Anselmo School District board none of the first 42 candidates met the committee's standards.

Supt. William Kenneth Lowry today reported that the committee told the board Friday it was unable to recommend any of the applicants because none met the criteria established by the committee before it started interviewing.

The board's closed session, which had been slated for Saturday to interview prospective candidates recommended by the committee, was cancelled, Lowry said.

He said that he expects the committee to recommend at the Oct. 6 board meeting, that the trustees readvertize the position.

The position has been vacant since June 30 when principal Richard B. Connell resigned for personal reasons. The board then created its committee of two teachers, a board member, a principal and a parent to begin seeking a replacement.

Earlier this month the board approved the appointment of Albert C. Tonsberg as interim principal at the school. He will continue at that capacity until a replacement is selected, Lowry said today.

The board had received 42 applications for the position. Following a "paper screening," six were interviewed by the committee.

Hospital Board To Consider Building Plans

The Marin Hospital District Board will consider a request to prepare plans and call for bids for two modular buildings to be added to the records building at the hospital at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the directors room at the hospital.

When the Archives building was added to the hospital, space was left for the addition of two more modular buildings there, said Adm. Ray K. Bolinger. He estimated the cost of the addition at approximately $15,000 to $16,000.

The board will receive a report on the status of the remodeling of the intensive care unit, the x-ray special procedures room and laboratory. It will receive a request to purchase the data processing equipment now being rented.

Dr. John S. Guerrant, interim director of the Marin Community Mental Health Center, will make his first report to the board.

Asks Overturn Of Alcoholic Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Alcoholism is not the kind of ailment that should entitle its victims to receive disability relief, the state attorney general's office said today.

In a brief on file in a state supreme court case, the attorney general asks the court to overturn a state court of appeal decision which granted Alex F. Rosas, 50, assistance under the Aid to Totally Disabled program. Rosas is "indisputably a chronic alcoholic," the brief says, but he has no other disabling condition.

Under the rules governing welfare payments, "transient conditions or diseases which may be cured or conditions which lend themselves to rehabilitation" are excluded from disability assistance, according to the brief, written by Deputy Attorney General Asher Rubin.

Woman Injured When Car Strikes Bridge

A 57-year-old San Anselmo woman was injured at 8:10 p.m. yesterday when her southbound car struck the north end of the Shady Lane bridge in Ross, police reported.

Glenda McCludre of 138 Tunstead Avenue, was treated at Marin General hospital for multiple bruises, a cut right hand and fractured jaw.

Park Bill Author Criticizes Veto

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The author of a bill requiring government agencies to replace park land taken for other purposes today lashed out at Gov. Ronald Reagan for vetoing it.

"The governor has proved again his talk about the environment is just empty words," complained Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills.

The bill proposed forbidding government agencies—such as the Highway Commission—and public utilities from taking park land for nonpark purposes unless they replaced it with an equivalent amount of land in the same vicinity.

But Reagan said he vetoed it because the bill would give statutory authorization for the condemnation of state park system lands.

Unidentified Man Leaps From Span

The California Highway Patrol today was seeking to learn the identity of a middle-aged man who jumped to his death yesterday from the Golden Gate Bridge.

The body of the man, described by officers as five feet, eight inches tall and 200 pounds, was recovered about 10:17 p.m., moments after the leap, by a Coast Guard cutter. A witness, driving on the bridge, said the man walked to the railing and jumped over.

No auto or identification has been found, officers said.

ON THE WAY — The "El Lobo," a 54-foot ferro cement boat made by Don Stumpf (holding line) and his brother Jim of Santa Venetia, was lowered into the water at Buck's Landing Sunday. The two brothers plan to make Central America their first stop on their new life at sea.

Dream Becomes A Reality With Launch Of Ferro Cement Sailboat

By MICHAEL A. SMITH

A 10-year dream turned to reality this weekend when Don and Jim Stumpf of Santa Venetia put their homemade 54-foot sailboat into the water at Buck's Landing.

The idea of escaping what Jim, 35, calls "the turmoil around us" had been growing and last October they decided to do something about it. What they did was decide to give up their jobs as a chemical engineer (Jim) and a steel purchaser (Don), build a ferro cement boat (cement plastered over an iron mesh frame), and sail away to a new life at sea.

"We figure we can have a better life on some of those (Pacific islands," explained Don, age 39. "Just call it a long vacation."

The 'vacation" will last about three years — first stop Panama to visit friends, then on to American Samoa and finally a rendevous with other sailor friends in Spain for a 1973 Christmas celebration. After that, the Marconi rigged ketch "El Lobo" will be put to work.

"We have enough money to hold out a couple of years," said Don. "The Coast Guard has inspected it once, and if we pass the other two inspections, we'll turn it into a charter boat in the Caribbean after a few years."

The boat was built this past year at Buck's Landing near Santa Venetia, using a frame of hollow half-inch water pipe and 33,000 feet of high tensil strength steel rods. Ferro cement, an extremely fine, strong cement was plastered into this mesh frame forming the hull of the ship.

John D. Daniel of Fremont, who did the cementing of the 28-ton ketch explained that ferro cement costs only about one-third as much as a steel-hulled ship, and about one-tenth the cost of a wooden ship. Another reason for using the cement, said Fremond, is that it requires no maintenance.

Money for the venture was saved up over the past 10 years, according to Don.

"We've been saving, scrounging. We bought and sold a ranch and salvaged three wrecked boats. Geez, we got a grand on each one of those boats!" he explained, as he helped jack the boat onto a large flatbed truck for moving to the water.

"It's amazing how fast that money can pile up," said Don, wiping the sweat from his forehead with the back of his forearm, "if you're just willing to keep working hard for it."

The voyage actually won't get under way for another four months because there is still much finish work to be done on the inside of the boat and several more Coast Guard inspections.

But to the Stumpf brothers, their new life has already begun now that their boat is in the water.

East Bay BART Link To Santa Clara Seen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Bay Area Rapid Transit District rail link down San Francisco Bay's east shore to Santa Clara County is foreseen by Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco.

Foran, who introduced the legislation that created the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, said Sunday that "The County of Santa Clara is very interested, very eager to link up with the Bay Area in future transportation projects."

Since San Mateo County has not made any specific move to extend BART down the bay's west shore, Foran said the route to San Jose might go on the other side of the water.

The commission he authored will become effective in two months and "all applications for federal aid for transportation projects in the nine-county Bay Area will have to have its approval," Foran said.

"So far as planning transportation is concerned, this new Metropolitan Transportation Commission will have jurisdiction over BART, over the Golden Gate Bridge District and over state bridges crossing the bay," he added.

"It could not tell the State Highway Commission what to do about highway and freeway planning, but it could advise and we think its advice would be heeded," Foran continued.

"Nor do we bring in airports and harbors as such, but the new agency is to study the role of airports and harbors in bay region transportation and we think that should have some beneficial effect on regional transportation planning," he said.

The nine counties involved are San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Marin, Napa, Solano and Sonoma.

The commission can disband if some sort of regional government becomes effective or it could become an arm of such a government.

Funds for the commission, $500,000, came from the Association of Bay Area Governments.

Gov. Ronald Reagan last week signed the bill creating the commission.

Shuttle Line To Oakland Airport Held Advantage

OAKLAND (UPI)—Oakland Airport could gain a "competitive advantage over San Francisco Airport" if a shuttle rail line is constructed to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, a federal study shows.

The $90,000 study, released last week, said the shuttle would cost $45 million and would link the East Bay airport to BART's Coliseum Station. Passengers would transfer there from trains operated by BART to those run by the shuttle service.

"Even if rail transit service to San Francisco Airport is available, the travel time to Oakland via (the shuttle service) connecter will be as fast or faster from many Bay Area points than it will be to San Francisco Airport," the study said.

"Travel time from downtown San Francisco to Oakland Airport will most likely be the same as that to San Francisco Airprot, perhaps less," said the survey by Kaiser Engineers.

"This will encourage trips to Oakland Airport from the San Francisco central business district."

San Francisco Airport is not now on a BART route although studies are being made concerning the best method of serving it with rail connections to the city.

The engineers suggested that the federal government might pay $30 million toward the shuttle's cost.

The remainder could be paid by general obligation bonds, or airlines, or agencies involved in the airport's access study, or by the state, the report suggested.

Shuttle-type trains were urged because then the service could be changed into a BART branch economically if business warranted.

Premier Wins Re-Election In France

BORDEAUX, France (UPI)—Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas won re-election to the National Assembly Sunday by handily defeating the stiffest reform opponent to challenge the Gaullists in years, eJan-Jacques Servan-Schreiber.

Servan-Schreiber said he would resign Tuesday as general secretary of his Radical Socialist party, the organization of non-Communist leftists he has welded to bring reform to France's social and political life.

Chaban-Delmas, 55, reaffirmed his popularity and that of his Union of the Defense of the Republic Party, the ruling Gaullist party, by capturing 63.5 per cent of the vote. Servan-Schreiber, 46, a handsome news magazine publisher, tallied 16.5 per cent of the vote.

Eight others also were in the running.

Ky Planning Trip To Paris Talks, U.S.

SAIGON (UPI)—Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam, ignoring official advice against such a trip, plans to leave Tuesday for the Paris talks and the United States to present his country's cause "for the good of Vietnam."

Ky made a rare television appearance Sunday night to explain to his countrymen why he felt compelled to make an unofficial visit to the United States to address an Oct. 3 "Rally for Victory" in Washington sponsored by right-wing fundamentalist preacher Dr. Carl McIntire.

NOT DOVE, HAWK

"I am not a dove and, to be truthful, neither am I a hawk," Ky said. "For before being pacifist, one has to be warlike. What I have to worry about most is the good of Vietnam. For that reason, my voice in the United States will be of one warrior to another, of one ally to another ally."

The vice president and his wife, Mai, leave on regularly scheduled air Vietnam Flight 783 from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport via Taipei and Tokyo.

A spokesman for Ky said the couple would remain in Tokyo only long enough to change to an unspecified flight to Paris. He is due in the United States Oct. 1.

NO STATEMENT

The spokesman said Ky would have no departure statement, although he would meet with newsmen. In Paris, he is scheduled to meet with his country's delegation to the talks in his role as President Nguyen Vao Thieu's personal representative.

In his television address, Ky said he did not intend to cause any difficulties for the Nixon administration or interfere with the forthcoming congressional elections.

The U.S. State Department and segments of the American news media advised Ky to cancel the trip because of the impact his visit could have on the elections and because it could be unsafe for him.

Indian Leader To Tour Reservations

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Indian leader Richard Oakes said Sunday he would visit American Indian reservations and settlements across the nation.

Oakes said he would leave Monday with his wife, Anne, their six children, another Indian and two white men in the old bus Oakes calls "his traveling college."

Oakes said he would "learn everything I can."

"I hope to record and document what I learn and bring it back to teach a real American history," he said at his student housing apartment at San Francisco State College.

25 Acres Of Grass, Trees Burn Along Big Rock Ridge

A fire, possibly started by an illegal campfire, burned 25 acres of grass, brush and oak trees along Big Rock Ridge in the Marinwood area yesterday.

The fire broke out at the end of Queenstone Drive at 1:26 p.m. and swept through steep terrain until it was controlled at 3:07 p.m., the Marin County Fire Department reported.

Firemen from Marinood, Novato and the county fire departments battled the blaze, assisted by the civil defense pumper from Kentfield and water tankers from the city of San Rafael. No home or structure was threatened by the fire which covered the rugged ridge lands.

Plans for a $400,000 public safety building will be proposed by Fire Chief Charles F. Thornton to the Fairfax Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Fairfax Women's Club.

The chief's proposal will be for a 5,000 square-foot building to house firemen and with a garage for three police cars.

The small import that doesn't let big trucks push it around.

The Opel Ralleye is a small German economy car. But it doesn't perform like one.
It performs like a big expensive American car. So it doesn't get blown around on the highway. Or by anything that drives on the highway.
Now you can get that kind of performance from a small economy car at a small economical price. $2,493.34.*
And here's what else you get.
A 1900 cc., 102 horsepower, 4-cylinder engine that gets up to 26 miles to a gallon of gas.
A 4-speed, short-throw transmission, synchronized in all forward gears (3-speed fully automatic transmission is available).
A tach. A speedometer with an 0.1 mile odometer. Fuel, oil pressure, temperature, and ampere gauges. And an electric clock.
Power-disc brakes up front. Radial-ply tires. And a rear stabilizer bar for rally-type handling.
All-vinyl bucket seats. Plus, deep-pile carpeting on the floor.
Where do you find Opels?
They're sold at over 1500 Buick dealerships nationwide. Which also means you have more places to get them serviced than any other imported car. Any other.
Why not see your local Bay Area Buick-Opel dealer today. He might be out of Opels tomorrow.

Diamond Finesse A Bad Play Here–Can You Tell The Reason?

The youthful expert is mildly unhappy when his opponent makes a bad play. Art is more important than coin of the realm or even master points. I wasn't surprised, therefore, when young Richard Oshlag, of Port Chester, N.Y., showed me today's hand during the national tournament in Boston.

ACE LEAD

"I led the ace of clubs from the West hand," Oshlag related. "My partner dropped the king, and I read this as a suit preference signal, showing strength in hearts rather than diamonds."

I nodded my gray head sagely.

"I switched to the eight of hearts," Oshlag continued, "and my partner took the ace of hearts and returned a heart to dummy's queen. Then South drew two rounds of trumps and led a diamond from dummy to try a finesse with the queen."

"Now, now," I said soothingly. "Don't cry. He made a bad play, but it isn't the end of the world."

Of course you've seen that the diamond finesse was a bad play, but do you know why? Work it out for yourself before you read on.

SHOULD COUNT

South should count before playing the diamonds. West surely has six or seven clubs for his shutout bid of three clubs. West then shows up with two spades, and declarer should cash a third heart to discover that West had three hearts. West has room in his hand for only one or two diamonds.

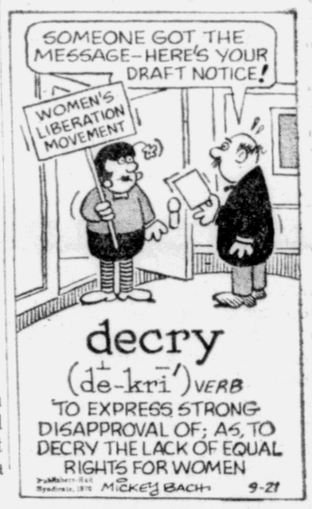

Since East surely has at least three diamonds, an ordinary diamond finesse will do no good even if it succeeds. If East has the king of diamonds he will surely get a trick with it. A singleton king of diamonds in the West hand is the only hope; and South must therefore play the ace.

ANSWER: Bid one diamond. The hand is easily worth an opening bid, and you can well afford to bid your longer suit first. If partner responds in a major suit, you will raise.

Antidrug Bill To Ask Messages

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn. said today he would introduce legislation to require radio and TV stations to carry antidrug messages similar to the anti-smoking announcements currently being aired.

"The mass media reach the rich and the poor, the educated and uneducated, the young and old in a manner all can understand," Mondale said in remarks prepared for the Senate. He said the legislation was feasible because the ban on broadcast cigarette commercials goes into effect Jan. 2, at which time radio and TV outlets no longer will be required to run the anti-smoking messages.

Saturday's Answer

Governor Signs Legislation Restricting New Oil Drilling

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Legislation restricting new oil and gas drilling leases in the Santa Barbara Channel has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

A bill by Assemblyman W. Don MacGillivray, R-Santa Barbara, prohibits oil and gas leases from being issued unless the State Lands Commission determines there is no danger of an oil seepage or spill in the channel.

The bill will "provide further protection for the beaches of Santa Barbara and give the state legal controls it must have to make certain there is no repetition of the problems that have caused damage to this beautiful stretch of coastline," said Reagan.

The governor also signed a bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, putting a five-year moratorium on awarding new offshore oil drilling leases in San Francisco Bay and from Monterey Bay to the Oregon border.

Also signed into law was a Bagley bill making public the records of the state banking, savings and loan, corporations and insurance departments.

Reagan also signed a bill Saturday by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, providing penalties of from $10 to $500 for first littering offenses. The mimimum fines would be increased to $25 and $50 for second and third offenses.

Another McCarthy bill signed by the governor provided that no local agency, district, county or general law city may impose residence restrictions on its employees.

Unless the bills are designated "urgent," they will go into effect 61 days after adjournment of the five-day veto session which begins today. If the session lasts the entire week, the bills signed by Reagan will become effective Nov. 25.

Bills with "urgency clauses" go into effect immediately after they are signed.

A bill sponsored by the Assembly Select Committee on Environmental Quality and signed by Reagan requires state and local governmental agencies to prepare environmental impact reports on construction projects.

Reagan signed a pair of bills by Assemblyman John Briggs, R-Fullerton, directing the State Resources Agency to develop a program of research and improved methods of power plant siting, including underground nuclear power plants. The second bill orders the agency to cooperate with utility companies and the Public Utilities Commission in developing a 20-year siting plan to meet the state's needs.

Also signed were:

—A bill by Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, requiring physicians to report cases of pesticide poisoning to local health officers. The officers, in turn, will be required to report the cases to the State Departments of Agriculture and Public Health.

—A bill by Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, empowering the State Air Resources Board to make studies of private and public air pollution research programs and report their findings to the legislature. The measure appropriates $9.25 million for the studies.

—A bill by Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ventura, to appropriate up to $176,000 in state and federal funds to supply materials and develop grant programs for conservation education in school districts throughout the state.

—A bill by the Assembly Select Committee on Environmental Quality creating an Office of Planning and Research to develop programs for the state's growth and environmental protection within the next 30 years.

Southern California Funds Hiked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Southern California was the victor today in its 23-year fight to obtain a bigger slice of the $1 billion state highway fund.

Gov. Ronald Reagan late Sunday night signed a bill giving the populous south 60 per cent of the revenue, an increase of five per cent.

Northern California's share of the fund will drop from 45 per cent to 40 per cent under the bill by James Mills, D-San Diego.

The 13 Southern California counties had been fighting since 1947 for the five per cent increase. This is the first year the Legislature has approved the raise. The bill cleared the Assembly in previous sessions but always died in the Senate.

The measure traditionally was opposed along north-south regional lines.

Previously, senators from the 45 northern counties dominated the upper house and succeeded in killing the bill.

Reapportionment of the State Senate in 1966 in compliance with the U.S. Supreme Court one-man one-vote ruling gave Los Angeles County alone 13 of the 40 state senators and the muscle to force passage for Southern California of the highway fund increase.

The procedure of splitting gas funds along regional lines first started during the 1920s.

Some Senior Citizens To Receive Added Social Security Benefits

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Senior citizens receiving state aid because they are disabled or on vedy low incomes will receive a federal $7.50 monthly Social Security increase under terms of a bill signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The governor signed the increase, which had been vetoed twice before under his administration, and Sunday also approved a $2.5 million salary hike for California Highway Patrol officers.

But Vern Alexander, president of the California Association of Highway Patrolmen, charged the three per cent salary increase, was not enough and vowed to ask the Legislature for the full five per cent raise that was included in the bill as it originally went to Reagan's desk.

Reagan also signed bills:

By Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, exempting tuition fees at the state colleges and University of California for children of policemen and firemen killed in the line of duty.

—By Assemblyman Eugene Chappie, R-Cool, setting admission priorities for undergraduate students at the state colleges and university.

—By Assemblyman Charles Warren, D-Los Angeles, prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sex.

—By Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, appropriating $9.25 million for the State Air Resources Board to study private and public air pollution programs.

—By Sen. Donald Grunsky, R-Watsonville, making it a misdemeanor for anyone to interfere with the administration of justice by parading or picketing in or near a courthouse.

—By Assemblymen Ernest N. Mobley, R-Sanger and Chappie providing a $50 million Cal-Vet program for veterans of the Vietnam war and giving them first priority in enrolling in the state colleges and university.

—By Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, allowing state funds to be used to buy safety equipment for local law enforcement officers.

—By Assemblyman Peter F. Schabarum, R-Covina, banning the sale in California beginning in 1972 of new cars which require gasoline of more than 91 octane.

—By Warren prohibiting the sale or importation into California of animals, dead or alive, which are considered endangered by the State Fish and Game Commission and a measure by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, also prohibiting the importation of endangered species into the state.

—By Sen. James Mills, D-San Diego, increasing Southern California's share of the highway fund from 55 per cent to 60 per cent and decreasing Northern California's share from 45 per cent to 40 per cent.

—By Assemblyman W. Don MacGillivray, R-Santa Barbara, restricting new oil and gas drilling leases in the Santa Barbara Channel.

—By Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, allowing public officials to clear a meeting hall during disruptive demonstrations.

—By Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, giving an $8.3 million a year revenue increase to horse race track operators, breeders and owners.

—By Cologne providing that state inheritance tax appraisers who have not passed qualification examinations for the job be dismissed after June 30, 1971.

— By Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove, prohibiting the sale or distribution of any restricted dangerous drug in California unless it is labeled with the manufacturer's identifying mark.

Ralph M. Brown Act Discussion Is Slated

Unruh Challenges Gov. Reagan To Call Property Tax Session

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Jess Unruh today challenged Gov. Ronald Reagan to "put up or shut up" on property tax relief as the Legislature returned to consider the governor's vetoes of its bills.

Unruh, Reagan's outspoken campaign opponent, insisted the governor should call a special legislative session to reconsider the administration's previously scuttled $1 billion tax revision program—"bad as it is."

A spokesman for Reagan said the governor has no intention of renewing the tax fight.

The purpose of this week's session—which by law cannot extend more than five days—is to give the Legislature an opportunity to override vetoes by the governor. But no Legislature has overriden a gubernatorial veto since 1946 and lawmakers didn't really expect to this time either.

Reagan pulled the rug out from under one potential Democratic issue Saturday when he signed a bill passing on to senior citizens a $7.50 federal Social Security increase. The state had been deducting the $7.50 from its own old age payments.

Reagan vetoed 77 bills in all, many of them at his Sacramento residence during the final hours before a Sunday midnight deadline. The vetoes included measures:

—By Sen. Lawrence E. Walsh, D-Huntington Park, providing for the state licensing of auctioneers.

—By Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, permitting a coroner to donate to science human body organs examined during an autopsy if the tests were not completed by the burial.

—By Sen. Clair W. Burgener, R-San Diego, requiring all school children to be immunized against German measles.

—By Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, classifying marijuana as a "restricted dangerous drug" instead of a "narcotic."

—By Assemblyman George Zenovich, D-Fresno, extending eligibility for Cal-Vet loans to all veterans who served between Feb. 1, 1955 and Aug. 4, 1964, regardless of where they were stationed.

—By Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, permitting prison parolees to participate in methadone treatment projects.

—By Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz, permitting murder suspects to be tried by three-judge panels.

—By Sen. John Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, requiring the Environmental Quality Study Council to study population distribution.

—By Sen. Jon Harmer, R-Glendale, establishing a commission to consider how to divide up the Los Angeles School District.

—By Sen. Robert Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, increasing pension benefits by five per cent for state employes retired before 1969.

—By Beilenson, making it state policy to provide family planning services to "all who desire them."

—By Sen. Joseph Kennick, D-Long Beach providing special retirement benefits for three legislators if they lost their November races.

Young People May Have Overlooked A Spokesman

Sometimes some pretty sensible things said in public speeches by prominent people get little or no attention.

Sometimes they don't even get into the news reports. Again, when they do, they generate very little comment while something else in the same speech gets a lot of comment and even starts a big controversy.

Perhaps because of this undeniable situation, young people who are somewhat inclined to complain that they lack adult spokesmen who understand them, seem to have overlooked one.

A FEW MONTHS ago, one of the nation's best-known public speakers made an address in Iowa that got a good deal of press coverage and resulted in a great lot of comment. His subject was the troubled situation in America's institutions of higher education. But in the reports and comments, little attention was paid to some of the things he said.

Said this speaker: "Students, the consumers of knowledge, are in an unique position to assess the effectiveness of educational policies. Therefore, their views should be considered and be an ingredient of final decisions by the educational establishment."

He referred to the mushroom growth of colleges and universities, and the troubles attendant upon it, and showed considerable understanding of students' complaints, declaring:

"Within the awesome statistics of bigness lies the heart of the justified complaints of many college students today — complaints about absentee professors; about the plastic facelessness on campus; about the decline and disappearance of the personal teacher-student relationship; about ill-equipped graduate students teaching courses for which undergraduates have paid $60, $70, and even $80 a credit; about being matriculated, administrated, graded and graduated by computer."

JUST LAST WEEK, the same speaker gave an address in Nevada in which he decried the drug culture. And in it he voiced a contention that has been heard quite often from some of the younger generation. He said:

"We have arrived at this culture partly because society's natural resistance has been broken down by the pill popping adults who fancy they need a pill to get to sleep and a pill to wake up. This, coupled with growing adult alcoholism, was all that some of our younger citizens have needed to do some experimenting on their own."

THIS SPEAKER is one well known by name to our college and high school youth. It would seem, in view of his publicly expressed sentiments, that they might regard him as one of their spokesmen. We have seen no evidence, however, that they do so. Perhaps they do not read his speeches.

The speaker, in both cases, was Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

We Don't Care Enough

People just don't care enough about ecology. Education and awareness and even social pressure will have to be employed if we Americans are to save our enviroment.

This was brought home forcibly recently. Pepsi-Cola marketed 600,000 cases of "deposit and return" bottles of that beverage in New York. Within six months the bottles had disappeared from the market. Rather than return them, people had forfeited $720,000 in deposits — and had added several tons to New York's solid waste disposal problems.

Doubtless the average Marinite is a bit more aware of ecology than most people. But how many of us give more than lip service to reuse and recycling? Too few, we imagine.

Yet, the time inexorably approaches when we must mend our ways.

Private Development On Public Land Puts BCDC On The Spot

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

San Francisco is a political animal, and the animal's favorite food is money.

Money is supposed to talk quietly, and big deals are expected to generate enough grease to quiet even the squeakiest of wheels. Sometimes they don't, though.

OCEANIC PROPERTIES wants to plunk a $120 million project in the bay on San Francisco's waterfront. This tidy sum buys a lot of development — it would extend out into the bay by the length of almost four football fields. And it would be almost as wide as two football fields set end to end.

The developers were welcomed with prearranged warmth by the city's planning and port commissioners, and their project seemed to be loved by everyone. Everyone, that is, except members of the public who had been frustrated in efforts to convince officialdom that the project did not have to go into the bay.

These opponents were barred from appealing to the board of supervisors on the ground they were not adjacent property owners, thus were not affected by the project. The Port of San Francisco is the only adjacent property owner.

These frustrated opponents now have taken their case to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which has been asked for a permit for the project. The resulting storm clearly caught the developers off guard. They simply were not used to being called names and being treated so rudely — as if they were common developers.

Major Joseph L. Alioto also was incensed. He and the port commission like to think of their waterfront as something they own. But they don't. They only hold it in trust for all the people of California.

THE CRUNCH has posed the BCDC with the fight of its life. If it turns down the project, then the BCDC certainly will be confronted with attempts to emasculate it through the courts and legislature.

It is ironic that this crunch came over a project on public land.

The developers, of course, are private. And in true San Francisco fashion, no thought apparently was given to competitive bidding to assure the public of getting the best deal it could on its own property.

It also is ironic that the opponents of the project disclosed that Congress last year approved an amendment to the public works bill that abandoned the public title over the waterfront. The amendment abolished the need for a development permit from the Army Corps of Engineers.

Conservationists do not usually seek the protection of the corps.

THE AMENDMENT was introduced by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, at the request of Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District. Mailliard, in turn, asked for it at the request of the Reagan administration and Cyril Magnin, head of the port commission.

The congressmen were told that the amendment was needed to facilitate transfer of the waterfront from state to city jurisdiction. Nothing was said about development.

Nothing was said to the public, either.

The whole affair is the sort of thing that makes good citizens give up on the ability of the system to respond to the public. This may be the worst loss of all.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Business at a mountain resort was way off recently — so far off, in fact, that when the proprietor was asked, "How's it going?" he answered despondently, "Picking up. Our cat caught four mice yesterday."

English novelist Arnold Bennett, who was known to fall sound asleep in the middle of a dinner party, always took umbrage when anyone questioned his energy. "Here's my daily schedule," he insisted once. "I get up at 6:00, go out for a walk, breakfast at 8:00, work until noon, take half an hour for lunch, work again all afternoon, and often, when not dragged off to some literary 'do', slave until midnight."

"A formidable routine," nodded a skeptic. "May I ask how long you've been following it?"

"If you must know," admitted Bennett, "I intend to start it tomorrow."

"Hell Yes I'll Try to Drown You Out! Understand Man, I'm Protesting for Freedom!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Events Make Up Mind To Favor ABM

Like most ordinary confused citizens I had no clear-cut views about deployment of the ABM systems several weeks ago. The close vote in the Senate allowing limited deployment did little to clarify my thinking in this important national decision.

However, in the past month, my views have been crystallized very sharply in this matter. If one is to take at face value the allegations of the Israelis, now corroborated by our government, about the cease-fire violations in the Mid-East by the Egyptians with the connivance of the Russians, it is patently obvious that the duplicity of the latter knows no bounds and any ostrich-like attitude by "trusting souls" in this country is tantamount to nuclear suicide.

Accordingly I would urge all concerned citizens to express their positive views on the rapid and comprehensive deployment of the controversial ABM system — because, when the chips are down and we are found wanting, we shall go down in history as being "very trusting and very dead."

Others Subject To Terror Tactics

The community worker for the Sausalito School District who was so recently threatened should know that there are others who are sickened by the very real terror tactics which are used against people working in community projects.

Sometimes the threats are subtle, sometimes they are insidious and, as Mr. (Gabe) Jackson reported, sometimes they are blatant.

My sympathies to Mr. Jackson's family during this very difficult time.

Food Real Issue In Over-Population

Mrs. Janice Winkler's letter in your Sept. 14 edition applies simplistic logic to one aspect only of the population problem, its distribution, while avoiding the real issues.

One real issue is food. Millions are dying now of nutritional deficiency diseases or of just plain starvation. In 1967, the President's Science Advisory Committee's Panel on the World Food Supply stated:

"The solution to the problem that will exist after about 1985 demands that programs of population control be initiated now."

Constitution Week: Time For Dedication

Constitution Week has been designated by Public Law 915 and will run Sept. 17 through 23. This is a time for all citizens, particularly young citizens, to study the Constitution of the United States and re-evaluate the ideals of our Founding Fathers as set forth in this immortal document. We are guaranteed definite inalienable rights and each should accept his personal responsibility for the well-being of the country. The price of liberty is eternal vigilance!

Heroism, hardship and suffering won the War of the Revolution and made possible the Constitution. After the Revolutionary War the Constitution united the young nation and it has since guided it through many serious crises. We, as a nation, are today threatened by those who have little or no understanding of individual liberty and human dignity. Let us, therefore, re-dedicate ourselves to protect the Constitution of the United States of America against all enemies.

Reason For Lack Of County Funds

If the supervisors who voted against Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos's request for funds for additional deputies (I-J, Sept. 8) would accept the invitation of the residents of Los Robles Mobile Home Park (see "Readers Say", I-J, same date.) they would see one of the reasons there is not quite enough in the coffers for the kind of services we need in the county. I agree with Mr. Joseph P. Kurisko, who wrote the letter, that Los Robles is comparable to many of the nicer tracts of unmobile homes in every way but one — its residents pay no property tax on their glamor homes.

No Protest Of Sympathy When Bomb Kills Student

(Reprinted from Delray Beach (Fla.) News-Journal)

A student was killed by a bomb blast at the University of Wisconsin Monday, (Aug. 24), but there were no protests of sympathy for him like those that followed the killing of students at Kent State University.

There was no public outcry and no politicians rushed to the scene, only police and FBI investigators this time.

Perhaps there were no demonstrations because it wasn't the police that killed the graduate student, merely a bomb believed placed by a "subversive organization." Or perhaps it was because the student was 33 years old and a father of three children, and not one of the "in" crowd.

In the college scene today and in far too many places, the prank calls are turning into real threats to lives and property.

Police are called pigs by many groups, including some students who should begin to realize that they are being used and that they might be the next ones to be blown up by those they think are friends.

When bombs begin going off, the social, political or moral philosophy of those nearby doesn't make any difference... death comes to all equally.

If students think they have had problems in the past with rules and regulations on campus, they had better begin thinking what it could be like without rules or regulations. And if they don't want campus activity to get out of hand, then they had better begin taking an active part in patrolling and cleaning up their own ranks of "quick triggers" and "bombers."

Politicians Serve President Ill By Sniping At Scranton Report

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Some timid, nearsighted, low-visioned Republican politicians are picking at the Scranton Commission on Campus Unrest even before it has issued its findings.

They claim they want to shield President Nixon from a report which they guess will be critical of the wrong people — as they see it.

They are afraid the Scranton report will hurt them in the congressional election.

THIS IS THE KIND of petty, puny politics which nourishes campus unrest and causes young people to feel that society is pervasively hypocritical and is trying to escape dealing with urgent problems rather than face them.

Here are elected public officials who are, in effect, telling the students that they don't want all the facts on campus unrest — only those they like.

How the President must wish that his misguided congressional friends would not try to shield themselves by appearing to shield him — this on the ignorant assumption that he named the wrong commission on campus affairs which is now about to issue the wrong kind of report.

NONE OF THIS is true.

The diverse makeup and high quality of the commission headed by the former Pennsylvania governor, William Scranton, shows that Nixon created a competent and balanced panel which deserves the ear of the whole country.

He commissioned it to get the facts, not just one side of the facts.

He knew that such a commission would not shade its findings to please anybody and would not be backward in stating its conclusions honestly and incisively.

That's what it is going to do and the picayune politicians who want it to do otherwise are disserving the President, disserving the nation, and are not, we suspect, going to make many points with their own constituents.

THE SCRANTON REPORT is not going to mount an attack on the Nixon administration. It is not going to condone violence. It is not going to blame everything on the police and the National Guard.

But it will say some things which all need to hear and heed, including Mr. Nixon. Namely:

That neither the President nor the country as a whole has yet recognized the magnitude of campus unrest, and that Mr. Nixon must lift his sights.

That we must not view the deep, intense, purposeful student concern with the shortcomings and overmaterialism of today's society in the narrow focus of the violent-prone.

That when we limit our response to student unrest by being angry at the violent instead of simutaneously doing more to deal positively with the nation's needs, we are abetting campus unrest, not healing it.

THE COMMISSION report will almost certainly reflect some of the thinking typified by Robert Atwell, who, when he resigned as vice chancellor of the Madison campus of the University of Wisconsin this summer, said:

"It is tragic that a substantial proportion of the population of the state, including a clear majority in the legislature and the regents, have become so disaffected by the excesses of the radical students that it engages in actions that are in the long run far more destructive to the university than anything that the radical students have done."

If this is the dominant mood of the nation then the Scranton report is about to say the right things at the right time.

The candid question which the commission report will implicitly put to the President is: Are you going to be the prisoner of middle America — or its leader?

Israeli Partisans Keep Close Score On Senators

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — There is one aspect of the violence-lashed Middle East cauldron that could have far-reaching political repercussions in the U.S.

This factor — rarely mentioned publicly but potentially highly important — is what prominent politicos, especially candidates, are saying and doing about Israel.

In political quarters it is an open secret that Israeli partisans are keeping a close eye on that.

That explains why day after day the Congressional Record contains numerous demands by Republicans and Democrats for economic and military support of Israel. Few of these pronouncements appear in the press or on the air, but they are well noted and appreciated where they count most.

EQUALLY WELL noted is the failure to speak out — or evincing an unfavorable attitude toward Israel.

Rated foremost in that regard is Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and a leading opponent of the Vietnam conflict. The militant dove has consistently displayed a critical attiiude toward Israel.

Also listed in that category is another leading dove — Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore. Like Fulbright's, Hatfield's name was notably missing from the bipartisan list of 79 senators who sent a joint letter to President Nixon early this month urging that more weapons, particularly Phantom supersonic fighter-bombers, be sent to Israel.

TWO OTHER front-rank doves who declined to take part in the bipartisan letter to the President were Senators Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn.

One of those who signed the letter but has otherwise said and done nothing is Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine. Muskie has maintained a wary silence on the Middle East.

OBSCURED by the world furor over the multiple air piracy was a significant meeting between Palestine guerrilla officials and top Red Chinese in Peking.

Heading the Arab delegation were Husni Yunit and Hamdi Mehmut, who claimed to be special envoys of Yasir Arafat, chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization executive committee as well as head man of Al Fatah, largest of the 10 commando groups.

While Yunit and Mehmut are relatively minor guerrilla leaders, the importance the Peking rulers attached to their visit was evidenced by the elaborate reception accorded them.

They were received by Premier Chou En-lai, who held a long conference with them, after which the Arabs told newsmen they had been promised "arms and money." Later, a banquet was given them by Li Hsien-nien, vice-premier of the state council, with a number of leading Peking officials prersent.

At this affair Li-Hsien-nien fervently assured the Arab delegation of unswerving support.

Thomas's Chance For Judgeship Ruled Out, According To Report

Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas, paralyzed from the waist down since he was wounded in the Black Friday shootout at the Hall of Justice, has been proposed by a bipartisan group for the vacant judge's seat in Marin Municipal Court.

The committee backing Thomas is headed by two highly respected Marin attorneys — Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of superior court and William O. Weissich, former district attorney now considered by many to be the finest trial attorney in the county.

Gardiner is a Democrat and Weissich a Republican who has long been active in politics and is a Reagan appointee to the State College's Board of Trustees.

Their backing of Democrat Thomas for the judgeship is not merely a matter of sympathy. They, and many other attorneys in the county consider the assistant district attorney to be an intelligent, forceful lawyer well qualified for the job.

IT APPEARS, however, that Thomas is not even being seriously considered for the appointment by the men closest to Reagan, who advise him in such decisions.

"Municipal court judgeships are not rewards for bravery," was the hardbitten comment quoted as being made by a man close to the governor.

Our source, a high Republican spokesman, said that the comment indicated that "they aren't even going to consider his qualifications."

One San Rafael attorney said upon hearing this, "Gary was qualified for the judgeship the day before the shooting and he's qualified now."

IF THOMAS is not being seriously considered for the appointment, as our sources indicate, then who has the inside track?

The top candidates still seem to be Jack L. Blaine, who serves as a referee for juvenile court on a voluntary basis, and David Menary Jr., San Rafael city attorney.

As for the Marin Superior Court vacancy left by the death of Judge Harold J. Haley, it's generally considered that Henry J. Broderick of Tiburon, an attorney who practices in San Francisco, can have the seat if he wants it.

Broderick, who has close connections with the Reagan administration, was earlier reported wavering as to whether he wanted to give up a successful private law practice. Last week, however, a friend said he was seeking the job.

Next two leading contenders behind Broderick are reported to be Blaine and Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales — not necessarily in that order.

THE GOVERNOR'S staff apparently is waiting for a state bar evaluation of the candidates before making the appointment.

Visiting judges have been helping out in both municipal and superior courts, but the judge shortage at the Hall of Justice is beginning to enter the critical stage, with cases even more backed up than usual.

Sparkman Warns Against Return To Isolationism

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., the second-ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, warned today against a return to isolationism in foreign policy.

In a lecture prepared for the National Bar College, Sparkman said the nation's domestic policies affect foreign policy, but that events abroad also affect domestic policies in fundamental and far-reaching ways.

"Current social and economic pressures which tend to turn our thinking inward and to place greater emphasis on our domestic problems can work against an orderly re-examination of the requirements of our defense posture," Sparkman said.

"The pendulum can swing too far, forcing us into the kind of isolation that has brought the world so much grief in the past and would surely bring even greater grief in the future," he added.

Six Wigs Stolen From Store Display

Five women's wigs and a man's wig were stolen Saturday from Carithers Department Store, Western Avenue and Kentucky Street, Petaluma, police reported.

Store employees said the wigs, valued at $210, were taken from a display counter at the front of the store.

Safest Course In Riot Is Described

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A veteran of many of Berkeley's off-campus disturbances says the safest course in a riot during business hours is to lock the doors, close any vents, move to the back of the store and say a little prayer.

Jack Foley told Northern California Pharmaceutical Association members Sunday that when disturbances break out near his drugstore he first calls the police, then the glazier.

Foley, 60, said his drug store has been victimized five times in recent years with extensive storefront damage. He warned the scene will be duplicated at every campus in the country.

Stereo Stolen

Timothy F. Aurrecoechea, 200 Walnut Street, Apt. E, Petaluma, told police Friday that a stereo, 15 tapes, a speaker and case were stolen from his car Thursday night. Value was set at $285.

It's Easy To Fly To Europe –If You Can Avoid Shopping

Most of my life, certainly all my adult life, I've been on the go. On 20 minutes notice I'm ready to fly half way round the world and be gone for weeks, month even. Nothing to it. You just live out of a suitcase. Even at home.

"Why don't you unpack and stay awhile?" says Mrs. A.

"You're so lucky," she says, "you go everywhere, see everything." There's a wistfulness in her voice. She looks out the window.

A COUPLE DAYS ago I asked her if she'd like to go to Europe. "Really?" she said, or something like that. The crescendo ended abruptly. "I must do some shopping," she says.

The uninitiated may not see the connection, but there is. You can't expect to come home and announce you're taking your lady to Europe (or Mexico, or Asia, or anywhere) and not have her say, "I must do some shopping."

If you're knowledgeable about these things and quick on the draw, you have a ready answer that's a winner. Something like, "Why not do your shopping in Paris?"

SETTLED. She'll do her shopping Paris. Now there's a swirling activity — passport, shots, visas, talking to everyone who's ever been anywhere.

"I just talked to Julie, you remember, she was in Madrid last year? Well, she told me to be sure to take along a raincoat with a zip-in lining. It gets chilly and rains unexpectedly in Spain."

We're not going to Spain but that's all right. You just say, "Don't worry, we'll buy a coat in Spain."

THE ITINERARY is simple: Paris, then Athens.

Going late like this, past the tourist season, we'll miss the bus loads of school teachers from Omaha, men bandoliered with cameras, the guy who won a trip to Paris for being the salesman of the year telling the boys at the bar in the Paris Hilton how he did it, the housewife from Sacramento trying to figure "how much is it in dollars."

"All you can take is one bag," I tell her.

"I can't possibly get everything in one bag."

"It's the law."

"What law?"

"My law."

"Tyrant!"

THE BIG QUESTION is what to do about Sam. Sam is the black labrador who lives with us.

"We'll have to put him in a kennel."

"He won't eat, he'll be lonely . . ."

"There's lots of dogs there."

"Sam likes people, he doesn't like dogs."

"Well then let him go out and make it on his own. He's been sponging off us long enough."

This is the crisis in our house, what to do about Sam.

MY ASSIGNMENT is Athens. I've read so much about the political condition there and there's so much that doesn't dovetail, so much that is contradictory, that I must go and see for myself.

"I hear the islands are beautiful — Mikinos particularly."

"Don't make too many plans — I 'm going there to work."

"I promise not to interfere . . ."

So it's off to Athens to see what the colonels have wrought.

More Integration In South Claimed

WASHINKTON (UPI) — HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson says about 90 per cent of all Negro school children in the South are attending integrated schools this fall.

The health, education and welfare secretary said the relative calm in which desegregation took place is "a remarkable achievement and one for which public school systems in the South and the people of the South, both black and white, deserve a great deal of credit."

Richardson made the comments Sunday in a television interview on NBC (Meet the Press).

Accident Victims Robbed At Scene

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A thief reached inside a wrecked auto while accident victims were still inside, grabbed a purse containing $30,000 worth of jewels, and raced away through a crowd of curious onlookers.

Police said the daring theft occurred Sunday near the heart of the Hough area.

Mrs. Clara Meisal, who suffered two broken legs in the accident, told police someone from the crowd opened the door of the car and snatched her purse from beside her. She said jewelry valued at $30,000 was in the purse.

Election Pamphlet To Contain All The Facts

When Marin voters receive their sample ballots before the Nov. 3 election, they will get one compact pamphlet explaining all local candidates and local measures instead of a dozen different-colored sheets of paper.

Peter C. Meyer, chief of the county elections department, announced that the county will use the single pamphlet system for the first time in the November election.

The pamphlet will contain names of local candidates and qualification statements, and pros and cons on various local measures, similar to the pamphlet issued by the state to explain statewide measures.

The local pamphlet, the state pamphlet and the polling place card will be the only items included with the sample ballot.

The idea for a single voter pamphlet came from Anne West of San Anselmo, who was a temporary election worker in June.

In past elections, the single pamphlet was not possible because various special districts had different deadlines for submitting material to the election department. A new law, which went into effect on Aug. 6, requires all special districts to conform to the general election law deadlines.

Crusade Drive Opener Is Set

Marin County's United Bay Area Crusade drive opens this week with a volunteer's luncheon Wednesday noon in the officer's club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Principal speaker will be Lawrence E. Hoyt of San Rafael, vice president of the Southern Pacific Railroad and a vice-president of the crudade.

The Screaming Eagles rock group of St. Vincent's School for Boys, led by guitarist Sister Euricha, will perform.

Reservations may be made at the crusade's office at 2144 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

College Calendar Full Of Programs

A lecture, a program of jazz music and travel film will highlight the College of Marin's calendar for the next two weeks.

An illustrated lecture, "Impact of the 20th Century on East Africa" by Prof. John Morrow will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building.

On Saturday, Cal Tjader will present a jazz concert at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building and on Sept. 30, the travel film "The South Pacific and the Orient — Factual and Fanciful" will be shown in the Fine Arts Building.

The lecture and film will be free. Admission will be charged for the Cal Tjader concert.

The auricular canal is a tube leading from the external ear to the eardrum.

When children discover a playmate wets the bed—the result can be merciless teasing. And serious psychological problems.

Even the entire family can be affected. The cost and work of taking care of a bed-wetting child can cause friction and irritability among parents. Walter C. Alvarez, M.D., Prof. Emeritus, Mayo Clinic, says: "Bedwetting . . . is hard on the unhappy child and on the mother . . . even if his parents do not scold him, he cannot help feeling that he is a terrible nuisance and a disgrace to the family."

But now bedwetting, when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Safely. Permanently.

Pacific International has ended bedwetting for tens of thousands of children and adults from ages 4 to 57 in the past two decades.

Jane Fonda Puts Up Panther Bail

NEW YORK (UPI)—Actress Jane Fonda posted bail Saturday night for a Black Panther jailed on weapons possession charges.

She said she put up $1,250 in cash and signed for an equal amount, for Zayd Malik Shakur, a deputy minister of information for the New York Panther chapter, because, "In a friend of Mr. Shakur and I know he'll show up for his trial."

The ball, she said, was excessive and "punitive," and American prisons are "dehumanizing, degrading and certainly not therapeutic."

Jobless Rate Expected To Ease Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson says the nation's 5.1 per cent rate of unemployment will ease by December without using government subsidized job programs backed by Democrats.

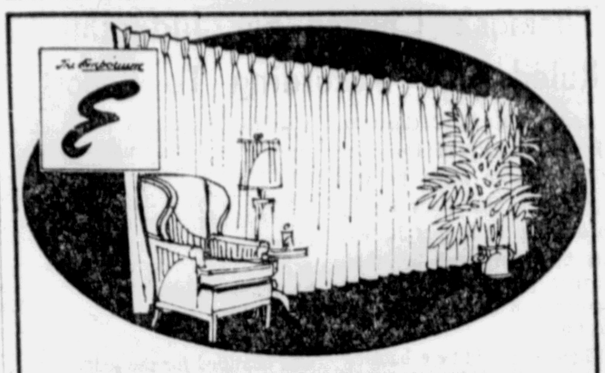

Hodgson estimated about one-third of current unemployment resulted from defense spending cuts rather than a general slump in business. In that connection, he said, the average period of idleness for jobless workers in recent months was eight to nine weeks, while the average in 1958 and 1961 was 17 weeks or longer.

Although there is a great deal of "transitional unemployment," Hodgson said, there also are "areas where there are rather deep and rather substantial unemployment." He said the Labor Department had already set aside $25 million in manpower training fund for the seven most distressed states—California, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Rhode Island, Maine and Michigan—to pay for public service employment and additional job skill training programs.

But Hodgson was wary of proposals for massive government-subsidized public service job programs of the type being advocated by Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., chairman of the senate manpower subcommittee.

"Our concern about some of the initiatives that are being advanced by Senator Nelson and others is this: That they are characterized more by volume than being tailored to the specific needs of specific groups," Hodgson said in an interview Sunday.

He said the administration proposed to use the public service job device as "a kind of halfway house between welfare and the world of real work" and "during periods of aggravated unemployment, but even there it should be done in relatively modest numbers where he would not find ourselves getting back into what might be called the old WPA routine."

With rear section cut away, you see axle as it flexes with road.

"Mercedes-Benz cars have to cope with the roughest roads in Europe. That's why we build our axles this way—not as a rigid, one-piece beam."

EVER make the mistake of taking what you thought was a shortcut?

You chose a road that looked quicker on the map. But you were soon jolted into admitting your error. You had to fight to keep control as your car bottomed and bounced at every rut and bump.

That's because most cars are designed to provide a "boulevard ride." Provided you stay on boulevards and turnpikes.

Articulated rear axle tames rough roads.

Try that same shortcut with a Mercedes-Benz. You'll appreciate the feeling of control when you slam into that first unexpected chuckhole. And you'll notice less pitching and bouncing over bumps and railroad crossings. Even washboard surfaces and cobblestones won't produce that skitterish, you're-about-to-lose-it feeling.

Independent rear suspension

Our secret: An articulated rear axle. A sophisticated and tough combination of shafts and joints that allows each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other. Just as the front wheels do. To give you a smooth ride without compromising road-holding.

But the advantages of independent rear suspension aren't limited to rough going. On a turnpike the benefits are more subtle, but perhaps even more important.

Tracks like an arrow

When you aim a Mercedes-Benz down an expressway, you'll find it tracks like an arrow, without those tiny steering corrections you used to make for "road wander."

Slap it over tar strips. The suspension soaks them up with firm control. Not four or five reverberations.

And if you've ever been lulled by high-speed expressway driving into taking an exit just a bit too fast, you'll appreciate the adhesive cornering power of Mercedes-Benz' independent suspension. It gives you an extra margin of control that somehow keeps your palms a little drier and your brake foot a little less itchy.

Disc brakes on all four wheels

Automotive editors and engineers agree that disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes. So when it comes to brakes, our philosophy is simple. Use disc brakes. Not just on the front wheels. Not as optional extras. Use them on all four wheels. Offer no options.

The four disc brakes on a Mercedes-Benz will help you stop surer, smoother and reduce the chances of fade and lockup.

How to judge a car

Before you judge the character of a car, you should view it as a totality. Somewhat the way you judge the character of a person. So here are a few more points to help you judge a Mercedes-Benz.

1. Our overhead camshaft engines are precisely machined, balanced and bench tested to withstand the rigors of Germany's Autobahns. At American speed limits, a Mercedes-Benz is literally loafing.

2. Subtle characteristics of tires have profound effects on the overall performance of a car. Tires used on our cars are tuned to the movements of our suspension, so they'll work as integral parts of the total system.

3. All the engineering and automotive theory in the world isn't going to build a great car. The actual building is up to the craftsmen in the factory.

That's why we use skilled cabinetmakers to craft and fit the wood trim. Former dressmakers to sew the upholstery. And an assembly line that pokes along, always willing to switch off an imperfect car when one of our 2,000 or so inspectors says, "No that's not good enough."

78 YEARS ON BELVEDERE

A Conservation's Hope For The Bay

By PAT BALMES

"I hope to live to see the sea otter come back into our Bay," says Mrs. Harry B. Allen, conservationist and pioneer citizen of Belvedere. The life-time resident remembers that her mother's uncle, Edward Howard, a sea captain in the mid-nineteenth century, visited their home on Belvedere's shore facing Angel Island.

"I could hardly sail into the Bay because of the otter, sea birds, ducks, whales, porpoises and sealions in the water. The sea was black with them!" he wrote in his autobiography.

"He taught me to make my first sea ditty (seaman's bag)" remembers the 78-year-old member of Friends of the Sea Otter. The Russians had built Fort Ross for the fur trade, but they sold it before the Gold Rush because there was no more fur, she said. As the supply began to run out, the Spanish wouldn't allow the Russians to hunt in San Francisco Bay. The Russians then sent Aleuts from the Aleutian Islands in kayaks into the bay to club the sealions and otters.

Winifred Allen was made an honorary member of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society earlier this ear for her contribution to the community and to the preservation of local history and conservation.

SATURDAY WAS Winifred Bridge Allen Day in Belvedere. Her neighbors and friends placed a bronze plaque on a beach at Belvedere Point inscribed: "Winifred Bridge Allen from her friends and neighbors with loving appreciation for her life-long work in preserving the special beauty and natural charm of Belvedere."

After dedication of the plaque, the petite lady was picked up by the Belvedere Fire truck and driven to Belvedere Community Park to be honored at a picnic. Justice Richard Sims was master of ceremonies. Organization of the day, proclaimed by May or Edwin J. Drechsel, was done by Mmes. Alexis Becker, Lucile Boole, Russell Keil, Wallace Scott, Edwin Weed and Mr. Thomas Price.

In 1885 at the time of their engagement, Mrs. Allen's mother and father and their brothers and sisters came to Belvedere to row their large boat around Belvedere Island and to Angel Island for picnics. There were no people living on the island then, according to the historian. "They vowed they'd never live elsewhere, and they never did!"

In 1890 the family home was built on the Belvedere shore and Winifred was brought there as an infant in 1893. Her life has been spent in three neighboring houses on Golden Gate Avenue. In 1914 she was married in the garden of the house her father built in 1905. Next door is her present home, built in 1905, where she lived with her late husband Harry B. Allen, owner of the Belvedere Land Company. They moved there in 1934.

"It is wonderful to look down on the house near the beach all lit up at night and remember my own childhood there. And it's wonderful to have some of my nine grand children come and ask 'Can I be married in your garden, Grand ma?'" says Winifred Allen.

REMEMBERING HER Belvedere childhood, Mrs. Allen says, "We felt proud to be island children." She remembers the time "before the fire, the earthquake of 1906, when Belvedere Island families spent their winter months at hotels in San Francisco, but came over to sail on weekends. We continued to attend the two-classroom school, commuting every day on the ferry from San Francisco. Our teacher traveled on that ferry and so did the Chinese vegetable man, who was the only source of vegetables for the islanders at that time. After the San Francisco hotels burned in 1906, those Belvedere families lived on the island year-round.

All the homes were on the east side of Belvedere then, according to Mrs. Allan. "There were no roads on the west side until Harry put them in in 1934. The Nights in Vienna, light fiestas, were a part of old Belvedere that was very beautiful; the Japanese lanterns on the canoes."

Another childhood memory is the military chapel bells ringing across the Bay on Sunday from Angel Island. Whenever the organist was absent the commandant would phone Mrs. Bridge to ask her, "Our organist has missed the boat. If I sent a boat over to your wharf, would you come and play our organ for us?" While working on making Angel Island a State Park, Mrs. Allen discovered that bell in a storehouse. The state plans to reinstate it in the chapel, according to Winifred.

"And my mother was a worker for Sunny Hills, a lovely heritage to follow. I remember when the Grape Festival was at Mrs. Kent's home in Kentfield. She grew the grapes on her property," says the lady who founded and was the first president of the Belvedere Sunny Hills Guild.

Winifred remembers the four-masted cod fishing ships that moored on the west shore of Belvedere when she was a child. The codfishery was the first structure on Angel Island. It later burned. "The vessels fished in the Bering Sea and returned in autumn. I remember the great excitement watching them unload. The 200 men then set to work drying cod on racks in Belvedere's sunshine. The industry left and Harry later bought the property. They redecorated the fishermen's bunkhouses and used them for guest houses," she said.

EXPRESSING HER inherited love for the sea Mrs. Allen says, "When you are on a boat, you are on your own special island. You learn to tie the right knot in the right place. Then the safety of the boat is assured. That's what growing up with your feet in the water teaches. The whole family raced to Honolulu in 1934. Our two-masted ketch, the 62-foot Marilen was another island to us."

Speaking of the recent population explosion, Mrs. Allen says, "Green belts are so important to people." She is an active member of People for Open Space.

An original member of the Marin Garden Club, she has worked with the Marin Conservation League since it was founded by the Garden Club in 1934, and has also given her time to fund raising for the Audubon Society to acquire land around the Canyon Ranch.

MRS.' HARRY B. Allen of Belvedere enjoys her view of Angel Island from the hillside on Golden Gate Avenue where she has lived for 78 years. Saturday Belvedere citizens celebrated Winifred Bridge Allen Day with the dedication of a plaque and a community picnic in recognition of "her unstinting and unselfish dedication of her time to community betterment and civic improvement," in the words of a proclamation of the day by Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel. (Independent-Journal photo)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She Worked, He Went To School Now They've 'Nothing In Common'

DEAR HELEN:

The understanding was that for the first four years of our marriage, I'd work to put my husband through college. Then it would be my turn, and I could either go to school or have a family — or perhaps both, once he got started in his career.

Those four years weren't easy. We never went out — together, that is. Jim spent his evenings at the library, but I'm beginning to wonder now if he told the truth. I did hard work in a factory because it paid more than office jobs. I think he was ashamed of that.

Well, Jim went from college into a big company as a management trainee, and he's been going up ever since. Last night I mentioned our agreement and asked if it wasn't my turn now, but I'd rather have a baby than more education.

The blow fell. Jim said he'd been thinking for a long time that we weren't suited to each other, and a friendly divorce would solve everything. After all, what do a factory worker and a business executive have in common?

Helen, looking back, I can see so many things I blanked out before. He chose me as a meal ticket, a good plodding peasant who would put him through college, then accept the fact that her job was done, and quietly leave. I was always more of a servant than a wife ... and I idolized him.

I'm leaving, of course. I just took time out from packing to write this letter. I don't want to be bitter, but don't you think I deserve something for those five years? In the divorce settlement, couldn't I ask for compensation? Not alimony — all I want back is my invested money, and maybe wages for my housekeeping. — BAD BARGAIN

DEAR B.B.:

Most certainly you deserve the return of your "investment money" plus back wages, and a good lawyer will include this in the settlement. Normally I don't favor alimony for young, childless women, but under these circumstances, you're entitled. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

It's such a simple thing, and yet it might prevent many crimes. Burglers and other law breakers operate usually in the dark. So if we eliminated complete darkness by everyone leaving on their porch lights at night, many thiefs, etc. just wouldn't happen.

Residential streets, unless they have city lighting and many suburbs don't) are frighteningly dark. It costs only a penny or two a night to leave one more light burning — small outlay indeed to help insure your family's safety.

I hope you'll assist in our campaign to — LET THE LIGHT SHINE ON.

DEAR LTLSO:

Certainly will!

Porch lights should be left burning even in street-lit areas ... the cheapest insurance you can buy these days. H.

DEAR HELEN:

The woman who was fired (although she had seniority and was a more than satisfactory worker) because she had to give her place up to a man, should write to the National Headquarters of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc., 2012 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C., 20036. BPWs have long worked for equality and women's rights. They'll go to bat for her! — BPW OF HANFORD, CALIF.

DEAR HELEN:

It is likely that the mill where the "fired woman" works comes under the Federal Civil Rights Act provision forbidding sex discrimination in employment. She should contact the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, 1800 G Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20506, and complain about her employer. If she needs a lawyer, the Civil Liberties Union or a local women's rights group may help. She shouldn't just take her lay-off lying down. A legal fight may bring her financial reparation, and could easily stop future sex discrimination at her mill. She owes it to her fellow female workers. — A.M.B.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

IN THE MIDST of the old fashioned garden she planted in front of her little cottage home in San Rafael is Lillie Payntar who is 100 years old today. Gardening is her first love and Mrs. Payntar is sorry that in the past year or so she hasn't been able to do the heavy gardening.

Just Go Day By Day And Pretty Soon You're 100

Living a century is easy, according to Lillie Paytnar who is 100 years old today.

"You go from day to day and pretty soon you're 100," she said. Long life is a family trait. Her sister, Alice Greenwood, who lives in Napa is 94 and she had another sister who lived to 102. "She hadn't been active the last year or so. Otherwise she was active in her mind," Mrs. Paytnar said.

Born in Vallejo in 1870 Mrs. Payntar's father was employed in the ship yards where later her husband also worked. The Payntars moved to Fort Bragg where her husband worked in the lumber mills and they enjoyed the social life of a small town. She especially remembers the beaches of Mendocino County. "I like outdoor life pretty well so I really enjoyed that," she said.

Sitting on the shady flower-decked patio of the San Rafael home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E.K. Paytnar, Lillie Payntar said her life now consists of a little gardening and watching some television. "What I really liked best and still like is gardening and rug making. That was hard to give up. I just fuss around now, clip some blossoms here and there."

She lives in a small house separated from her son's by a large old fashioned garden she planted. She is especially proud of several fushia baskets and many roses.

Mrs. Payntar's daughter Mrs. William Brown of San Rafael will attend the family birthday dinner. Mrs. E.K. Payntar will also host a neighborhood party in honor of her mother-in-law.

Reduction In Package Sizes And More Uniform Weight Noticeable

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Would you believe that shopping confusion is being reduced at the supermarket?

You may not notice it yet, but two packaging changes have been taking place rather quietly during the past two years under the gentle prodding of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

They are a reduction in the number of package sizes and a switch from fractional quantities toward more uniform net quantities. In most cases, this means even-numbered ounces and multiples of two, four and eight ounces so that value comparisons can be made more easily.

A recent release from the Department's National Bureau of Standards lists 38 product categories where package quantities have been made more uniform. The list includes 31 categories where the number of package sizes have been reduced.

This is not the first listing by the Department of Commerce. And it carries no guarantee that the changes have been made according to schedule. Previous surveys have found that manufacturers have not met promised schedules despite commitments made to the Government.

A check of the International Safeway store in Washington last week by Martha Jaffe, however, indicated substantial compliance by nearly all manufacturers on the list.

Most notable changes have occurred in the packaging of dry breakfast cereals, dry detergents, toothpaste and paper towels.

Dry cereal package sizes, except for multi-unit packets, have been reduced from 33 to 16, and fractions of ounces have been eliminated.

Package sizes for dry detergents have been cut down from 22 to six for heavy duty and normal density products but not premium packs. This represents some progress even though the package sizes are not easily comparable: 7, 20, 49, 84 and 257 ounces.

Toothpaste manufacturers have made the biggest percentage reduction in package sizes, from 57 to only five, a reduction of 91 percent. At the store, only four sizes were found: 1.75, 3.25, 5.00 and 6.75 ounces.

Paper towels are now sold in eight, rather than 33, package sizes, an improvement of 76 percent.

Many of the package changes are far less significant. For example, at the cookie and cracker aisle, any fractions are still allowed for packages of four ounces or less. From 4 to 8 ounces, one-fourth ounce increments are accepted, and from 8 to 16-ounce packages, one-half ounce increments are okay. For packages over 16 ounces, one-ounce increments are approved. The net benefit is merely a reduction from 73 to 56 sizes ,still a confusing variety.

To make matters worse, some manufacturers are still marketing packages in non-approved sizes two years after the scheduled change-over. Three brands of instant coffee were found in odd-ounce quantities although even-ounce packages were promised by February 6, 1968

Some 24 products are involved in the setting of voluntary packaging standards, a time-consuming process undertaken in conjunction with the Department of Commerce.

Progress is slow, but improvements are becoming noticeable at the store.

COLLEGE DEGREE AT 53

Alice Thomas Shares Her Life With Love, Poetry, Helpfulness

By C. P. McCARTHY

Alice Thomas lives outside Santa Rosa in a large house with a bit of land around it.

She shares the house and land with: her husband, four mental patients, a bird, baby goat, donkey, two ponies, a pig, some ducks and chickens, a raccoon, three dogs and six or seven cats.

She is a native of Kansas, 53 years old and received a degree in psychology in June from Sonoma State College.

She is a former resident of Sausalito and has just published a collection of poems in a paperback book entitled "To You, From Me, With Love."

The many-faceted woman sat in the kitchen of her home the other day and talked about herself.

She said she was tricked into coming to California in 1937 by a sister who had moved west to San Francisco earlier, decided she was lonely, wired Mrs. Thomas that she was very ill and asked Mrs. Thomas to come west to care for her children.

When Mrs. Thomas got out here and found her sister wasn't ill at all, she planned on returning to Kansas, but instead, met and married Anthony Thomas of Sausalito before the year was out.

The couple operated a small moving and hauling business and raised two daughters in Sausalito before moving to a ranch near Occidental in 1954.

After eight years and four foster children on the ranch, they moved to their present home at 598 Oasis Drive in the rural area outside Santa Rosa.

The four mental patients, ranging in age from 43 to 69, live at the Thomas home as part of a state-funded family care program aimed at deinstitutionalizing mental care.

The four men at the Thomas home had spent an average of 30 years each in mental institutions before joining the Thomas "family," she said.

When she got into the program, she said, she decided she didn't know enough about people so she enrolled as a fulltime student at Santa Rosa Junior College.

After picking up an Associate of Arts Degree there, she entered Sonoma State and twice made the dean's list before getting her Bachelor's degree in June.

It was through the urging of students and faculty at Sonoma state, she said, that she decided to publish the collection of poems, written over a 30-year period.

It cost her $2,300 to have the book published, but "it's positive proof that dreams really do come true," she said.

Although the book is not yet sold in stores, but available only at the Newman Center at Sonoma State or through Mrs. Thomas, "mostly because it's fun," 300 copies have been sold.

"The greatest response has been from the young people," she said. "It turns them on. Is that how you say it?"

REFLECTIONS — Alice Thomas, wife, poet, psychologist, animal lover and student, pauses to reflect on 53 years of life into which she has crammed a myriad of experiences. A book of her poetry, recently published, is in front of her. (Independent-Journal photo by Alfred M. Arn)

Woman Is Injured In Two-Car Accident

Karen Adel Nelson, 25, of 530 D. Street, San Rafael, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a neck sprain sustained at about 4 p.m. in a two-car accident in Larkspur.

Police said today Mrs. Nelson and her husband, Donald, were traveling south on Magnolia Avenue when heavy traffic at the Alexander Avenue intersection forced Nelson to stop. Moments later his car was struck by a second southbound vehicle driven by Artemio Cortes Cuzman, 28, of March Road, Larkspur. There was no other injury.

San Quentin Inmates To Show Art Works

More than 2,500 works of art by prison inmates will be on sale from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at the 16th annual San Quentin Art Show.

For the first time, the show will honor Bank of America credit cards, said Associate Warden James W. L. Park. The credit cards and cash are all that will be accepted, no personal checks, he said.

Prison officials expect at least as many people to attend as the 18,000 who were there last year. The only clothes not acceptable are blue denims, the standard prison garb.

"We don't want to mix up our temporary guests with our permanent ones," he said.

Art works include all types of paintings, leather work, wood carvings and jewelry, Park said.

The inmates receive 75 per cent of revenue from paintings and 90 per cent from such things as wood carvings. The difference is that it may cost an inmate only about $5 for the materials for a painting, but up to 50 per cent of the cost of some other are work for the materials.

The remaining money goes into the Inmate Welfare Fund, to help the hobby program. The State does not receive any of the money, according to Park.

Prize winning works of art in all categories will be auctioned starting at 2 p.m. by radio personality, Carter B. Smith.

Cleveland Musicians Reject Offer

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Insisting on a $70 weekly raise over a three year contract, striking Cleveland Orchestra musicians have overwhelmingly rejected for the third time an offer of a $25 increase.

Following the 77-18 vote Sunday, Anthony Granata, president of Musicians Union Local 4, said both sides were far apart on issues and the next move is up to management.

Granata said the two week strike now threatens to cancel the official opening of the concert season Thursday. The strike already killed a special preseason Beethoven Concert Friday, in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the composer's birth.

The only new clause in the rejected proposal was an offer to pay the musicians for one week of their strike.

Besides the $70 increase in their $225 minimum weekly pay, the musicians seek a voice in the selection of a new conductor to replace the late George Szell, and a say in the musical direction of the orchestra.

Michael Maxwell, general manager of the orchestra, said: "There seems to be little point in further negotiations, because the musicians demands' would add $600,000 to the orchestra's deficit over three years."

Maxwell said the orchestra management is "not in a position to support that kind of an increase."

New Law To Halt Disrupted Trials

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation that will allow a trial to continue in a felony case if the defendant is removed from the court because of disorderly and disruptive behavior has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill, by Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, "will prevent the accused from deliberately thwarting the system of justice by actions that disrupt the court and demonstrate contempt for our judicial process," the governor said.

Under existing law, he said, courts have had no alternative but to declare a mistrial when such disruptions occurred.

Three R School Has Bomb Threat

Three R School, 3833 Redwood Highway, Rafael Meadows, was evacuated at 9:06 a.m. Thursday after a telephone call there was a bomb in the building, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Deputies said the caller reportedly had the voice of a young, male teen-ager. No bomb was found.

Ellington Work Highlights Monterey's Jazz Festival

MONTEREY (UPI) — The 13th annual Monterey Jazz Festival apparently brought good luck, especially for a fine array of jazz greats and a wildly applauding sold out audience.

The five-concert festival concentrated on traditional jazz music this year as musicians and fans huddled in an open air arena while a cold wind blew off the foggy Pacific.

A highlight of the weekend of jazz was the world premiere of Duke Ellington's new work, "Afro Eurasian Eclipse," a 90-minute concert featuring soloists Woody Herman, Norris Turney and Russell Procope.

The Friday night opening concert also featured the Modern Jazz Quartet, the Tim Weisbert Quintet and the Alan Copeland Singers.

The Friday and also Saturday concerts concentrated on the blues and the performances left the audience and critics singing.

The singers included Big Joe Turner and Jimmy Rushing—"roughly 100 per cent of the great Kansas City male blues shouters still practicing," Wasserman said.

Others included Eddie "Cleanhead" Vinson, Ivory Joe Hunter, Roy Milton, Johnny Otis, Pee Wee Crayton, Roy Brown, Little Esther Phillips, Margie Evans and Delmar "Mighty Mouth" Evans.

Otis, master of ceremonies who also played piano, vibes and drums, happily told the audience:

"Some of these men haven't worked in ten years, and they're where the music called rock came from."

Frank Sinatra Denies Vengeance Threat To Las Vegas Operator

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Frank Sinatra, responding to charges he threatened a Las Vegas casino operator with vengeance by "the mob," said today, "I don't make threats and I'm not running for re-election."

The singer has maintained silence since the altercation at Caesars Palace casino Sept. 6 in which manager Sandford Waterman pulled a gun on him.

In an interview with United Press Internoaional, Sinatra said, "As for the remarks attributed to me relative to the mob, they're strictly out of a comic strip."

Las Vegas authorities booked Waterman for assault with a deadly weapon, then dropped the charges. Sinatra had been accused of starting a ruckus when he was refused credit at the casino and a request that stakes be raised from $8,000 to $16,000 at the baccarat table.

The singer also was accused of grabbing Waterman by the throat.

Both George Franklin, Clark County, Nev., district Attorney, and Sheriff Frank Lamb expressed interest in talking with Sinatra on his return to Las Vegas.

"If Sinatra comes back to town, he's coming downtown to get a work card, and if he gives me any trouble he's going to jail ... he's through picking on little people in this town," Lamb said.

"One remark he supposedly made to Waterman as he was going out the door was, "the mob will take care of you.' Now I'd like to have a little talk with Sinatra," Franklin said.

Both Lamb and Franklin seek re-election.

In defending himself, Sinatra spoke up for the first time in his desert home here:

"I wasn't in the baccarat game. There was no such argument about credit or how much I was going to play. As a matter of fact I just sat down at a blackjack table and hadn't even placed a bet since the dealer was shuffling the cards.

"At that point, Waterman came over and said to the dealer: "Don't deal to this man.' I just got up and said:

"'Put your name on the marquee and I'll come to see what kind of business you do,' and I walked away. That was all that was said."

John Wayne, who is not a close friend of the singer, thought it was impossible for Sinatra to grab anyone by the throat.

"I saw Frank a couple of days before the incident," Wayne said. "His hand was so sore he could hardly move it."

Sinatra underwent surgery on his right hand for a nerve condition last month.

"There were many witnesses," Sinatra said. "Onlookers have come forward and offered to go before any gathering and explain exactly what happened. The district attorney also knows that fact.

"I have been informed that at that time Waterman did not have the pistol, but went to the cashier's cage to get one. It was later, after I had gone to my room and just prior to my leaving the hotel, when I met waterman in the lobby and he pulled the gun.

"As for his injuries, I never touched him.

"There were a lot of people standing around and when they saw the gun they reacted. He's lucky he wasn't seriously hurt."

Sinatra did not say whether he planned to return to Caesars Palace to fulfill his contract. His friends seriously doubt it.

Rohnert Park Store Robbed By Armed Man

A goateed gunman robbed the 7-11 Store in Rohnert Park Friday night, escaping with an undisclosed amount of cash.

Brian Peaty, 40, store manager, told police that the man entered the store at 6:45 p.m., pointed a blue, four-inch revolver at him and said, "Give me everything in your till or I'll blow your head off."

Peaty said he emptied the register and was told to lie on the floor. He described the man as being in his 40's with dark brown hair, five feet, 11 inches tall and weighing 175 pounds.

Rohnert Park police chief Robert Dennett said a man of the same description is also being sought in connection with a San Rafael robbery.

ONE WORLD FAMILY

Commune Faces Displacement

By GEORGE NEVIN

(First of Two Articles)

"Love is service done."

These few words, carved into a plaque hanging in the Mustard Seed restaurant in the Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center, summarize the philosophy of the group that operates the restaurant.

So why, then, are both the City of Larkspur and the management of the shopping center doing their best to displace this group, a commune of young people called the One World Family?

The question is simple, but the answer is not. The commune's founder, 55-year-old Allen Noonan, thinks he knows why, though.

"We represent the new age movement. A tidal wave is sweeping over the world, changing it. The revolution that's coming is going to break the economic system, and then all things will be held in common."

Because the One World Family represents a way of life that ultimately will spell the end of capitalism, Noonan believes, the city of Larkspur and the shopping center management is trying to expel the family from the restaurant.

But James Webb, manager of the shopping center, said that Town and Country Village, Inc., the Palo Alto firm that operates the shopping center, has no quarrel with the Mustard Seed.

"Our difficulties are with Simon Furman, who holds the lease on the restaurant," Webb said. The lease specifies that he may not sublease without approval of the firm's board of directors, and Webb said that Furman brought the Mustard Seed in without the board's permission.

In addition, Webb said, Furman owes the shopping center considerable back rent, which the One World Family paid but which Furman did not turn over to Webb. As a result, the Family for two months has been paying rent directly to the center and not to Furman.

Although Webb said he cannot speak for the board of directors, he feels that the Mustard Seed would have no trouble obtaining a lease if Furman did not presently hold one on the restaurant building. "We can't deal with the Mustard Seed Family as long as Furman holds the lease," Webb said.

The net effect is the same, however — the One World Family, which has been operating the Mustard Seed at a profit when other restaurants were forced out of business at the same location, may not be able to continue at Strawberry.

In Larkspur, the situation is at the same time similar and different — similar in that the city wants the commune out, yet for different reasons.

The One World Family moved into a 12-bedroom Victorian style house on Hawthorne Avenue in the late summer of 1969. One month later, the Larkspur City Council amended its zoning ordinance to prohibit more than five persons unrelated by blood or marriage from living together in one house.

The ordinance, according to City Mgr. Kent Bathurst, was aimed at "Several groups of persons" and not only at the One World Family.

Specifically, he said, the council was concerned about potentially poor sanitary conditions, parking problems and fire hazards in old buildings.

But the Family, which had just moved from Berkeley after its Mustard Seed restaurant there was forced out of business, was determined not to be displaced again.

An attorney, Stephen H. Kaufmann, was hired, and a suit was filed in Marin Superior Court asking that the ordinance be declared unconstitutional.

"This is a disguised roust ordinance, an attempt not to regulate the use but the users," Kaufmann said. "They object to the nature of the occupants rather than the number of them."

As an example of what he feels is the absurdity of the ordinance, Kaufmann said a family of five couldn't have a live-in-guest, since the total exceeds the ordinance and there is an unrelated person in the group.

After nearly a year of litigation, the case is before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Superior Court. Larkspuh City Atty. Robert W. Elliott said the judge may rule soon on the constitutiinality and whether the family should have exhausted administrative remedies before filing suit.

"They never applied for a variance," Elliott said. "They should have asked the planning commission and the city council for one. Only after one is refused should they file suit."

Five other Marin County cities have ordinances prohibiting the occupancy of a single home by five or more unrelated persons. They are Belvedere, Corte Madera, Fairfax, San Anselmo and San Rafael.

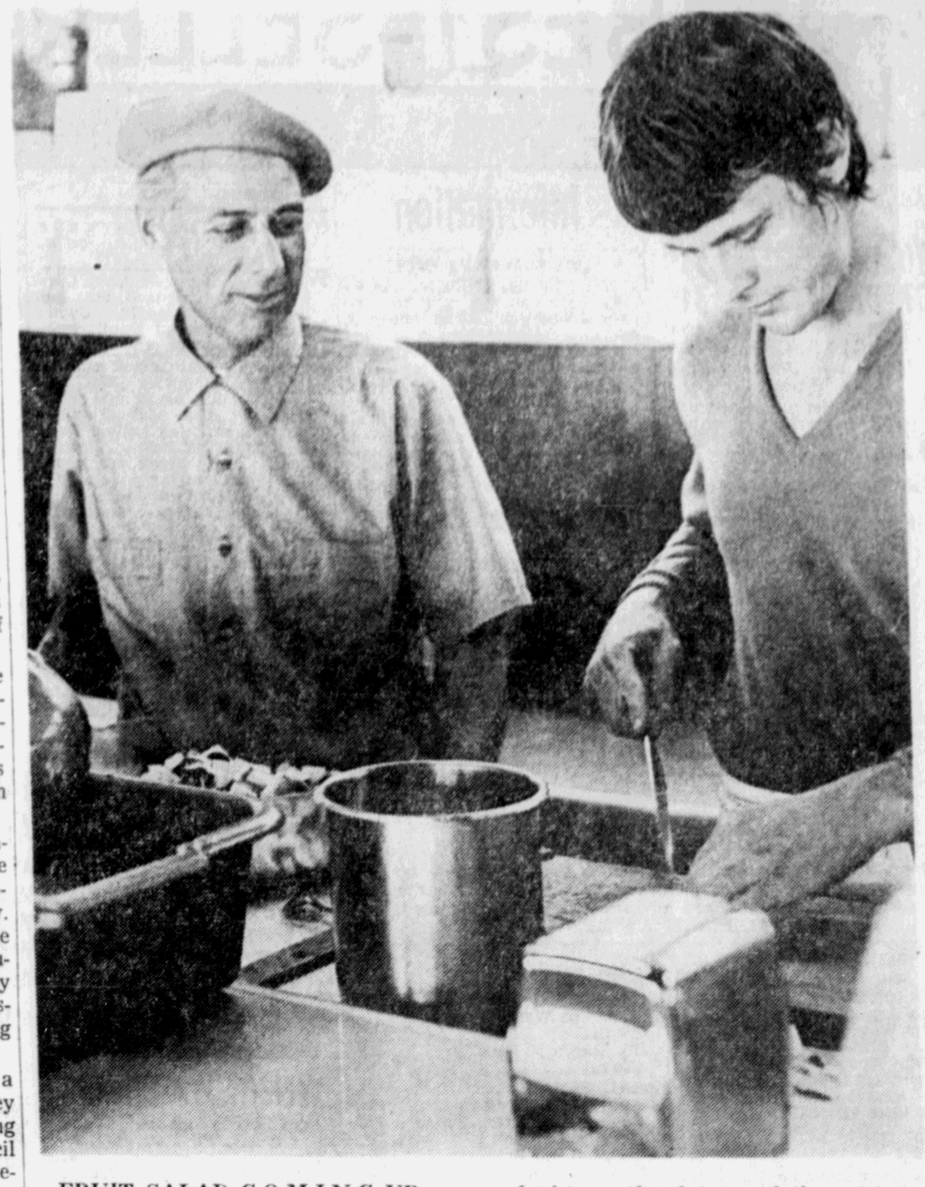

Moreover, the county of Marin and the City of Mill Valley are considering such an ordinance.

Noonan's encounters with authorities don't stop there. In 1968 he was convicted on several counts of selling marijuana and peyote and he was recently sentenced to state prison, but was released on bail pending his appeal. He was convicted after the court ruled religion an unacceptable defense.

Meanwhile, life goes on at the One World Family House in Larkspur, which commune members call the "Children's House" because most of the commune's children are kept there. The other house, in Berkeley, is a school, called the university of the universe.

Although the Larkspur population is constantly changing, about 20 adults and eight children usually reside in the 12-bedroom house. About 25 live in Berkeley, primarily to run the Family's restaurant and bakery there.

1,000 Marinites Turn Out For 'Walk Against Hunger'

Ranging from a high school track squad to a 58-year-old hiker, Marinites turned out 1,000-strong yesterday for a 20-mile "Walk Against Hunger."

Their efforts raised between $20,000 and $30,000 for three organizations battling hunger in the U.S. and in South Korea, according to Colleen Fitzhenry of Kentfield, one of the walk's organizers.

Each hiker was sponsored by organizations and private donors pledged to give a certain amount for each mile completed. Only about a fourth of the hikers gave up before the full 20-mile stroll. The average hiker raised $1 per mile.

Mrs. Leonard Chapman of 126 Morningside Drive, Corte Madera, still had the strength left to write a letter to the I-J, reporting that she and her husband felt as if they had logs instead of legs after walking 20 miles so radio station KSFO would donate $100 to the cause.

Their main impression, she said, was "the proud feelings we have for all the young people who cared enought to make such an effort for children all over the world they didn't even know. . . . So I say 'hurray' for these young people . ."

Marin Catholic High School student Mary Nelson of San Rafael had the most sponsors — 70 — on her pledge card, and Redwood High School student Dorte Rasmussen of Tiburon earned the most money for the cause, at a pledged rate of $16.48 per mile.

The walk's youngest participant was Matthew Thomas of San Anselmo. Just turned 8 years old, he trudged 13 miles, Mrs. Fitzhenry said. Senior walker was Thomas Stanton Jr., 58, of Belvedere.

Redwood High's cross country team sped across the finish line first. After starting at 7:30 a.m., the runners made the circuit by 10:11 to 10:18 a.m. Most walkers took about seven hours. The first walker across the line was Mark Shepard, 17, a Sir Francis Drake High student, at 11:20 a.m.

The first girl to finish the course at 12:04 p.m., was Cindi Iverson, 13, a student at San Rafael's Davidson Junior High School.

Drake High students led the walk numerically, with 175 participants. Redwood High has 108, Novato a dozen, College of Marin five and San Francisco State two walkers, Mrs. Fitzhenry noted.

Pounding the pavement for the cause were competing state Senate candidates Peter H. Behr and Michael R. Peevey.

The average walker was 15 years old, and girls were in the majority, Mrs. Fitzhenry noted.

She said the walk was a tuneup for a nationwide walk on May 2, 1971, and a world wide march against hunger next May 1, 2 and 3.

Funds raised by yesterday's walk will be shared among the Marin Economic Freedom Council, the American Freedom from Hunger Foundation and the South Korean campaign of Meals for Millions.

Hikers were to return their pledge cards and funds collected to the Crocker Citizens Bank in San Anselmo, Mrs. Fitzhenry said.

Juvenile Hall Escapee Arrested At Residence

A Juvenile Hall escapee, free for about two months, was arrested today at the home of a friend by San Anselmo Police.

Officers said they sighted Scott R. Shepard, 17, of Sleepy Hollow, yesterday at 11 p.m. on Red Hill Avenue near the Hub intersection in a vehicle driven by Philip S. Bundschu, 19, of 421 The Alameda, San Anselmo.

The Bundschu auto traveled into San Rafael where officers stopped it at 530 D Street. When approached Shepard fled on foot and Bundschu was arrested on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Early today, San Anselmo police received a phone call that Shephard was at the Burschu residence, where he was arrested.

Shepard escaped July 14 from the senior boys unit at the hall by braking down the back door.

Officers said they were unsure whether he would be returned to the hall or sent to the juvenile cell at the county jail. Officers said they were awaiting a decision fom Judge Samuel W. Gardiner because the youth has excaped from the hall several times before.

CAMDEN, N.J. (UPI) — Frontiersman Davy Crokett, then a congressman from Kentucky, stopped at the Ferry Hotel here in 1834 while en route from Washington to Boston and shot a silver dollar at 40 feet with his rifle for the benefit of townspeople who had given him a banquet. While he did so, someone picked his pocket of $160.

Belvedere Sets Paper Collections

Belvedere City crews will collect securely bundled newspapers on Thursdays in October in an experiment to determine if the demand is sufficient to warrant service.

If the need is established, regualr service will be held on the second and fourth Thursday of each month, according to Sally Mathews, chairman of the newly formed Belvedere Committee for the Environment.

The committee is working out details for the recycling of other materials such as glass and cans, she said. Future projects will include a community mulch heap, curtailment of pesticide spraying, exposure of visual and actual pollution, advice on consumer habits and recommendations on support of needed state and federal legislation about th environment.

Persons interested in helpin the committee may attend i meetings, held the second an fourth Tuesday of each mon a the Belvedere Commun. Center, Mrs. Mathews said.

Nine Are Injured During Weekend In Six Accidents On Marin Roads

Nine persons were injured in six accidents in Marin this weekend, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Patricia Quink, 29, of San Francisco, a passenger in a car driven by Don A. Robertson, 23, also of San Francisco, was treated Saturday at Marin General Hospital for a cut knee and broken foot. Her 4-year-old son, James, was treated at the hospital for a nosebleed and Robertson for facial scrapes and a sprained shoulder.

Officers said the accident occurred about 7:20 p.m. as Robertson was rounding a curve, westbound on North San Pedro Road. The driver told the highway patrol he swerved to avoid a car which came over the center line and crashed into a utility pole.

In a Saturday crash at 4:15 p.m., Margaret Hilton, 7, of Residence 3, San Quentin, suffered a bruised scalp when her bicycle, parked behind a car on Main Street in the prison was struck by a car driven by Theodore C. Zink, 31, of Box 163, San Quentin.

After another Saturday accident, at 6:30 p.m., Lawrence A. Schoefield, 22, of 2 Hillcrest Court, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises of the back and ankle. Officers said Schofield was injured when his car hit a bump on the Lucas Valley Road, as he was rounding a curve, and left the highway.

Richard A. Moghadam, 25, of 215 Bayview Street, San Rafael, was treated Saturday at the hospital after his motorcycle, westbound on the Bolinas Road west of the Meadow Club, went off the road about noon and turned over.

Two Novato boys were hurt Saturday about 9:20 when their car, eastbound on Novato Boulevard, swerved to avoid a deer and flipped over. The highway patrols said driver Roger J. Purdy, 16, of 138 Trish Drive, and Robin H. Swanson, 17, of 2468 Vineyard Drive, were taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment, but the hospital had no record of either.

And the hospital also had no record of Rodney Sample, 15, of 113 Drake Avenue, Marin City, hurt when a car operated by Eloise T. Brown, 40, of 13 Cole Drive, Marin City, backed into his bicycle Saturday at 7 p.m. in the parking lot of Hayden's Market, Marin City, according to officers.

TV REVIEW

The Rebels Slotted For Young

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—There have been a lot of wisecracks that "The Young Rebels," a new hour series that bowed in on ABC-TV Sunday night and deals with youthful Americans in the Revolutionary War, is a sort of 1777 "Mod Squad."

Among other things, "The Young Rebels" is brought to us by some of the same top executives who honor us with "The Mod Squad." And there is probably some show business justice in this because, after all, just about everyone else is doinb absurd copies of "The Mod Squad" format — with young doctors, young lawyers and what have you.

In "The Mod Squad," for those who have somehow missed it for several years, a trio of youngsters work undercover for the police. In "The Young Rebels," a group of youths fight the British during the revolution with an underground organization. Naturally we won the war.

Well, there is really no sense in overdoing the industry wisecracks about "The Young Rebels" because it is, after all, slotted in a time period for children—7 p.m. EDT—and is essentially a show that seems crafted almost entirely for that particular audience.

Its real lineage is not so much "The Mod Squad" as it is Walt Disney adventure tales and NBC-TV's old "Daniel Boone" series. It is, shall we say, a bit unusual to hear rock and roll music as the theme for a series about the Revolutionary War, but the story itself, played as broadly as a picture book, lets us know exactly what we are seeing.

Curiously, despite all the attempts to make things "relevant" by suggesting parallels between rebels now and then, and by showing how important young people were, and by offering scenes of strain between parents and children—despite these factors, the new series resembles those old-fashioned, traditional, Hollywood costume epics of three decades ago. Listen, that's no knock. Some of them were great fun.

Brodie Has A Great Day In Leading 49er Victory

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Take a golden-armed quarterback connecting on 85 per cent of his passes, add a defense which made the big plays, and you have instant success.

Those were the ingredients the San Francisco 49ers used Sunday to defeat the Washington Redskins, 26-17, and spoil Bill Austin's debut as the late Vince Lombardi's successor.

Veteran quarterback John Brodie was the man who hit on 17 of 20 passes for the 49ers, and he wasn't even aware of the fact.

DO THE JOB

"You go out and do the job the best way you can," he said. "If it helps you win that's the only reason to be happy."

Brodie threw 21 yards to Dick Witcher early in the third quarter for what proved to be the winning touchdown. The drive was kept in motion when the Redskins were called for pass interference on the 23.

"That was the big one," said San Francisco head coach Dick Nolan, returned a winner in the season opener for the first time since he took over two years ago. "That play and Brodie's general selection of calls made a big difference. We let him make all the calls except maybe five."

DEFENSE

The defense, led by Charlie Krueger, Tommy Hart, Roland Lakes, Frank Nunley and Cedrick Hardman, shut off Washington quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, forcing him to throw on the run. The defense also spilled Jurgensen a half dozen times on pass plays and Johnny Fuller picked off one pass to make it a day Sonny would just as soon forget.

Doug Cunningham ran a yard for San Francisco's first touchdown in the opening quarter. Ken Willard slanted seven yards for a second TD in the second and Bruce Gossett booted a 20-yard field goal to complete the scoring. The 49ers picked up an additional two points on a safety.

75 YARDS

Larry Brown raced 75 yards along the right sideline for one Washington touchdown and Jurgensen got the other by throwing 10 yards to Jerry Smith. Curt Knight chipped in with an 18-yard field goal.

Nolan, naturally, was pleased with Brodie's play but he emphasized the day would have not been complete without the defense.

"I've been saying right along we will sink or swim with our defense," said Nolan, "and they proved me right this time. It's a nice way to start the season. It sure beats being 1-4."

The Forty Niners won only one of five exhibition games with the defense showing improvement right along. The offense, though, at times seemed non existent.

"We know what Brodie can do," said Nolan. "He's a good

Vikings Get Some Revenge

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

With their pride at stake, the Minnesota Vikings got a measure of revenge Sunday when they downed the defending World Champion Chiefs as Kansas City's season debut was anything but super.

Dave Osborn and Oscar Reed scored touchdowns on short plunges and linebacker Roy Winston scored another on a fumble return as Minnesota defeated Kansas City, 27-10, to avenge the 23-7 Super Bowl defeat the Chiefs had engineered on January 11th.

Marin Tars Open Grid Season On Losing Note

By STEVE DREYER

Despite two strong scoring drives in the fourth quarter, College of Marin Tars lost their opening game of the football season Saturday night to host San Jose City College, 19-14.

A tiring defense and less-than-perfect pass blocking were key factors in the Tars' loss as they repeatedly failed to take advantage of Jaguar mistakes.

Marin rallied from a 13-0 deficit to a 14-13 lead in the final period only to watch the hosts storm back with less than two minutes to play.

Marin Coach Dick Read seemed satisfied with his squad's performance, commenting: "We got a maximum effort out of a lot of the freshmen. We lost mainly because the kids on defense played so much during the second quarter. As a result, we were tired in the fourth quarter. But I think we're going to be okay as the season continues."

Down 13-0 as the final period started, Marin exploded first on a 42-yard touchdown pass, quarterback Jim Peters to halfback Pat Green, then came right back on a 48-yard drive culminated by Ron Blasingame's six-yard run up the middle. The latter drive was started when safety Pete Carroll intercepted a pass, returning it to the Jaguar 48. Two penalties and a 19-yard Peters-to-George Adams pass set up Blasingame's scoring burst.

Green converted after both Tar scores.

San Jose's winning TD came with 1 minute, 25 seconds to play on Frank Bistolfo's one-yard run. It culminated a 68-yard drive highlighted by two Jim Parker-to-Steve Simpson passes worth 47 yards.

San Jose's earlier scores were on a two-yard run by halfback Glen Grimitch and on a 68-yard pass, Parker to Simpson.

Statistically the game wasn't as close as it seemed. San Jose

PROTEST FLAGS WAVE

America's Cup Series Tied

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — The Australian platoon system finally paid off in an America's Cup victory for Gretel II.

Using three helmsmen, Gretel achieved the improbable by defeating the defender Intrepid in one minute and seven seconds Sunday to even the best-of-seven series at 1-1.

The Aussie victory, however, in unofficial, since protest flags were hoisted from the masts of both 12-meter yachts during starting line maneuvers.

Intrepid's skipper, Bill Ficker, may claim that Gretel caused his yacht to veer and almost collide with the New York Yacht Club committee boat.

Jim Haryd, Gretel's skipper, contends Intrepid did not respond to his call and that Ficker probably thought he had enough room. Instead, contact was made between the craft at the starting line.

The protests will be heard by the NYYC race committee today and a decision probably is due later.

Should the committee decide in favor of Intrepid, the Gretel would be disqualified and race awarded to the Americans.

TROUBLE IN CINCY

Bengals Stun Raiders

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders could easily get a complex about coming to Cincinnati.

For the second straight year the Raiders, one of the real powerhouses in pro football, traveled to the Queen City only to lose to the low-rated Cincinnati Bengals.

The Bengals used a young, fired-up defense and some tricky running to down Oakland 31-21 Sunday and put a big smile on head coach Paul Brown's face.

PROUD BROWN

"They really carried the fight to the Raiders and I'm really proud of them," Brown said paternally of his team members.

"We were up for it. It was an inspired effort," he continued. "Defensively it was a wonderful effort."

Oakland coach John Madden was something less than ecstatic about the loss but insisted that "there are no excuses, the Bengals are a very good football team."

"This is a game of momentum," Madden said philosophically in the locker room after the game. "They had it early in the game, we got it back on some fine pass plays and they took it back again on that long draw play touchdown."

76-YARDER

The draw play Madden mentioned was a 76-yard touchdown scamper by Cincinnati fullback Jess Phillips on a third-and-30 situation.

Someone else was less than happy about the heat generated by the synthetic surface, said to be near 150 degrese on a sunny day.

"I personally do not like artifical turf," commented Oakland's all-pro quarterback Darryl Lamonica. "I've never liked to play on it and have always preferred grass. My feet were burning all day."

It was difficult to tell from the statistics, however, as Lamonica completed 17 of 36 passes for 265 yards and two touchdowns.

KICKS

"We didn't establish a good running game and we didn't execute well," Lamonica said, "and the outstanding kicking game Cincinnati has certainly was a factor."

Cincinnati punter Dave Lewis, a product of Canadian football, averaged 48.3 yards a punt against Oakland, while place kicker Horst Muhlmann had only one kickoff which was returnable and it only came back to the 22 yard line.

Ickx Wins Canadian Grand Prix

MONT TREMBLANT, Que. (UPI)—Jacky Ickx of Belgium defeated Ferrari teammate Claude Regazzoni of Switzerland Sunday to win the Grand Prix of Canada.

Chris Amon of New Zealand was third in a March-Ford, and Mexican Pedro Rodriguez was fourth in a BRM.

Defending world champion Jackie Stewart made a blazing start, but the Scot gambled on a newer and faster Tyrell-Ford instead of the more reliable March-Tyrell he previously drove and had to drop out after leading 32 of the 90 laps.

The victory still left Ickx, second to the late Jochen Rindt, the Austrian driver killed recently at Monza, in the world point standings.

Twins Arrive In Oakland Ready For The Bubbly

OAKLAND (UPI)—Only fast-balling lefthander Vida Blue of the Oakland A's can temporarily halt the flow of bubbly to the Minnesota Twins.

The Twins open their final three-game series with the A's at the Coliseum tonight with their magic number set at two for clinching the American League West pennant. Along with uniforms, bats and balls, the Twins have ordered a case or two of champagne for their dressing room at the Coliseum, just in case.

11 OF 15

A Minnesota win would give the Twins the divisional title for the second year in a row. The Twins have beaten the A's 11 of 15 times this season.

And manager Bill Rigney isn't fooling around. He has nominated 23-game winner Jim Perry to oppose Blue (1-0) in hopes of getting the clincher as soon as possible.

The Twins narrowed the magic number to two by beating the White Sox 8-1 Sunday while the California Angels whipped the A's 4-2 in Oakland.

Outfielder Alex Johnson of the Angels took over the American League batting lead with a .322 average by belting his 14th homer and two singles. Johnson was fined earlier in the season by manager Lefty Phillips for lack of hustle but Phillips never stopped praising Johnson's talents with the bat.

NO TRADE

Felipe Alou, Oakland's 35-year-old outfielder, revealed Sunday he would quit baseball if owner Charles O. Finley trades him this winter.

"Mr. Finley has been very nice to me but I have to start thinking about these things when I see such veterans like Mudcat Grant and Tommy Davis sold away from the team," said Alou who is winding up his 13th season in the big leagues.

"I just couldn't adjust to playing some place else at this stage in my career."

EASY WIN FOR RIORDAN

Terra Linda Gets Jolt

By DAVID EINSTEIN

The Terra Linda Trojans were brutally beaten by Riordan of San Francisco Saturday night and left for dead as far as the Northern California high school football rankings are concerned.

The defending Marin County Athletic League champions, who were rated No. 3 by a poll of coaches last week, were manhandled, 21-7 before 1,500 horrified onlookers at San Rafael high School.

TOUGH DEFENSE

In defeating Terra Linda for the second straight year, Riordan employed a massive pass rush that rendered the Trojans' offense inoperable. The Crusader defensive line gave quarterback Mike Sanderson a crash course in star gazing, dropping him behind the line nine times, and accounted for the first Riordan touchdown by blocking a punt with less than a minute to go in the third period.

Total yardage figures for the game explain better than words how badly the Trojans got mauled. Riordan ran for 115 yards and passed for 207, for a total of 322. Terra Linda collected only 26 yards through the air and was nailed for minus five on the ground for a total of 21.

12 OF 29

Quarterback Dan Hayes and fullback Mike Barbero were the most heroic of the Crusaders. Hayes hit on 12 of 29 passes, including a 70-yard strike to Dan Ferrigno for the final touchdown.

Terra Linda coach Don Lucas said after his team beat Palo Alto, 31-7 last week that he was not satisfied with the play of the Trojan defensive backs. Against Riordan they did a creditable job, considering they had to contend with Hayes, whom Lucas calls as fine a high school passer as he's ever seen.

Barbero did the rest of the Riordan scoring: He claimed the first touchdown when he ran that blocked punt 19 yards to paydirt, and he made it 14-0 midway through the final period when he climaxed a 46-yard drive with a five-yard burst up the middle.

TROJAN TD

Following that touchdown, Terra Linda finally got on the scoreboard, John Buckley, who earlier had intercepted two Hayes passes, deep in Terra Linda territory to thwart Crusader drives, rambled 87 yards with the kickoff. He must have run 200 yards as he stormed around, over and through people, and headed undeniably for the end zone. They should have given him the game ball for that touchdown gallop.

Besides Buckley, Terra Linda's standout performer was linebacker Larry Kerr, who made a number of sensational single-handed tackles, and even took over at quarterback late in the last quarter.

Riordan	0	0	7	14	- 21
Terra Linda	0	0	0	7	- 7

R - Barbero, 19 blocked punt return (Hayes kick).
R - Barbero, 5 run (Hayes kick).
TL - Buckley, 87 kickoff return (Corbett kick).
R - Ferrigno, 80 pass from Hayes (Hayes kick).

Pirates Take Command

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The moods of the three managers told the story better than the standings today in the three-cornered National League East race.

Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburg Pirates was satisfied. Gil Hodges of the New York Mets was glum. And Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs was protesting.

Murtaugh and Hodges had contrasting moods for the same reason — the Pirates beat the Mets, 9-5, in 10 innings after a 4-1 loss to their Sunday doubleheader, take the four-game series with the world champions, three games to one, and go two games ahead in the race.

Durocher was protesting that a lad identified only as Pierre The Ball Boy had interfered on a key play that led to the Montreal Expos' 6-4 triumph over the Cubs.

'TERRIFIC'

"It was a terrific game for us to win," said Murtaugh, referring to the nightcap, when Willie Stargell hit a tie-breaking homer in the 10th and the Pirates added three more runs with the help of a two-run triple by Gene Alley. "The way we won is bound to give the guys a charge," the Pirate pilot enthused.

The Pirates were in an uncomfortable spot after losing the opener to Jerry Koosman's two-hitter and sending Fred Cambria against Met ace Tom Seaver, an 18-game winner, in the nightcap. But they knocked out Seaver in 5 1-3 innings and then came up with their game-winning rally against relief ace Tug McGraw after the Mets fought back from a 5-3 deficit to tie the score with two runs in the seventh.

Hodges was glum because the loss left the Mets 3 1-2 games out of first place. Time is running out fast on the miracle workers of 1969. They have lost five of their last six, and the Pirates are rapidly moving into a commanding position.

PROTESTS

Durocher protested the Cubs loss on the claim that the ball boy in the Chicago bullpen, an employee of the Montreal club, kicked a double by Ron Fairly, preventing right fielder John Callison from fielding the ball, and allowing the tying and winning runs to score for the Expos. Fairly delivered the key hit off Ferguson Jenkins, making his first relief appearance of the season, during a four-run eight-inning rally which overcame the Cubs' 4-2 lead. Billy Williamson, Jim Hickman and Joe Pepitone homered for the Cubs.

The Atlanta Braves walloped the Cincinnati Reds, 11-2, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-4, and the Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the Houston Astros, 7-6 in 14 innings in other National League games. The other teams were not scheduled.

In the American League it was Baltimore 7, Cleveland 0; Minnesota 8, Chicago 1; New York 5, Detroit 1; Boston 3, Washington 1; California 4, Oakland 2; and Milwaukee 4, Kansas City 3.

Giants To Open Final Series With Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers carry a one-game lead over the San Francisco Giants into tonight's game in the race for second place in the National League West.

The Giants invade Dodger Stadium for the start of the final three-game series between the teams and the battle will be both for prestige and second place money in the Western Division race.

For the opening game, famed Dodger nemesis Juan Marichal, 11-10, will be opposed by Joe Moeller, 7-8. San Francisco goes into the series after having had a rare Sunday off during the regular season. The Giants concluded a three-game sweep against San Diego Saturday when Gaylord Perry shut out the Padres 3-0. No Sunday game was scheduled because the Padres share San Diego Stadium with the football Chargers who played there Sunday.

Perry posted his 22nd win for the Giants Saturday night as he recorded his fifth shutout of the season. Perry hurled seven hitless innings at San Diego but Rafael Robles dropped a single down the right field line to end his spell. The shutout stretched Perry's scoreless innings to 39.

Rancho Cotate Rips Cloverdale

The Brothers Wlodarczyk — fullback Mike and quarterback Steve — led Rancho oCtate High School Cougars of Rohnert Park to a 34-0 football season opening victory over the Cloverdale High Eagles Saturday night at Petaluma.

Mike W. led the Cougars in rushing yardage and compounded his value to the team by starring as a defensive back, knocking down several passes and intercepting one.

Mike's little brother Steve, a junior, passed for three touchdown to Rod Logue for five yards, to Mike Cooper for 25 and to Don Iverson for 15 yards. Steve W. also passed to Iverson for two two-point conversions.

Redwood Blanked In Opener

The Redwood High School Giants fell prey to their own youth and inexperience Saturday as they lost their season-opening football game to Sacred Heart of San Francisco, 7-0 at Washington High School in S.F.

Three times the Giants were stopped inside the Irish five-yard line, while on defense they failed to stop the fierce running of Cyrus Kon, who rolled up 146 yards in 28 carries and scored the game's touchdown on a two-yard plunge in the third quarter.

Redwood's Phil Roark, making his debut as head coach, said after the game he was generally satisfied with his team's play. "We ran 60 plays on offense, but we just couldn't get into the end zone," he said.

Roark took a look at 24 players, many of them seeing their first varsity experience. Junior quarterback Bob Brown was impressive as he hit on nine of 20 passes, although he had one intercepted late in the game and deep in Sacred Heart territory by Irish deep back Tom Thraikill.

Brown got a tremendous performance out of wide receiver Steve Fleischman, who caught six passes for 70 yards.

Other Giants who looked especially good were guard Steve Green, tackle Joel Johnson, and fullback Mark Thomas.

Novato Off To Flying Start In Prep Football Campaign

The Novato High School Hornets, rated as a possible dark horse in the Marin County Athletic League, opened their football season Saturday with an impressive 20-0 victory over Montgomery of Santa Rosa at Novato High School.

The Hornets combined a fired-up defense with the timely passing of Marty Moroski to register the third shutout in two days by an MCAL team. Friday night Drake blanked Petaluma, 39-0, and San Rafael demolished Washington of San Francisco, 40-0.

WIND

A crowd of nearly 500 saw Montgomery make a game of it during the first quarter, when Moroski stayed on the ground rather than risk a passing attack into the teeth of a 15 mile per hour wind.

With the wind at their backs in the second period, the Hornets moved for two touchdowns as Moroski went to the air. The first scoring drive took only two plays. Novato took possession following a punt on the Viking 15-yard line, and after Leo Magers carried for eight yards to first down, Moroski found wide receiver Dave Judnick for the touchdown.

The Hornets marched 69 yards in 10 plays the next time they got the ball, and during that drive Moroski threw the ball eight times. He completed four, including a third down and long yardage pass to Judnick that netted a first down on Montgomery's two-yard line. Moroski powered over for the touchdown, and Novato led, 13-0 at Halftime.

Defensive end Greg Straw accounted for Novato's final touchdown when he picked off a Stimack pass at the Viking 37 and dashed untouched to the end zone with three and a half minutes left in the game.

SALESIAN TRIUMPHS

Tam Gridders Shut Out

The Tamalpais High School Indians, victimized by some overzealous officiating in addition to their own sloppy play in the first half, dropped their first football game of the season Saturday night, 13-9 to Salesian High School on poorly lit Nichol Park field in Richmond.

More than 125 yards in penalties were assesed against the Mill Valley team as the East Bay officials came up with such rare calls as "aiding and abetting the runner," and "roughing out of bounds."

Salesian scored twice during the second quarter, the second touchdown coming on a 40-yard pass that resulted from a broken play.

Tam got on the scoreboard in that period when tackle Terry Rutledge displayed a remarkable place-kicking ability by hitting a 32-yard field goal seconds after booting one from 27 that was nullified by a penalty.

The Indians closed the score to 13-9 as they marched 60 yards to score following the second half kickoff. Fullback Mark Costello banged the final five yards.

Tam Coach Mike Davlin said his team performed well in the second half, but that "we were a little disappointed with the way we looked in the first half."

He cited Costello and halfback Bill Washington as standout players in the backfield, while tackle Bill Rudolph and end Paul Ringleman shined on the line.

Sherbert Wins Pac-8 Honors

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

SAN FRANCISCO — Former Terra Linda High School star Jim Sherbert and Washington State's Lionel Thomas today were chosen defensive players of the week in the Pacific 8 football conference.

Sherbert, a defensive tackle in his second varsity campaign, made 14 tackles and played a major role in the Beavers' 21-14 triumph over Iowa Saturday at Portland.

Thomas, an all-conference defensive back last year, picked off three Idaho passes and batted down a fourth in helping the Cougars to a 44-16 comeback victory.

Golf

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland — Australian Bruce Devlin Sunday fired a four-under-par 68 in the final round to win the $125,000 Alcan Golfer of the eYar Championship.

Devlin, maintaining a putting consistency which defied the gusting winds of this 7,117-yard Irish Sea links all week, won the first prize of $55,000 with a 10-under-par 278.

Only five men of the 25 man field beat par for the four rounds over the par 72 course.

ROBINSON, Ill. — "Lady Luck," chanted jubilant George Knudson after a missed two-foot putt by George Archer on the fourth hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday handed Knudson the $100,000 Robinson Open PGA Golf Classic on a $20,000 platter.

"I just didn't keep my concentration" said Archer, who dueled in the same threesome with Knudson for 40 holes under a hot sun on a par 71 course in the Sunday marathon brought on by a rain delay Thursday.

"I got a little careless," said Archer. "I had gotten tired and was hoping that it would end soon."

Tennis

LOS ANGELES — Pancho Gonzales led his teammate James Conners off the center court of the Los Angeles Tennis Club during a first round doubles match Sunday at the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament over a dispute regarding a change in the tie-breaker rules.

About 2,000 of the 2,300 fans left with Gonzales and Conners. The argument arose because the club's management decided in mid-match to replace a 12-point tie breaker rule with a 9-pointer.

SEATTLE — Arthur Ashe defeated home town favorite Tom Gorman 6-3, 6-4 Sunday to capture the men's singles title at the Seattle Tennis Invitational.

Ashe, who will become a contract professional in January, earned $4,000 for his win in the two-day tournament. Gorman picked up $2,000 in second place money.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Brother and sister Cliff and Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., took home $2,500 each Sunday after winning the men's and women's titles of the Carolinas International Tennis Classic.

Cliff beat Erik Van Dillen 6-3, 7-6, for the men's title and Nancy downed 15-year-old Chris Evert 6-4, 6-1.

Weightlifting

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Sideburned Vasily Alexeev of Russia lifted 500 pounds Sunday, the first man ever to do so in competition, to win the super heavyweight title in the World Weightlifting Championships and give his country the team trophy.

Alexeev, a 29-year-old miner, lifted a 501½ pounds 227.5 kg on his last try in the clean-and-jerk for a total of 1,350¼ pounds 612.5, equalling his world record.

Soccer

LOS ANGELES — The second largest soccer crowd in Southern California history Sunday saw World Cup champion Santos of Brazil defeat Guadalajara, 2-1 in the Coliseum.

More than 1,000 of the 24,432 rabid fans poured onto the field before the match even started, and the teams spend another 35 minutes in the dressing rooms before the fans returned to their seats.

The great Pele scored one of Brazil's points, the 1095th of his career.

Auto Racing

GREENVILLE, Ohio — Jim Smith of Burgoon, Ohio, was killed Sunday when his race car flipped over twice and hit a guard rail during the second lap of a super-modified race at nearby Eldora Speedway.

Smith was dead on arrival at Our Lady of Mercy Hospital in Coldwater.

WEST ALLIS, Wis. — Jack Bowsher won the 250-mile late model stock car race at the Fair Park Track, but Roger McCluskey finished second and won his second straight USAC national championship.

Bowsher, Springfield, Ohio, took the lead on lap 224 and finished 20 seconds ahead of McCluskey.

The winner averaged 95.483 miles per hour over the paved, one-mile oval and finished the grind in two hours and 37 minutes.

Boat Racing

SAN DIEGO — Dean Chenoweth won the national driver championship Sunday when he piloted "Miss Budweiser" to a repeat victory in the Gold Cup Classic for unlimited hydroplanes.

In winning the event for the second straight year, Chenoweth averaged 101.848 miles per hour in six laps around the Mission Bay course.

"Miss Madison" driven by Jim McCormick, tied for second with Leif Borgersen and his "Notre Dame."

Along with the national driver title, Chenoweth earned the 1970 boat championship for "Miss Budweiser," based on points accumulated during the season.

Fired Up Lions Smash Packers

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Not since the pre-Lombardi era have the Green Bay Packers suffered through a worse Sunday. The Detroit Lions roared to a 40-0 victory in which the Packers were unable to scrounge a first down in the entire first half.

The Packers managed a total of 114 yards total offense while allowing the Lions 266 yards on the ground and 132 by air.

Bart Starr, the bench-warmer Lombardi transformed into one of the NFL all-time greats, saw Lem Barney intercept one of his passes in the third quarter and return it 50 yards for a touchdown.

The Lions added embarrassment again in the fourth quarter, when a reserve quarterback, Greg Landry, romped 76 yards on a quarterback sneak to set up Bill Tripplett's 11-yard touchdown run.

Erroll Mann, a Green Bay castoff, booted four field goals in five attempts, including one for 46 yards, and Mel Farr scored two touchdowns to lead the Lions to their smashing triumph.

Sonoma State Loss

Luther Nelson's two-yard touch-down run in the first quarter gave Sonoma State College a 7-0 lead, but University of California, Riverside, rallied to score a 14-7 victory over the Cossacks in their season-opening football game at Riverside Saturday.

TARS

Peters completed 16 of 29 passes for 262 yards. Parker hit on 14 of 30 for 242 yards.

Larry Blackwell caught 6 passes for 91 yards to lead Marin receivers.

The Tars will host the College of the Redwoods of Eureka next Saturday, 1 p.m. in the newly-constructed Kentfield stadium.

Terra Linda, Novato Tie; Tamalpais Wins

The Terra Linda Junior Trojans rallied for two fourth quarter touchdowns to tie the Novato Junior Hornets, 13-13, and Tamalpais beat Drake for the second time in two weeks, 6-0 in Marin County Pop Warner football league action Saturday.

Special Stock Fee Pending New Rates

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Would you let me know when the special fee was set for stock transactions? What is the percentabe and why was it set? G.S.

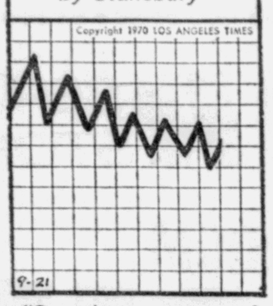

A. A surcharge on trades of 1,000 shares or less was adopted by the major exchanges April 6, 1970, to be in force 90 days, but later extended indefinitely. In addition to the basic commission, a service fee of $15 or 50 per cent of the commission or the lesser of the two is charged on the transaction. The basic commission on a 100 share purchase of a $44 issue is $41; the surcharge would add $15. If the normal commission is below $30; the surcharge adds 50 per cent of that commission to the cost of the transaction. The surcharge was adopted as a stopgap measure until a new schedule of commission rates is approved in order to provide relief for deficit-ridden brokerage houses. The New York Stock Exchange has prepared a new rate plan which would add $500 million annually to member firms' commission revenue. Pending approval by the Securities Exchange Commission and then by member firms, the new rates will increase fees on orders of $5,000 or less up to 50 per cent.

Q. Some time ago, I purchased shares of Varian Associates at about 30. It is now around 13. What happened? And what do you recommend? W.A.

A. Aside from the general stock market malaise, Varian is suffering from the adverse impact of government delays and cutbacks and the overall economic sluggishness. Profit margins in the vital Electron Tube and Device Group have started to deteriorate as a result of competitive pressures in military procurement. Margins in the Instrument Group have not improved, despite a projected sales increase of 10 per cent. Moreover, earnings of recently formed Instrument Systems may be held at the break-even level due to difficulties connected with a Burroughs order While Varian's operating outlook for the remainder of the fiscal year does not augur well for a sharp near-term stock recovery move, long-term retention may prove rewarding.

GM Estimates Loss Last Week At 80,000 Vehicles

DETROIT (UPI) — The strike against General Motors plunged U.S. auto output to less than 95,000 cars last week, compared with 134,000 the week before, Ward's Automotive Reports said.

GM production was limited to one day's output, Monday, after which all its assembly plan shut down by the strike. As a result Ford took close to 50 per cent of the production for the week.

Production for the week was estimated at 94,909 cars, compared with 134,488 last week and 183,158 in the corresponding week of 1969. GM production for the one day worked was set at 12,569. For the rest of the week it was estimated that 80,000 units were lost.

Truck production for the week was 26,954 compared with 36,984 a week ago and 41,671 in the same week last year.

Chrysler scheduled Saturday overtime at three car plants and one truck plant.

The five millionth car of salendar 1970 was turned out Sept. 17.

Stocks Drop Despite Rally At Offset

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks declined across a broad front today despite a flurry of demand at the outset stemming from a reduction in the prime interest rate by a leading New York bank. Trading was moderately active.

Shortly before the final bell, the Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 selected blue chips was off 6.02 at 752.47. Of the 1,595 issues on the tape, declines outscored advances, 804 to 515.

Turnover of around 12,500,000 shares was down from 15,900,000 shares traded Friday.

Closing prices included: Am T&T 44-3-8 off 1-4; Beth St 22-3-8 even; Chrysler 26 7-8 off 1-8; DuPont 119 3-4 off 1-4; Ford 49 5-8 off 3-8; Gen El 80 3-8 up 1-4; Gen Motors 72 3-8 off 1-8; and IBM 275 1-2 off 4 3-4.

Initial demand for stocks stemmed from a reduction in the prime interest rate—that charged a bank's most creditworthy customers—to 7 1-2 per cent from 8 per cent by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., a major New York commercial bank.

Prices declined in brisk trading on the American Stock Exchange.

CHAPEL — The chapel of San Rafael's First Presbyterian Church was extensively remodeled in 1963, but an engineering report says the church structure is an earthquake hazard. A decision on whether the building will be demolished will be made in January.

First Presbyterian Church May Have To Be Demolished

The First Presbyterian Church at Fifth Avenue and E Street in San Rafael will be demolished next year if the church's congregation gives its approval.

Rev. Charles C. Griffin, pastor, said engineering studies have declared the structure, built in the 1890's an earthquake hazard.

A letter sent to the church's members said the sanctuary walls were built inexpensively in 1896 of local rock which was not reinforced. Lime mortar used to "glue" the rocks together has generally deteriorated, the letter said.

The same deterioration is evident in brick columns which support the roof beams.

Dr. Griffin said a final decision on demolishing the structure will be made by the congregation at its annual meeting in January.

Church officers will recommend demolition, rather than reconstruction, he said, for economic reasons.

He said figures were not available, but restoration of the present structure was estimated to cost 25 per cent more than demolition and construction of a new church.

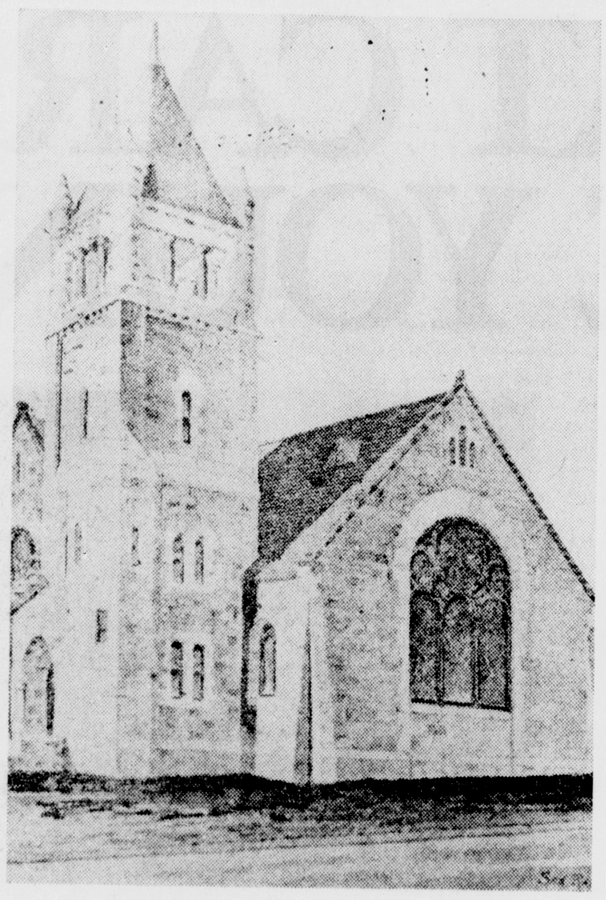

If approval is given in January, Dr. Griffin said, the demolition of the old church and construction of a new one would probably begin in late 1971.

He said a study by the San Rafael engineering firm of Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton left little doubt the construction and condition of the sanctuary makes it a hazard in tremors.

The report said no accurate prediction of the safety of the building under normal conditions can be made.

The letter from the church officers to the congregation said that it is assumed the stained glass windows, bell, organ and furniture in the church can be used in a new structure.

The building was dedicated in 1896, having been built at a cost of $12,500 for stonemasons and $11,500 for a carpenter and contractor.

OR NO PEACE TALKS

Israel Demands End To Missiles

NEW YORK (UPI) — Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir, saying "we can't negotiate with revolvers pointing at our heads," vowed Sunday Israel would refuse to return to the Mideast peace talks until Soviet-built missiles were removed from the Egyptian side of the Suez Canal cease-fire line.

"This is the reason we cannot continue these talks," she said.

In Washington earlier, Mrs. Meir said, "We are being threatened physically by the Egyptians and the Russians with the missiles they have introduced and are introducing every hour into the area. I don't think we have a fair chance at all."

Asserting that if Israel does not fight "for our freedom and safety, nobody else will," she said her nation needs help from the United States. "I would like to say I am convinced — maybe I should say I am convinced — that we will get it."

The 72-year-old premier spelled out Israel's position on the last day of a five day of a U.S. tour which included meetings Friday with President Nixon and State Department officials.

She wound up her stay with a Washington television interview (Issues and Answers—ABC) and an address at the New York Hilton to more than 3,000 persons attending a $20-a-plate United Jewish Appeal fund raising dinner, part of which was telecast via closed circuit to some 40,000 persons in 19 other U.S. cities. After an hour-long meeting with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, Mrs. Meir left for Israel early today on a scheduled El Al jetliner which took off despite the threat of an airline strike in Israel.

Speaking emphatically and without notes Mrs. Meir attacked the Soviet Union for backing Egypt and said Egypt's movement of the SAM2 and SAM3 missiles into the 31-mile-wide cease-fire zone "within an hour" after the 90-day truce began Aug. 7 would not have occurred without Soviet orders.

"It is a frightening thing that the Soviet Union and Egypt did not keep their promise to the entire world" by violating the truce, Mrs. Meir said. "This is a terribly frightening thing for

Another Cease-Fire Ordered By Hussein

Accuses Syrian Army Of Invading Country

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

King Hussein of Jordan ordered his army in Amman today to cease firing in the Jordanian civil war and demanded "absolute and strict observance." The cease-fire order was issued after he accused the Syrian army of invading Jordan.

An Israeli military spokesman in Tel Aviv said 200 Syrian tanks moving under cover of an artillery barrage had seized the city of Irbid, 14 miles south of the border, in a move that outflanked the Golan Heights cease-fire line and brought Syrian armor to with 18 miles of Israel.

Hussein's cease-fire apparently applied only to the Amman area where Cairo newspapers said 6,000 persons had been killed in the civil war and where they said the bodies of thousands of persons were strewn in the streets, raising the possibility of serious epidemics.

Guerrilla radio broadcasts reported heavy fighting in the Irbid area and at Salt, 15 miles north west of Amman, the site of a major Palestinian refugee camp. The guerrillas said they had "liberated" all of North Jordan but fighting was still going on at Salt.

The respected Tel Aviv newspaper Yedioth Haronoth openly speculated that U.S. intervention was imminent and said Washington would send in paratroops if Hussein asked for help. But in his first broadcast since the war started Hussein announced the Syrian invasion and appealed to the Syrians not to fight Jordanians.

Shortly afterward he ordered the cease-fire in Amman as of 5:15 p.m. (11:15 a.m. EDT).

Hussein said, "In response to the appeal of conscience and national duty and to put an end to the tragedies which the (Syrian) conspiracy imposed on our country, and in appreciation of our major responsibilities in these historic moments in the life of our nation, I order absolute and strict observance of the cease-fire as of this moment."

Fifty-four airplane hijack hostages are believed still in the Amman area, although no word of their fate has been received in several days. There are also about 400 American citizens in Jordan and any American intervention would be to evacuate them.

Hussein ordered one cease-fire Saturday evening but guerrilla broadcasts said they did not accept it. Field Marshal Habes Al-Majali, the Jordanian commander-in-chief, said guerrillas opened fire and his men fired back.

Parts of Amman, a city of 600,000, was in flames and smoke spiraled over the burn-

Two New York Banks Lower Prime Rates

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two big New York banks forced a major breach today in the wall of resistance to a cut in the commercial bank prime interest rate that has been under pressure since late in August.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. led the New York banks with a half-point cut to 7 1-2 per cent, followed quickly by Chemical Bank, New York Trust Co. The two banks, fifth and sixth largest in the nation, respectively, sent other New York bankers into hasty conferences and sparked a rash of similar cuts around the country.

While prime rate cuts will make loans obtained by big business borrowers a bit cheaper, the interest rates being paid by the man on the street for automobile and personal loans aren't likely to go down, at least not as a direct result of the prime rate cuts.

However, a spillover reduction in the consumer side of the credit market can't be ruled out. An official of one New York bank said demand for car loans has weakened and an interest rate cut might be possible. The current rate on new car loans is 5 3-4 per cent, discounted and including life insurance, which works out to 12.74 per cent on a simple interest basis for a three-year loan.

Mortgage rates, like consumer loan rates, move in a separate market and are not directly or automatically affected by changes in the business prime rate.

Several smaller banks reduced their prime rates to 7 1-2 per cent in recent weeks. Morgan, as the first New York "money maker" bank to make the cut, is expected to touch off a general trend.

Financial officials in Washingon had anticipated a prime rate cut if business borrowing was not heavy prior to the Sept.

Forces Put On Alert For Possible Jordan Rescue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 82nd Airborne Division in North Carolina and other U.S. military forces at home and in Europe were put on alert today for possible use in rescuing Americans in Jordan.

The White House expressed "deep concern" over the safety of about 400 Americans, plus nearly 40 hostages from airliner hijackings, in Jordan. A spokesman said the situation was "very serious, complicated and very fluid."

The Pentagon said an alert involving Army, Air Force and Navy units in Europe, the United States and the Atlantic and Mediterranean areas was ordered overnight.

The alert included movement of more warships toward the Mediterranean from the Atlantic and placing infantrymen in Europe and paratroopers at Ft. Bragg, OPMC., on standby.

The action was described as part of a continuation of a series of precautionary moves on the part of the United States in event Jordanian forces, facing a new threat from Syrian armor and manpower, appear in danger, and Americans' safety were jeopardized.

The alert was disclosed by a Pentagon spokesman, Jerry W. Friedheim.

At the White House, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the Syrian intervention, branded an invasion by Secretary of State William P. Rogers on Sunday, was "irresponsible and imprudent."

Ziegler said, "We are undertaking prudent planning regarding the Middle East should the situation regarding the hostages and the Americans (in Jordan) become untenable."

"We continue to have concern for all hostages in the area and deep concern for U.S. citizens in the areas," Ziegler told reporters.

As of shortly after noon EDT, Ziegler said there were no present plans to evacuate Americans from the troubled country. He also said "the situation as it now stands does not suggest a change" in President Nixon's planned European trip starting next Sunday.

Friedheim told reporters at the Pentagon:

"We can tell you today we are continuing to take a series of precautionary actions to increase the readiness of Army, Navy, Marine, and Air Force

Soviet Luna 16 Returning With Samples Of Moon Soil

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union's Luna 16 unmanned lunar probe lifted off from the moon's surface today after scooping lunar soil and is on its return to earth, the official news agency Tass reported.

Tass said "an electric drill of the Luna 16 station took samples of lunar rock that were later placed into a container and hermetized.

"The Soviet space rocket, returning from the moon to the earth, carried samples of the moon rock," it said.

Tass said samples of lunar rock were gathered by the automatic station in the Sea of Fertility at a depth of up to 350 millimeters (13.7 inches).

The automatic craft landed gently on the moon Sunday.

Today's liftoff from the moon's surface was the first ever by an unmanned craft from the surface of a celestial body. It capped a 14-month comeback effort for the Soviet lunar exploration program.

The Russians had given no prelaunch details and a few after the space craft went into orbit, but Russian space experts had predicted an attempt to scoop up moon rocks.

First word of its activities upon landing was from the West German space observatory at Bochum which said the craft transmitted excellent test pictures upon landing.

Nixon Asks Added Tax To Pay For Air Guards

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Nixon today appointed retired Air Force Lt. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis to head the administration's new program to deter airline hijacking.

At the same time the administration:

—Asked Congress to increase the tax on domestic and international airline tickets to help pay for a 2,500-man force of sky marshals.

—Offered to make available government-backed insurance coverage to American air carriers where insurance is not available at reasonable rates from commercial insurers.

Davis, 57, the highest ranking Negro in the armed forces before his retirement, resigned as Cleveland's public safety director earlier this summer after a dispute with Mayor Carl B. Stokes, another black. He will have the title of director of civilian aviation security for the Transportation Department.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said Davis will advise him on the anti-hijacking program and will coordinate the functions of the Airport and Airborne Security force, now composed of Federal Aviation Administration peace officers and other federal agency guards.

Volpe appeared at a House Ways and Means Committee hearing to urge prompt approval of the financing plan for the guard force.

Volpe's department already has started implementing the program and guards have been flying aboard some overseas flights for over a week. The plans also call for putting guards on some domestic flights.

An Allegheny Airlines jet was hijacked to Cuba Saturday from Philadelphia.

Davis, 58, is a West Point graduate and the son of the Army's first Negro general.

Before his retirement, Davis

GETTING READY — Almost ready to lift off from a pasture at East Hampton, N.Y. is this 10-story balloon. It left yesterday with four persons aboard for Europe. Seeking adventure they hope to land in France in four to five days or up to two weeks, depending on the wind.

Four Sailing For Europe With Balloon

EAST HAMPTON, N.Y. (UPI) — A Free Life helium balloon set out for Europe Sunday, bearing a securities broker, his wife and a British aeronautics engineer looking for a world distance record and adventure.

With a last-minute addition to the crew, the 10-story balloon named Free Life lifted off a pasture some 115 miles east of New York City about 1:30 p.m. EDT eight hours late, loaded with equipment.

Rodney Anderson, 32, his wife, television actress Pamela Brown, 28, and Malcolm Brighton, 32, want to become the first persons to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a balloon. They're aiming for Paris, but said they'll take any land they can get.

The present ballooning record is 1,896 miles set in 1914 by an eight-man German team. If they make it, the crew of the Free Life will log more than 3,000 miles.

The flight of the Free Life was planned for just two — Brighton, parttime balloonist and full time engineer whose longest flight was across the English channel twice, and Anderson, who has been up in a balloon once for half an hour.

But at the last minute, Miss Brown climbed aboard, saying, "I want to be with Rod." She has never been in a balloon before.

If all goes well, they'll cruise at about 8,000 feet and reach France in four days or five days or two weeks, depending on the wind.

Free Life is 10 stories high, 50 feet across and filled with helium. Aboard is propane gas for heating air for the balloon if necessary.

The fiberglass gondola is 12 feet across and has walls 4-1-2 feet high. On the side was taped a sign reading "hijack-proof."

The excursion has been financed by Miss Brown's father, John Young Brown, who estimated he has sunk "at least $100,000" into the flight of fancy over the last four years. Mr. Brown's son, John Young Brown Jr., is president of the Kentucky Fried Chicken Corp.

"There are so few adventures left, I wanted to try it," Anderson said. "I guess that's the biggest reason for going. Besides, I've never been to Europe."

Brighton plans to join his wife in France and both couples will vacation before Anderson returns to New York and the securities brokerage business and Miss Brown to television acting.

Mrs. Mitchell Blames Educators For All The Country's Troubles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Martha Mitchell, wife of the attorney general, says America's professors and educators are a bunch of "sidewalk diplomats" who are destroying the country.

That and other comments on the education community came in the course of a weekend telephone call to a UPI reporter —a call Mrs. Mitchell made to express her irritation over a story about her husband published last week by Women's Wear Daily.

She described as "ridiculous" the dispatch which quoted Attorney General John N. Mitchell as calling educators the "stupid bastards who are ruining our educational institutions."

The blonde and voluble Mrs. Mitchell then voiced her own comments on the academic world:

"The academic society is responsible for all of our troubles in this country. These are people that are destroying our country."

Asked if she was referring to any particular educators, she said "the whole academic society is to blame . . . the professors in every institution of learning."

"It makes me sick at my stomach. They're a bunch of sidewalk diplomats that don't know the score," she declared. "They don't know what's going on. They don't have any right to talk.

"They are the sidewalk diplomats, who do not know and have no right to express an opinion on diplomacy," she said. "Why, some of 'em can't talk as well as I can and I can't talk very well.

"There are more repercussions in our society today because of them," she said. "They are totally responsible for the sins of our children. The academicians have not taken care of our children. They are at fault for a whole generation of children."

Mrs. Mitchell said she was calling from the telephone in her upstairs bathroom at their plush Watergate apartment on the Potomac "so John won't hear me talking to you."

Women's Wear Daily also quoted Mitchell as saying Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's national affairs adviser and a former Harvard professor, was "an egocentric maniac."

"That's ridiculous," Mrs. Mitchell said. "Why, we just love Henry."

On their return last week from a vacation with President and Mrs. Nixon at the Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., Mrs. Mitchell joined the press section aboard Air Force One to sound off about the Vietnam war.

When the attorney general joined her and was asked if he'd like to hear what she had to say, he replied, "No. I might want to jump out the window."

Cambodia Forces Fight Entrapment

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian reinforcements poured north today in an effort to break a week-old Communist entrapment of 4,000 government soldiers at Tang Kauk. At the same time a new Communist offensive was reported underway to the south.

Military sources said at least a part of the estimated 5,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese occupying the mountain terrain around the Kirirom plateau, 56 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, had moved into the lowlands.

Officers in Phnom Penh said the new action, coupled with the continued entrapment of Cambodian soldiers at Tang Kauk 49 miles north of Phnom Penh, was considered "serious."

In South Vietnam, U.S. military sources said 11 American soldiers were killed and 11 were wounded Sunday when Communist gunners shot down a U.S. helicopter near the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) between North and South Vietnam and then fired mortar shells at a rescue force.

The UH1 Huey helicopter preparing to drop a six-man Ranger team on a reconnaissance patrol was hit six miles west of the allied base at Gio Linh and one-half miles south of the DMZ. It crashed and was destroyed, killing nine of the GIs aboard and wounding one, the sources said.

The U.S. Command in Saigon reported today that 800 more Americans were redeployed from Vietnam in the week ending Sept. 17 and that 395,500 men were now stationed in the war zone. It was the lowest troop strength figure since Jan. 7, 1967, when 395,400 men were here, records showed.

Another 10,780 American will have to be removed by Oct. 15 to meet President Nixon's "Phase Four" withdrawal program of 50,000 U.S. troops.

Two U.S. Marine units numbering 1,400 men departed Da Nang today bound for the United States. They were the 1st Battalion, 7th Marine Regiment, and companies "C" and "D" of the 1st Reconnaissance Battalion, spokesmen said.

LONDON (UPI) — London had its hittest September day in 11 years Sunday when the temperature climbed to 81.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Loses Majority

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Premier Olof Palme's Social Democratic party lost its majority in parliament Sunday during general elections in which the Communists unexpectedly made a strong showing. But the Communist gains assured continued Socialist rule for the next three years.

The 43-year-old premier, Europe's youngest government chief who gained publicity for his outspoken criticism of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, virtually confirmed the Social Democrats will continue to rule even if they must rely on Communist support.

The three nonsocialist parties, the Center party, the Liberals and the Conservatives, together polled the largest majority with 46.6 per cent of the vote. The Social Democrats lost 3.7 per cent and totaled 46.4 per cent of the vote and the Communists tallied nearly 5 per cent.

Italy Celebrates

ROME (UPI)—Italy began its second century as an independent and unified country today following ceremonies that celebrated the capture of Rome from the Pope on July 20, 1870.

Pope Paul VI blessed the descendants of troops who breached the city defenses and captured the city in a short, sharp battle on that day. It was a far cry from the opinion of his predecessor, Pope Pius IX, who said the invaders had been sent by the anti-Christ.

A Hijacker Twice

BANGKOK (UPI)—The U. S. embassy said today the American who hijacked a plane from Thailand to North Vietnam Friday had been imprisoned for stealing a plane and flying it to Cuba in 1962.

An embassy spokesman said Bobby Joe Keesee, 36, of Phoenix, Ariz., stole a Piper Comanche in June of 1962 and flew it to Cuba.

The spokesman said Keesee was expelled from Cuba and in June, 1962, was tried for stealing the plane and an automobile. He was convicted and received two five-year concurrent sentences, the spokesman said.

Keesee was paroled from the federal correctional institution at La Tuna, Tex., June 8, 1965, the spokesman said.

Plot Warning

MONTEVIDEO (UPI) — A Montevideo radio station said it received a communique from the leftist Tupamaro terrorists Sunday that prison officials were hatching a plot to kill imprisoned members of the organization.

Radio Montecarlo said the communique accused the officials of storing firearms in a prison hospital "to be later placed alongside the bodies of our assassinated comrades."

The communique warned that if the plan was carried out, "government officials, the chiefs of the repression, (against the Tupamaros) foreign diplomats and the oligarchs" would be held responsible for the act.

The communique also said the situation of two hostages, American soils expert Claude L. Fly of Ft. Collins, Colo., and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Dias Gomide," was the same."

Spending 'Folly'

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — World Bank President Robert S. McNamara said today it is the mark of "incurable folly" for the nations of the world to spend 20 times more on military power than they do on constructive progress.

In remarks prepared for delivery to the opening meeting of the International Monetary Fund (IMF), McNamara also said, "We must insure that in such critical fields as population planning, rural renewal, fuller employment and decent urbanism, positive policies support and hasten social transformation."

Asks Patriotism

DENVER (UPI)—Gen. Lewis W. Walt, assistant commandant of the U. SK. Marine Corps, said Sunday "the fires of patriotism must be rekindled" if the nation is to remain free.

The former head of Marine forces in Vietnam urged nationwide support of President Nixon's policies in Indochina and other places across the world. "As some men are called on to pay a greater price, so some nations bear a greater burden," Walt said.

Walt, speaking at Citizenship Day ceremonies, said a "conflict is being waged right here in our country and each of you is a part of it.

New Format For Emmy Telecasts

NEW YORK (UPI)—There will be two streamlined Emmy Award telecasts this year instead of one because critics have found past awards programs tedious for viewers.

A 90-minute program originating on the West Coast will be devoted solely to entertainment awards, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences announced Sunday. NBC will carry this one.

The second show originating in New York City will be devoted exclusively to news and public affairs program awards. Dates for both shows will be announced later.

The new format was approved during a weekend trustee meeting.

Past award programs, alternating between Los Angeles and New York, lasted two or more hours. Critics found the time devoted to technical awards tedious for the general public.

The changes were "designed to give the show a new pace and cohesiveness and enhance its attractiveness to the public and to advertisers," Robert Lewine, academy president, and Sonny Fox, academy board chairman, said in an announcement.

Convicted Singer Awaits Sentence

MIAMI (UPI)—Rock singer Jim Morrison, convicted of indecent exposure and using obscenities in public, is free on $50,000 bond awaiting sentencing Oct. 23.

"This trial and its outcome won't change my style because I maintain that I did not do anything wrong," Morrison said. "It could have been worse, I suppose. I've only been found guilty of misdemeanors."

A jury of three men and three women found Morrison guilty of "vulgar and indecent exposure" and using "vulgar and indecent language" Sunday, ending a two-month trial which included 15 days of testimony.

Forest Claims Information On Bagley Wrong

Joseph A. Forest, Democratic nominee for the state Assembly, has conceded that his recent attack on the incumbent he is challenging was based on incorrect information.

Forest had attacked what he termed a "record of absenteeism" on the part of Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, on votes on several conservation bills.

"I deeply regret criticizing Mr. Bagley undeservedly, and I have informed my research staff to use meticulous care to be more accurate in the future," Forest said in a press statement.

Forest had said that Bagley had failed to save legislation allowing diversion of gasoline taxes to rapid transit. Bagley countered with a letter from the author of such a measure crediting Bagley with its passage.

Forest also had claimed Bagley had missed a vote that helped kill another bill, but Bagley pointed out that he not only had voted for it, but it had passed the Legislature. The bill limited drilling leases in the Santa Barbara Channel.

Forest disputed Bagley's claim, however, that the assemblyman had had no role in the defeat of a request to the federal government to halt oil drilling in the channel. Forest had claimed that Bagley was absent when the Assembly killed the request, which Bagley pointed out had in fact never even reached the Assembly floor.

Forest, conceding he had been misinformed, said that Bagley missed a vote to have the measure bypass the committee that killed it.

Unruh Is Challenged On Angela Davis View

Paul R. Haerle of San Rafael, Northern California chairman of Gov. Ronald Reagan's reelection campaign, has described as "a blatant fabrication" a claim by Assemblyman Jess Unruh that he never favored hiring Angela Davis.

Miss Davis, fired last year as an instructor from the University of California, is wanted on charges of murder and kidnapping for the Aug. 7 escape attempt at the Marin County Hall of Justice in which Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley and three of his abductors were killed.

Unruh, the governor's Democratic challenger in the November election, recently said, "I have never advocated retention or hiring of Miss Davis and any charge to the contrary is made either through ignorance or out of a deliberate attempt to mislead the public."

Haerle, however, said that Unruh, in a May 22 broadcast in Los Angeles, according to the Los Angeles Times, declared "that if he were governor and thus a UC regent, he 'would have to vote to support the chancellor's recommendations (to rehire her)'."

Hearle said "There is no evidence that Unruh has ever demanded a retraction of that statement by KNBC, the Times — or himself."

Haerle, in a joint statement with David L. James, Reagan's campaign chairman for Southern California, said that Unruh's reply "stands as a complete misrepresentation of the posture he embraced before Miss Davis was charged with murder and kidnapping and placed on the FBI's 10-most-wanted list."

Council To Talk On Mortuaries

The Corte Madera Town Council will continue consideration today at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall on a recommendation to allow operation of mortuaries in retail shopping zones.

The recommendation was presented Aug. 20 to the council by the town's planning commission following approval by the commission of a use permit to San Francisco mortician Nicholas P. Daphne.

The council will also continue discussion on bicycle paths along Tamalpais Drive, architectural control of improvements to the town park, and hold a hearing on an application by Nathan Blumenfield to raise the sign at Cinema I Theater on Tamal Vista by ten feet.

Faculty Asks Delay In Naming Jones

A Sonoma State College faculty petition has asked the state college board of trustees to delay naming a permanent president until the campus presidential selection committee can make a recommendation.

The petition was in response to reports that acting President Earl W. Jones would be appointed permanently at the trustees' meeting next week in Los Angeles.

Dr. Cheryl Petersen, a petition circulator, said information about the petition and the number of signers would not be released until after a faculty meeting today.

After the resignation of President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke promised that an elected campus selection committee would be fully involved in the search for a new president.

Dr. Yvette Fallandy, head of the campus commtitee, said last week that consideration of other candidates is continuing.

The Smithsonian Institution at Washington was established Aug. 10, 1846 by Act of Congress.

FRANCES MORTON
Outstanding teacher

TEACHER OF THE WEEK

Mrs. Morton Finds Each Level 'Best'

(The Independent-Journal today introduces a new feature, "Teacher of the Week," in which an outstanding teacher in some school in Marin County will be honored each week during the school year.)

When Frances Morton moved with her husband, Robert F., to Hamilton Air Force Base in 1959, she thought her teaching days were behind her. Today, she looks forward to more of them.

Mrs. Morton, who teaches sixth grade at Bernard Hoffman School in the Dixie district, had taught in Ohio before the birth of her daughter, Ruth Ann. She taught high school in Wickliffe, a suburb of Cleveland, and in Perry, Ohio, and both high school and elementary school in Ravenna, Ohio.

She re-entered the profession as a substitute teacher in the Dixie district in January, 1961, and in April of the same year returned to it full time, teaching seventh grade at Vallecito School to replace a teacher who resigned. She is now in her fourth year as Hoffman sixth grade teacher.

A clue to her success with the pupils may be found in her response to the question of whether she preferred elementary or high school teaching.

"Wherever I'm teaching, I like what I'm teaching at the time best and wouldn't want to do anything else," she said.

Her sixth grade pupils wouldn't want her to do anything else, either.

Robert Morton is still employed at Hamilton Air Force Base, as base ground safety officer, and the family lives at 2066 Feliz Road, Novato.

The career that Mrs. Morton has found rewarding is being followed also by their daughter, Ruth Ann, who began her first year of teaching this month at Rancho School in the Novato district.

"She has served kind of an apprenticeship at home," laughed Mrs. Morton.

Two Marin Firms Will Train Jobless

Sonoma State To Accept Spring Applications By Mail

Admission applications to Sonoma State College for the spring semester will be accepted by mail on Oct. 1, according to Harold J. Soeters, dean of admissions and records.

Soeters said there will be no repeat of last year's long line of people waiting to submit applications. He said all forms must be received on Oct. 1 and will be processed on a first-come, first-serve basis. No applications should be submitted before Oct. 1.

Last semester more than 1,000 applications were returned unprocessed. The college opened with a fall enrollment of 4,000 students.

Those who may apply include freshmen with no previous college work; junior and senior transfers who have or will complete a minimum of 60 units; and graduates of an accredited college or university.

Students wishing to pursue a master's degree must apply to the office of admissions and records and to the department in which they intend to major.

All applications must include the $20 application fee.

Prison Officers To Get Benefits

A bill signed yesterday by Gov. Ronald Reagan will allow San Quentin Prison correctional and parole officers retirement benefits similar to other law enforcement officers in the state.

James W. L. Park, associate warden at the prison, said the law, which will go into effect in July, will affect more than 50 San Quentin employees immediately.

Under the new regulation, employees will be eligible for the same retirement benefits at age 55 with 25 years service as they can now obtain at age 60 with 30 years service.

MENDOCINO (UPI) — Jim Ogle, 19, was missing and presumed drowned today after being swept out the mouth of Big River while kayaking with a friend.

His companion, Philip Stevens, 14, swam to a rock and was rescued after the kayak capsized.

Ogle was a resident of the Antioch Ranch, a hippie commune near Mendocino.

Four Injured In Two Automobile Accidents

One man was reported in serious condition today with head injuries at Letterman General Hospital and three other persons reported to have received minor injuries in two accidents in San Rafael during the weekend.

Graham Clinton Whiteford, 21, U.S. Army 51st Brigade, was injured at 11:40 a.m. when the car he was driving on Smith Ranch Road overturned, police reported. He was taken by Army ambulance to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

A passenger in the car, Richard Dorsett Ives, was treated for multiple cuts at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Police reported that the Whiteford car swerved to miss a truck on a cruve and overturned.

In a minor collision in the parking lot at 555 Francisco Boulevard at 1:45 p.m. Saturday, two people received neck sprains, according to police.

They were the driver of one car, Mary Ellen Wilson, 17, of 599 Tamarack Drive, and her passenger, Shirley Jones of 39 Dolores Street, both San Rafael. Both were to see their own doctors.

The driver of the other car, Charlotte Estelle Strom, 51, of 14 Bret Harte Avenue, San Rafael, was unhurt, according to police.

Both cars were westbound in the parking lot when they collided, police reported.

ing city. The Palestinian Red Crescent appealed for help and said "Jordan is threatened with disease and hundreds of thousands are threatened with death from starvation and thirst."

The Egyptian government announced it had called an emergency Arab summit conference in Cairo Tuesday to deal with the worsening crisis and said King Hussein and guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat would attend.

Britain joined the United States today in appealing to Russia to use its influence with Syria to end the invasion, but diplomatic sources in London said the Kremlin's influence with the ruling Baath Party in Damascus was virtually nil despite quantities of military supplies provided Syria by the Russians.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers called on Syria Sunday to end its invasion and warned that Syrian intervention raised the danger of a wider war. Syria replied with a demand the United States remove the 6th Fleet from the eastern Mediterranean.

Irbid long was a sleepy mountain town surrounded by olive groves and wheat fields with a population of about 7,000. In recent years thousands of Palestinian refugees have flooded in, and it is the headquarters of the 12,000 Iraqi troops in Jordan.

There was no indication whether the Iraqi troops, mostly artillerymen used to shell Israeli villages, were taking part in the fighting. The guerrillas have appealed for Iraqi help and Baghdad Radio has supported the guerrillas.

Reports from Amman through diplomatic channels indicated the army was more or less in control there, still fighting small bands of guerrilla holdouts. But there was no word on the fate of the 54 airline hijack victims held in the Amman area by the guerrillas.

Because of the danger to the 400 or more American citizens in Jordan units of the U.S. 6th Fleet have been moved in closer to the war zone. Last week the Pentagon ordered the Atlantic Fleet helicopter carrier Guam with 1,500 more Marines to join the 1,500 Marines already there aboard the carrier Independence.

With the situation somewhat eased in Amman, the army briefly lifted the curfew on seven areas of the city so citizens could restock on water and food. British diplomatic sources said some firing was heard in Amman this morning, especially toward the southern end of the city.

London sources said the British government was in touch with Hussein but had no direct diplomatic contact with Syria and asked Russia to intervene with the Damascus regime. By late today there was no reply.

units to support an evacuation operation for American citizens should that become necessary.

"These increased readiness operations involve units both here and in Germany, including some medical and hospital units and some ships and aircraft."

Friedheim said that in the United States among the units placed on standby was the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C., a 10,000-man reserve force that is part of the U.S. Strike Command.

In connection with this, some C141 jet transports were reported ready at Pope AFB, next to Ft. Bragg, and others were being ordered in to back them up.

15 quarterly corporate income tax deadline.

Morgan's action indicated that the business borrowing was only moderate last week.

Nixon Administration officials have said in recent weeks that they expect interest rates to decline gradually as a reaction to reduced inflationary pressures.

"This is another indication of the success of our efforts to control inflation," Treasury Union Secretary Charles E. Walker said.

Ordinance Of Logging On Agenda

Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow will hear a recommendation to expand the county's emergency logging control ordinance into San Geronimo Valley, east of Samuel P. Taylor State Park and south of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The emergency ordinance presently covers Bolinas Ridge, west of Taylor Park and parts of Nicasio. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said there is indication that loggers may move into San Geronimo Valley.

Other items on the supervisors' all-day agenda include:

DILAPIDATED SHACKS — Citizens of San Geronimo Valley will ask for stricter abatement of shacks that are being occupied illegally.

FIRE PROTECTION — Marin County Fire Chiefs Association will submit a resolution favoring a consolidation of all fire departments in the county.

MENTAL HEALTH — Donovan O. Cooke, director of community mental health services, will submit a mental health budget of $4,291,188 for the 1971-72 fiscal year, as required by the state. Dr. Cooke said this budget merely insures that current services will continue, and additional programs may be added to the budget by January of next year.

SUIT AGAINST BOOK PUBLISHERS — County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney will report that Marin school districts will recover $2,344 and the county library $150 as a result of a lawsuit filed in 1968 against several publishers. The suit charged that the publishers sold children's books to public agencies without giving the normal discounts.

MILLION DOLLAR CLAIM — Maloney will ask for authority to defend the county against a $1,020,800 damage suit filed by Robert D. Marshall because the county turned down his tentative map for the 319-acre Laird's Landing subdivision on the west side of Tomales Bay.

"The Soviet Union is willing to sacrifice not only Israel but Egypt for their selfish, imperialistic interests."

She insisted that if the Egyptians "really want peace they will sit down at one table and negotiate." She suggested an intermediary such as U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring was unnecessary.

Outside the Hilton, about 200 demonstrators gathered before Mrs. Meir spoke and marched in support of the Palestinian guerrillas as they chanted "Long Live Al Fatah." A bearded youth charged into the group at one point and was hauled away by police after a minor scuffle.

Youths Set Fire To Woman's Hair

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two young teenage girls set fire to a woman's hair on a bus Sunday and giggled as she put the flames out, police reported.

The girls, 13 and 14 years old, and two boys who were with them on the bus, were caught by mounted police after a chase through Golden Gate Park.

The Municipal Railway bus driver stopped his vehicle and called police when the incident occurred and the youngsters fled. The woman was not seriously injured.

The two girls were held at the Youth Guidance Center and the two boys were released to their parents.

Mrs. Priest Due At Fund-Raiser

State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest will speak at a fund-raising campaign dinner at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 5 at Sabella's Restaurant, Mill Valley.

Tickets are being handled by Mrs. Fred F. Enemark of San Rafael and Mrs. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of San Anselmo.

Mrs. Priest, a Republican, is seeking reelection to a second term. She is being challenged by Democrat Milton Gordon.

Novato Bypass Hearing Slated

Novato city officials will have the ear of the California Highway Commission Oct. 21 at a hearing on the city's plea for a speed-up of the Novato bypass project on Highway 101.

The council on July 29 asked for a hearing at the commission's meeting Saturday and yesterday, but the hearing later was postponed to the October date, according to Novato City Mgr. Charles A. Brown's office.

Applicants Disqualified For Principal

The screening committee charged with interviewing applicants for the position of principal of Sleepy Hollow School has informed the San Anselmo School District board none of the first 42 candidates met the committee's standards.

Supt. William Kenneth Lowry today reported that the committee told the board Friday it was unable to recommend any of the applicants because none met the criteria established by the committee before it started interviewing.

The board's closed session, which had been slated for Saturday to interview prospective candidates recommended by the committee, was cancelled, Lowry said.

He said that he expects the committee to recommend at the Oct. 6 board meeting, that the trustees readvertize the position.

The position has been vacant since June 30 when principal Richard B. Connell resigned for personal reasons. The board then created its committee of two teachers, a board member, a principal and a parent to begin seeking a replacement.

Earlier this month the board approved the appointment of Albert C. Tonsberg as interim principal at the school. He will continue at that capacity until a replacement is selected, Lowry said today.

The board had received 42 applications for the position. Following a "paper screening," six were interviewed by the committee.

Hospital Board To Consider Building Plans

The Marin Hospital District Board will consider a request to prepare plans and call for bids for two modular buildings to be added to the records building at the hospital at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the directors room at the hospital.

When the Archives building was added to the hospital, space was left for the addition of two more modular buildings there, said Adm. Ray K. Bolinger. He estimated the cost of the addition at approximately $15,000 to $16,000.

The board will receive a report on the status of the remodeling of the intensive care unit, the x-ray special procedures room and laboratory. It will receive a request to purchase the data processing equipment now being rented.

Dr. John S. Guerrant, interim director of the Marin Community Mental Health Center, will make his first report to the board.

Asks Overturn Of Alcoholic Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Alcoholism is not the kind of ailment that should entitle its victims to receive disability relief, the state attorney general's office said today.

In a brief on file in a state supreme court case, the attorney general asks the court to overturn a state court of appeal decision which granted Alex F. Rosas, 50, assistance under the Aid to Totally Disabled program. Rosas is "indisputably a chronic alcoholic," the brief says, but he has no other disabling condition.

Under the rules governing welfare payments, "transient conditions or diseases which may be cured or conditions which lend themselves to rehabilitation" are excluded from disability assistance, according to the brief, written by Deputy Attorney General Asher Rubin.

GUARD

was chief of staff for U.S. forces and also chief of staff for the United Nations command in Korea. In World War II, he served as squadron commander for the Army Air Force's famed Negro 99th Fighter squadron.

Volpe asked that Congress raise the ticket tax on domestic flights from 8 per cent to 8½ per cent and the head tax on international fares fom $3 to $5 to finance the airliner security guard program.

The airline industry asked that the marshals be paid from general Treasury revenues.

Volpe asked that the increases become effective Nov. 1.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the committee chairman, said the committee would meet privately Tuesday. He expected quick action on the proposal.

Volpe said the increases would raise $155 million during the next three years —$34 million this fiscal year, $57 million in fiscal 1972 and $64 million in fiscal 1973.

The money would be used for training and paying 2,500 air marshals to implement President Nixon's plan, announced 10 days ago after Arab guerrillas hijacked four passenger planes.

Park Bill Author Criticizes Veto

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The author of a bill requiring government agencies to replace park land taken for other purposes today lashed out at Gov. Ronald Reagan for vetoing it.

"The governor has proved again his talk about the environment is just empty words," complained Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills.

The bill proposed forbidding government agencies—such as the Highway Commission—and public utilities from taking park land for nonpark purposes unless they replaced it with an equivalent amount of land in the same vicinity.

But Reagan said he vetoed it because the bill would give statutory authorization for the condemnation of state park system lands.

Unidentified Man Leaps From Span

The California Highway Patrol today was seeking to learn the identity of a middle-aged man who jumped to his death yesterday from the Golden Gate Bridge.

The body of the man, described by officers as five feet, eight inches tall and 200 pounds, was recovered about 10:17 p.m., moments after the leap, by a Coast Guard cutter. A witness, driving on the bridge, said the man walked to the railing and jumped over.

No auto or identification has been found, officers said.

ON THE WAY — The "El Lobo," a 54-foot ferro cement boat made by Don Stumpf (holding line) and his brother Jim of Santa Venetia, was lowered into the water at Buck's Landing Sunday. The two brothers plan to make Central America their first stop on their new life at sea.

Dream Becomes A Reality With Launch Of Ferro Cement Sailboat

By MICHAEL A. SMITH

A 10-year dream turned to reality this weekend when Don and Jim Stumpf of Santa Venetia put their homemade 54-foot sailboat into the water at Buck's Landing.

The idea of escaping what Jim, 35, calls "the turmoil around us" had been growing and last October they decided to do something about it. What they did was decide to give up their jobs as a chemical engineer (Jim) and a steel purchaser (Don), build a ferro cement boat (cement plastered over an iron mesh frame), and sail away to a new life at sea.

"We figure we can have a better life on some of those (Pacific islands," explained Don, age 39. "Just call it a long vacation."

The 'vacation" will last about three years — first stop Panama to visit friends, then on to American Samoa and finally a rendevous with other sailor friends in Spain for a 1973 Christmas celebration. After that, the Marconi rigged ketch "El Lobo" will be put to work.

"We have enough money to hold out a couple of years," said Don. "The Coast Guard has inspected it once, and if we pass the other two inspections, we'll turn it into a charter boat in the Caribbean after a few years."

The boat was built this past year at Buck's Landing near Santa Venetia, using a frame of hollow half-inch water pipe and 33,000 feet of high tensil strength steel rods. Ferro cement, an extremely fine, strong cement was plastered into this mesh frame forming the hull of the ship.

John D. Daniel of Fremont, who did the cementing of the 28-ton ketch explained that ferro cement costs only about one-third as much as a steel-hulled ship, and about one-tenth the cost of a wooden ship. Another reason for using the cement, said Fremond, is that it requires no maintenance.

Money for the venture was saved up over the past 10 years, according to Don.

"We've been saving, scrounging. We bought and sold a ranch and salvaged three wrecked boats. Geez, we got a grand on each one of those boats!" he explained, as he helped jack the boat onto a large flatbed truck for moving to the water.

"It's amazing how fast that money can pile up," said Don, wiping the sweat from his forehead with the back of his forearm, "if you're just willing to keep working hard for it."

The voyage actually won't get under way for another four months because there is still much finish work to be done on the inside of the boat and several more Coast Guard inspections.

But to the Stumpf brothers, their new life has already begun now that their boat is in the water.

East Bay BART Link To Santa Clara Seen

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Bay Area Rapid Transit District rail link down San Francisco Bay's east shore to Santa Clara County is foreseen by Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco.

Foran, who introduced the legislation that created the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, said Sunday that "The County of Santa Clara is very interested, very eager to link up with the Bay Area in future transportation projects."

Since San Mateo County has not made any specific move to extend BART down the bay's west shore, Foran said the route to San Jose might go on the other side of the water.

The commission he authored will become effective in two months and "all applications for federal aid for transportation projects in the nine-county Bay Area will have to have its approval," Foran said.

"So far as planning transportation is concerned, this new Metropolitan Transportation Commission will have jurisdiction over BART, over the Golden Gate Bridge District and over state bridges crossing the bay," he added.

"It could not tell the State Highway Commission what to do about highway and freeway planning, but it could advise and we think its advice would be heeded," Foran continued.

"Nor do we bring in airports and harbors as such, but the new agency is to study the role of airports and harbors in bay region transportation and we think that should have some beneficial effect on regional transportation planning," he said.

The nine counties involved are San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Marin, Napa, Solano and Sonoma.

The commission can disband if some sort of regional government becomes effective or it could become an arm of such a government.

Funds for the commission, $500,000, came from the Association of Bay Area Governments.

Gov. Ronald Reagan last week signed the bill creating the commission.

Shuttle Line To Oakland Airport Held Advantage

OAKLAND (UPI)—Oakland Airport could gain a "competitive advantage over San Francisco Airport" if a shuttle rail line is constructed to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, a federal study shows.

The $90,000 study, released last week, said the shuttle would cost $45 million and would link the East Bay airport to BART's Coliseum Station. Passengers would transfer there from trains operated by BART to those run by the shuttle service.

"Even if rail transit service to San Francisco Airport is available, the travel time to Oakland via (the shuttle service) connecter will be as fast or faster from many Bay Area points than it will be to San Francisco Airport," the study said.

"Travel time from downtown San Francisco to Oakland Airport will most likely be the same as that to San Francisco Airprot, perhaps less," said the survey by Kaiser Engineers.

"This will encourage trips to Oakland Airport from the San Francisco central business district."

San Francisco Airport is not now on a BART route although studies are being made concerning the best method of serving it with rail connections to the city.

The engineers suggested that the federal government might pay $30 million toward the shuttle's cost.

The remainder could be paid by general obligation bonds, or airlines, or agencies involved in the airport's access study, or by the state, the report suggested.

Shuttle-type trains were urged because then the service could be changed into a BART branch economically if business warranted.

Premier Wins Re-Election In France

BORDEAUX, France (UPI)—Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas won re-election to the National Assembly Sunday by handily defeating the stiffest reform opponent to challenge the Gaullists in years, eJan-Jacques Servan-Schreiber.

Servan-Schreiber said he would resign Tuesday as general secretary of his Radical Socialist party, the organization of non-Communist leftists he has welded to bring reform to France's social and political life.

Chaban-Delmas, 55, reaffirmed his popularity and that of his Union of the Defense of the Republic Party, the ruling Gaullist party, by capturing 63.5 per cent of the vote. Servan-Schreiber, 46, a handsome news magazine publisher, tallied 16.5 per cent of the vote.

Eight others also were in the running.

Ky Planning Trip To Paris Talks, U.S.

SAIGON (UPI)—Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam, ignoring official advice against such a trip, plans to leave Tuesday for the Paris talks and the United States to present his country's cause "for the good of Vietnam."

Ky made a rare television appearance Sunday night to explain to his countrymen why he felt compelled to make an unofficial visit to the United States to address an Oct. 3 "Rally for Victory" in Washington sponsored by right-wing fundamentalist preacher Dr. Carl McIntire.

NOT DOVE, HAWK

"I am not a dove and, to be truthful, neither am I a hawk," Ky said. "For before being pacifist, one has to be warlike. What I have to worry about most is the good of Vietnam. For that reason, my voice in the United States will be of one warrior to another, of one ally to another ally."

The vice president and his wife, Mai, leave on regularly scheduled air Vietnam Flight 783 from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport via Taipei and Tokyo.

A spokesman for Ky said the couple would remain in Tokyo only long enough to change to an unspecified flight to Paris. He is due in the United States Oct. 1.

NO STATEMENT

The spokesman said Ky would have no departure statement, although he would meet with newsmen. In Paris, he is scheduled to meet with his country's delegation to the talks in his role as President Nguyen Vao Thieu's personal representative.

In his television address, Ky said he did not intend to cause any difficulties for the Nixon administration or interfere with the forthcoming congressional elections.

The U.S. State Department and segments of the American news media advised Ky to cancel the trip because of the impact his visit could have on the elections and because it could be unsafe for him.

Indian Leader To Tour Reservations

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Indian leader Richard Oakes said Sunday he would visit American Indian reservations and settlements across the nation.

Oakes said he would leave Monday with his wife, Anne, their six children, another Indian and two white men in the old bus Oakes calls "his traveling college."

Oakes said he would "learn everything I can."

"I hope to record and document what I learn and bring it back to teach a real American history," he said at his student housing apartment at San Francisco State College.

The small import that doesn't let big trucks push it around.

The Opel Ralleye is a small German economy car. But it doesn't perform like one.

It performs like a big expensive American car. So it doesn't get blown around on the highway. Or by anything that drives on the highway.

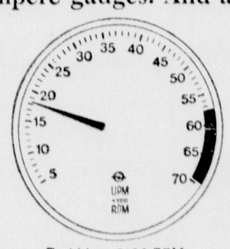

Now you can get that kind of performance from a small economy car at a small economical price. $2,493.34.*

And here's what else you get.

A 1900 cc., 102 horsepower, 4-cylinder engine that gets up to 26 miles to a gallon of gas.

A 4-speed, short-throw transmission, synchronized in all forward gears (3-speed fully automatic transmission is available).

A tach. A speedometer with an 0.1 mile odometer. Fuel, oil pressure, temperature, and ampere gauges. And an electric clock.

Power-disc brakes up front. Radial-ply tires. And a rear stabilizer bar for rally-type handling.

All-vinyl bucket seats. Plus, deep-pile carpeting on the floor.

Where do you find Opels?

They're sold at over 1500 Buick dealerships nationwide. Which also means you have more places to get them serviced than any other imported car. Any other.

Why not see your local Bay Area Buick-Opel dealer today. He might be out of Opels tomorrow.

Diamond Finesse A Bad Play Here–Can You Tell The Reason?

The youthful expert is mildly unhappy when his opponent makes a bad play. Art is more important than coin of the realm or even master points. I wasn't surprised, therefore, when young Richard Oshlag, of Port Chester, N.Y., showed me today's hand during the national tournament in Boston.

ACE LEAD

"I led the ace of clubs from the West hand," Oshlag related. "My partner dropped the king, and I read this as a suit preference signal, showing strength in hearts rather than diamonds."

I nodded my gray head sagely.

"I switched to the eight of hearts," Oshlag continued, "and my partner took the ace of hearts and returned a heart to dummy's queen. Then South drew two rounds of trumps and led a diamond from dummy to try a finesse with the queen."

"Now, now," I said soothingly. "Don't cry. He made a bad play, but it isn't the end of the world."

Of course you've seen that the diamond finesse was a bad play, but do you know why? Work it out for yourself before you read on.

SHOULD COUNT

South should count before playing the diamonds. West surely has six or seven clubs for his shutout bid of three clubs. West then shows up with two spades, and declarer should cash a third heart to discover that West had three hearts. West has room in his hand for only one or two diamonds.

Since East surely has at least three diamonds, an ordinary diamond finesse will do no good even if it succeeds. If East has the king of diamonds he will surely get a trick with it. A singleton king of diamonds in the West hand is the only hope; and South must therefore play the ace.

This fine play would make the contract and would delight the idealistic opponent in the West seat.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer you hold:
♠ — A Q 7 3
♥ — K Q J
♦ — J 7 6 3 2
♣ — 7.
What do you say?

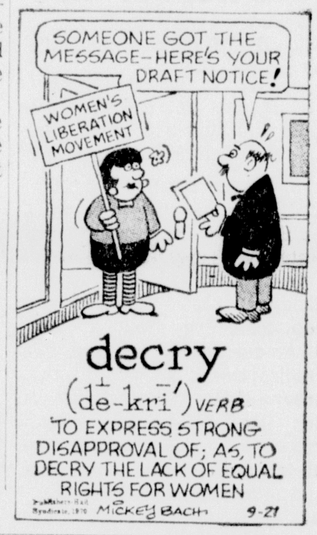

ANSWER: Bid one diamond. The hand is easily worth an opening bid, and you can well afford to bid your longer suit first. If partner responds in a major suit, you will raise.

Antidrug Bill To Ask Messages

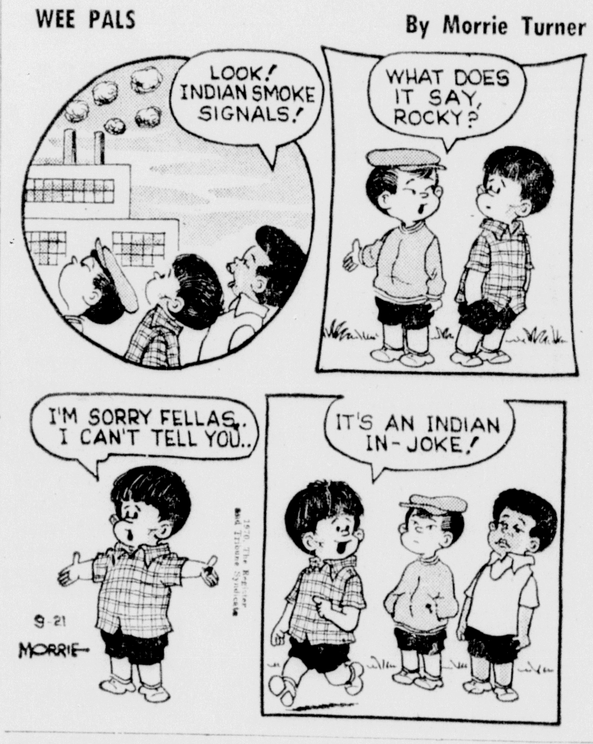

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn. said today he would introduce legislation to require radio and TV stations to carry antidrug messages similar to the anti-smoking announcements currently being aired.

"The mass media reach the rich and the poor, the educated and uneducated, the young and old in a manner all can understand," Mondale said in remarks prepared for the Senate. He said the legislation was feasible because the ban on broadcast cigarette commercials goes into effect Jan. 2, at which time radio and TV outlets no longer will be required to run the anti-smoking messages.

Saturday's Answer

Governor Signs Legislation Restricting New Oil Drilling

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Legislation restricting new oil and gas drilling leases in the Santa Barbara Channel has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

A bill by Assemblyman W Don MacGillivray, R-Santa Barbara, prohibits oil and gas leases from being issued unless the State Lands Commission determines there is no danger of an oil seepage or spill in the channel.

The bill will "provide further protection for the beaches of Santa Barbara and give the state legal controls it must have to make certain there is no repetition of the problems that have caused damage to this beautiful stretch of coastline," said Reagan.

The governor also signed a bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, putting a five-year moratorium on awarding new offshore oil drilling leases in San Francisco Bay and from Monterey Bay to the Oregon border.

Also signed into law was a Bagley bill making public the records of the state banking, savings and loan, corporations and insurance departments.

Reagan also signed a bill Saturday by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, providing penalties of from $10 to $500 for first littering offenses. The minimum fines would be increased to $25 and $50 for second and third offenses.

Another McCarthy bill signed by the governor provided that no local agency, district, county or general law city may impose residence restrictions on its employees.

Unless the bills are designated "urgent," they will go into effect 61 days after adjournment of the five-day veto session which begins today. If the session lasts the entire week, the bills signed by Reagan will become effective Nov. 25.

Bills with "urgency clauses" go into effect immediately after they are signed.

A bill sponsored by the Assembly Select Committee on Environmental Quality and signed by Reagan requires state and local governmental agencies to prepare environmental impact reports on construction projects.

Reagan signed a pair of bills by Assemblyman John Briggs, R-Fullerton, directing the State Resources Agency to develop a program of research and improved methods of power plant siting, including underground nuclear power plants. The second bill orders the agency to cooperate with utility companies and the Public Utilities Commission in developing a 20-year siting plan to meet the state's needs.

Also signed were:

— A bill by Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, requiring physicians to report cases of pesticide poisoning to local health officers. The officers, in turn, will be required to report the cases to the State Departments of Agriculture and Public Health.

— A bill by Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, empowering the State Air Resources Board to make studies of private and public air pollution research programs and report their findings to the legislature. The measure appropriates $9.25 million for the studies.

— A bill by Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ventura, to appropriate up to $176,000 in state and federal funds to supply materials and develop grant programs for conservation education in school districts throughout the state.

— A bill by the Assembly Select Committee on Environmental Quality creating an Office of Planning and Research to develop programs for the state's growth and environmental protection within the next 30 years.

Southern California Funds Hiked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Southern California was the victor today in its 23-year fight to obtain a bigger slice of the $1 billion state highway fund.

Gov. Ronald Reagan late Sunday night signed a bill giving the populous south 60 per cent of the revenue, an increase of five per cent.

Northern California's share of the fund will drop from 45 per cent to 40 per cent under the bill by James Mills, D-San Diego.

The 13 Southern California counties had been fighting since 1947 for the five per cent increase. This is the first year the Legislature has approved the raise. The bill cleared the Assembly in previous sessions but always died in the Senate.

The measure traditionally was opposed along north-south regional lines.

Previously, senators from the 45 northern counties dominated the upper house and succeeded in killing the bill.

Reapportionment of the State Senate in 1966 in compliance with the U.S. Supreme Court one-man one-vote ruling gave Los Angeles County alone 13 of the 40 state senators and the muscle to force passage for Southern California of the highway fund increase.

The procedure of splitting gas funds along regional lines first started during the 1920s.

Some Senior Citizens To Receive Added Social Security Benefits

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Senior citizens receiving state aid because they are disabled or on vedy low incomes will receive a federal $7.50 monthly Social Security increase under terms of a bill signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The governor signed the increase, which had been vetoed twice before under his administration, and Sunday also approved a $2.5 million salary hike for California Highway Patrol officers.

But Vern Alexander, president of the California Association of Highway Patrolmen, charged the three per cent salary increase, was not enough and vowed to ask the Legislature for the full five per cent raise that was included in the bill as it originally went to Reagan's desk.

Reagan also signed bills:

By Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, exempting tuition fees at the state colleges and University of California for children of policemen and firemen killed in the line of duty.

—By Assemblyman Eugene Chappie, R-Cool, setting admission priorities for undergraduate students at the state colleges and university.

—By Assemblyman Charles Warren, D-Los Angeles, prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sex.

—By Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, appropriating $9.25 million for the State Air Resources Board to study private and public air pollution programs.

—By Sen. Donald Grunsky, R-Watsonville, making it a misdemeanor for anyone to interfere with the administration of justice by parading or picketing in or near a courthouse.

—By Assemblymen Ernest N. Mobley, R-Sanger and Chappie providing a $50 million Cal-Vet program for veterans of the Vietnam war and giving them first priority in enrolling in the state colleges and university.

—By Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Alameda, allowing state funds to be used to buy safety equipment for local law enforcement officers.

—By Assemblyman Peter F. Schabarum, R-Covina, banning the sale in California beginning in 1972 of new cars which require gasoline of more than 91 octane.

—By Warren prohibiting the sale or importation into California of animals, dead or alive, which are considered endangered by the State Fish and Game Commission and a measure by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, also prohibiting the importation of endangered species into the state.

—By Sen. James Mills, D-San Diego, increasing Southern California's share of the highway fund from 55 per cent to 60 per cent and decreasing Northern California's share from 45 per cent to 40 per cent.

—By Assemblyman W. Don MacGillivray, R-Santa Barbara, restricting new oil and gas drilling leases in the Santa Barbara Channel.

—By Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, allowing public officials to clear a meeting hall during disruptive demonstrations.

—By Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, giving an $8.3 million a year revenue increase to horse race track operators, breeders and owners.

—By Cologne providing that state inheritance tax appraisers who have not passed qualification examinations for the job be dismissed after June 30, 1971.

— By Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove, prohibiting the sale or distribution of any restricted dangerous drug in California unless it is labeled with the manufacturer's identifying mark.

Ralph M. Brown Act Discussion Is Slated

The Ralph M. Brown Act — California's law calling for open meetings of public agencies — will be discussed in detail by the Marin County School Boards Association Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. in the county superintendent of schools' office, Corte Madera.

Speakers will include County Counsel Douglas Maloney, Deputy County Counsel, Richard V. Godino and Bryce W. Anderson, executive city editor of the Independent-Journal.

Czechoslovakian is spoken by 10 million persons.

Unruh Challenges Gov. Reagan To Call Property Tax Session

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Jess Unruh today challenged Gov. Ronald Reagan to "put up or shut up" on property tax relief as the Legislature returned to consider the governor's vetoes of its bills.

Unruh, Reagan's outspoken campaign opponent, insisted the governor should call a special legislative session to reconsider the administration's previously scuttled $1 billion tax revision program—"bad as it is."

A spokesman for Reagan said the governor has no intention of renewing the tax fight.

The purpose of this week's session—which by law cannot extend more than five days—is to give the Legislature an opportunity to override vetoes by the governor. But no Legislature has overriden a gubernatorial veto since 1946 and lawmakers didn't really expect to this time either.

Reagan pulled the rug out from under one potential Democratic issue Saturday when he signed a bill passing on to senior citizens a $7.50 federal Social Security increase. The state had been deducting the $7.50 from its own old age payments.

Reagan vetoed 77 bills in all, many of them at his Sacramento residence during the final hours before a Sunday midnight deadline. The vetoes included measures:

—By Sen. Lawrence E. Walsh, D-Huntington Park, providing for the state licensing of auctioneers.

—By Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, permitting a coroner to donate to science human body organs examined during an autopsy if the tests were not completed by the burial.

—By Sen. Clair W. Burgener, R-San Diego, requiring all school children to be immunized against German measles.

—By Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, classifying marijuana as a "restricted dangerous drug" instead of a "narcotic."

--By Assemblyman George Zenovich, D-Fresno, extending eligibility for Cal-Vet loans to all veterans who served between Feb. 1, 1955 and Aug. 4, 1964, regardless of where they were stationed.

—By Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, permitting prison parolees to participate in methadone treatment projects.

—By Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz, permitting murder suspects to be tried by three-judge panels.

—By Sen. John Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, requiring the Environmental Quality Study Council to study population distribution.

—By Sen. Jon Harmer, R-Glendale, establishing a commission to consider how to divide up the Los Angeles School District.

—By Sen. Robert Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, increasing pension benefits by five per cent for state employes retired before 1969.

—By Beilenson, making it state policy to provide family planning services to "all wno desire them."

—By Sen. Joseph Kennick, D-Long Beach providing special retirement benefits for three legislators if they lost their November races.

Young People May Have Overlooked A Spokesman

Sometimes some pretty sensible things said in public speeches by prominent people get little or no attention.

Sometimes they don't even get into the news reports. Again, when they do, they generate very little comment while something else in the same speech gets a lot of comment and even starts a big controversy.

Perhaps because of this undeniable situation, young people who are somewhat inclined to complain that they lack adult spokesmen who understand them, seem to have overlooked one.

A FEW MONTHS ago, one of the nation's best-known public speakers made an address in Iowa that got a good deal of press coverage and resulted in a great lot of comment. His subject was the troubled situation in America's institutions of higher education. But in the reports and comments, little attention was paid to some of the things he said.

Said this speaker: "Students, the consumers of knowledge, are in an unique position to assess the effectiveness of educational policies. Therefore, their views should be considered and be an ingredient of final decisions by the educational establishment."

He referred to the mushroom growth of colleges and universities, and the troubles attendant upon it, and showed considerable understanding of students' complaints, declaring:

"Within the awesome statistics of bigness lies the heart of the justified complaints of many college students today — complaints about absentee professors; about the plastic facelessness on campus; about the decline and disappearance of the personal teacher-student relationship; about ill-equipped graduate students teaching courses for which undergraduates have paid $60, $70, and even $80 a credit; about being matriculated, administrated, graded and graduated by computer."

JUST LAST WEEK, the same speaker gave an address in Nevada in which he decried the drug culture. And in it he voiced a contention that has been heard quite often from some of the younger generation. He said:

"We have arrived at this culture partly because society's natural resistance has been broken down by the pill popping adults who fancy they need a pill to get to sleep and a pill to wake up. This, coupled with growing adult alcoholism, was all that some of our younger citizens have needed to do some experimenting on their own."

THIS SPEAKER is one well known by name to our college and high school youth. It would seem, in view of his publicly expressed sentiments, that they might regard him as one of their spokesmen. We have seen no evidence, however, that they do so. Perhaps they do not read his speeches.

The speaker, in both cases, was Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

We Don't Care Enough

People just don't care enough about ecology. Education and awareness and even social pressure will have to be employed if we Americans are to save our enviroment.

This was brought home forcibly recently. Pepsi-Cola marketed 600,000 cases of "deposit and return" bottles of that beverage in New York. Within six months the bottles had disappeared from the market. Rather than return them, people had forfeited $720,000 in deposits — and had added several tons to New York's solid waste disposal problems.

Doubtless the average Marinite is a bit more aware of ecology than most people. But how many of us give more than lip service to reuse and recycling? Too few, we imagine.

Yet, the time inexorably approaches when we must mend our ways.

Private Development On Public Land Puts BCDC On The Spot

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

San Francisco is a political animal, and the animal's favorite food is money.

Money is supposed to talk quietly, and big deals are expected to generate enough grease to quiet even the squeakiest of wheels. Sometimes they don't, though.

OCEANIC PROPERTIES wants to plunk a $120 million project in the bay on San Francisco's waterfront. This tidy sum buys a lot of development — it would extend out into the bay by the length of almost four football fields. And it would be almost as wide as two football fields set end to end.

The developers were welcomed with prearranged warmth by the city's planning and port commissioners, and their project seemed to be loved by everyone. Everyone, that is, except members of the public who had been frustrated in efforts to convince officialdom that the project did not have to go into the bay.

These opponents were barred from appealing to the board of supervisors on the ground they were not adjacent property owners, thus were not affected by the project. The Port of San Francisco is the only adjacent property owner.

These frustrated opponents now have taken their case to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, which has been asked for a permit for the project. The resulting storm clearly caught the developers off guard. They simply were not used to being called names and being treated so rudely — as if they were common developers.

Major Joseph L. Alioto also was incensed. He and the port commission like to think of their waterfront as something they own. But they don't. They only hold it in trust for all the people of California.

THE CRUNCH has posed the BCDC with the fight of its life. If it turns down the project, then the BCDC certainly will be confronted with attempts to emasculate it through the courts and legislature.

It is ironic that this crunch came over a project on public land.

The developers, of course, are private. And in true San Francisco fashion, no thought apparently was given to competitive bidding to assure the public of getting the best deal it could on its own property.

It also is ironic that the opponents of the project disclosed that Congress last year approved an amendment to the public works bill that abandoned the public title over the waterfront. The amendment abolished the need for a development permit from the Army Corps of Engineers.

Conservationists do not usually seek the protection of the corps.

THE AMENDMENT was introduced by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, at the request of Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District. Mailliard, in turn, asked for it at the request of the Reagan administration and Cyril Magnin, head of the port commission.

The congressmen were told that the amendment was needed to facilitate transfer of the waterfront from state to city jurisdiction. Nothing was said about development.

Nothing was said to the public, either.

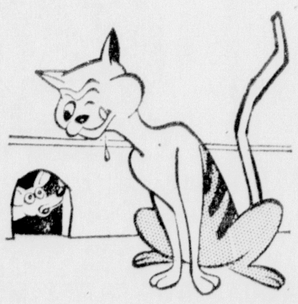

The whole affair is the sort of thing that makes good citizens give up on the ability of the system to respond to the public. This may be the worst loss of all.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Business at a mountain resort was way off recently — so far off, in fact, that when the proprietor was asked, "How's it going?" he answered despondently, "Picking up. Our cat caught four mice yesterday."

English novelist Arnold Bennett, who was known to fall sound asleep in the middle of a dinner party, always took umbrage when anyone questioned his energy. "Here's my daily schedule," he insisted once. "I get up at 6:00, go out for a walk, breakfast at 8:00, work until noon, take half an hour for lunch, work again all afternoon, and often, when not dragged off to some literary 'do', slave until midnight."

"A formidable routine," nodded a skeptic. "May I ask how long you've been following it?"

"If you must know," admitted Bennett, "I intend to start it tomorrow."

"Hell Yes I'll Try to Drown You Out! Understand Man, I'm Protesting for Freedom!"

Events Make Up Mind To Favor ABM

Like most ordinary confused citizens I had no clear-cut views about deployment of the ABM systems several weeks ago. The close vote in the Senate allowing limited deployment did little to clarify my thinking in this important national decision.

However, in the past month, my views have been crystallized very sharply in this matter. If one is to take at face value the allegations of the Israelis, now corroborated by our government, about the cease-fire violations in the Mid-East by the Egyptians with the connivance of the Russians, it is patently obvious that the duplicity of the latter knows no bounds and any ostrich-like attitude by "trusting souls" in this country is tantamount to nuclear suicide.

Accordingly I would urge all concerned citizens to express their positive views on the rapid and comprehensive deployment of the controversial ABM system — because, when the chips are down and we are found wanting, we shall go down in history as being "very trusting and very dead."

Others Subject To Terror Tactics

The community worker for the Sausalito School District who was so recently threatened should know that there are others who are sickened by the very real terror tactics which are used against people working in community projects.

Sometimes the threats are subtle, sometimes they are insidious and, as Mr. (Gabe) Jackson reported, sometimes they are blatant.

My sympathies to Mr. Jackson's family during this very difficult time.

Food Real Issue In Over-Population

Mrs. Janice Winkler's letter in your Sept. 14 edition applies simplistic logic to one aspect only of the population problem, its distribution, while avoiding the real issues.

One real issue is food. Millions are dying now of nutritional deficiency diseases or of just plain starvation. In 1967, the President's Science Advisory Committee's Panel on the World Food Supply stated:

"The solution to the problem that will exist after about 1985 demands that programs of population control be initiated now."

We must choose between higher death rates and lower birth rates . . .

Constitution Week: Time For Dedication

Constitution Week has been designated by Public Law 915 and will run Sept. 17 through 23. This is a time for all citizens, particularly young citizens, to study the Constitution of the United States and re-evaluate the ideals of our Founding Fathers as set forth in this immortal document. We are guaranteed definite inalienable rights and each should accept his personal responsibility for the well-being of the country. The price of liberty is eternal vigilance!

Heroism, hardship and suffering won the War of the Revolution and made possible the Constitution. After the Revolutionary War the Constitution united the young nation and it has since guided it through many serious crises. We, as a nation, are today threatened by those who have little or no understanding of individual liberty and human dignity. Let us, therefore, re-dedicate ourselves to protect the Constitution of the United States of America against all enemies.

Reason For Lack Of County Funds

If the supervisors who voted against Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos's request for funds for additional deputies (I-J, Sept. 8) would accept the invitation of the residents of Los Robles Mobile Home Park (see "Readers Say", I-J, same date.) they would see one of the reasons there is not quite enough in the coffers for the kind of services we need in the county. I agree with Mr. Joseph P. Kurisko, who wrote the letter, that Los Robles is comparable to many of the nicer tracts of unmobile homes in every way but one — its residents pay no property tax on their glamor homes.

No Protest Of Sympathy When Bomb Kills Student

(Reprinted from Delray Beach (Fla.) News-Journal)

A student was killed by a bomb blast at the University of Wisconsin Monday, (Aug. 24), but there were no protests of sympathy for him like those that followed the killing of students at Kent State University.

There was no public outcry and no politicians rushed to the scene, only police and FBI investigators this time.

Perhaps there were no demonstrations because it wasn't the police that killed the graduate student, merely a bomb believed placed by a "subversive organization." Or perhaps it was because the student was 33 years old and a father of three children, and not one of the "in" crowd.

In the college scene today and in far too many places, the prank calls are turning into real threats to lives and property.

Police are called pigs by many groups, including some students who should begin to realize that they are being used and that they might be the next ones to be blown up by those they think are friends.

When bombs begin going off, the social, political or moral philosophy of those nearby doesn't make any difference... death comes to all equally.

If students think they have had problems in the past with rules and regulations on campus, they had better begin thinking what it could be like without rules or regulations. And if they don't want campus activity to get out of hand, then they had better begin taking an active part in patrolling and cleaning up their own ranks of "quick triggers" and "bombers."

THE DRUMMONDS

Politicians Serve President III By Sniping At Scranton Report

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Some timid, nearsighted, low-visioned Republican politicians are picking at the Scranton Commission on Campus Unrest even before it has issued its findings.

They claim they want to shield President Nixon from a report which they guess will be critical of the wrong people — as they see it.

They are afraid the Scranton report will hurt them in the congressional election.

THIS IS THE KIND of petty, puny politics which nourishes campus unrest and causes young people to feel that society is pervasively hypocritical and is trying to escape dealing with urgent problems rather than face them.

Here are elected public officials who are, in effect, telling the students that they don't want all the facts on campus unrest — only those they like.

How the President must wish that his misguided congressional friends would not try to shield themselves by appearing to shield him — this on the ignorant assumption that he named the wrong commission on campus affairs which is now about to issue the wrong kind of report.

NONE OF THIS is true.

The diverse makeup and high quality of the commission headed by the former Pennsylvania governor, William Scranton, shows that Nixon created a competent and balanced panel which deserves the ear of the whole country.

He commissioned it to get the facts, not just one side of the facts.

He knew that such a commission would not shade its findings to please anybody and would not be backward in stating its conclusions honestly and incisively.

That's what it is going to do and the picayune politicians who want it to do otherwise are disserving the President, disserving the nation, and are not, we suspect, going to make many points with their own constituents.

THE SCRANTON REPORT is not going to mount an attack on the Nixon administration. It is not going to condone violence. It is not going to blame everything on the police and the National Guard.

But it will say some things which all need to hear and heed, including Mr. Nixon. Namely:

That neither the President nor the country as a whole has yet recognized the magnitude of campus unrest, and that Mr. Nixon must lift his sights.

That we must not view the deep, intense, purposeful student concern with the shortcomings and overmaterialism of today's society in the narrow focus of the violent-prone.

That when we limit our response to student unrest by being angry at the violent instead of simutaneously doing more to deal positively with the nation's needs, we are abetting campus unrest, not healing it.

THE COMMISSION report will almost certainly reflect some of the thinking typified by Robert Atwell, who, when he resigned as vice chancellor of the Madison campus of the University of Wisconsin this summer, said:

"It is tragic that a substantial proportion of the population of the state, including a clear majority in the legislature and the regents, have become so disaffected by the excesses of the radical students that it engages in actions that are in the long run far more destructive to the university than anything that the radical students have done."

If this is the dominant mood of the nation then the Scranton report is about to say the right things at the right time.

The candid question which the commission report will implicitly put to the President is: Are you going to be the prisoner of middle America — or its leader?

Israeli Partisans Keep Close Score On Senators

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — There is one aspect of the violence-lashed Middle East cauldron that could have far-reaching political repercussions in the U.S.

This factor — rarely mentioned publicly but potentially highly important — is what prominent politicos, especially candidates, are saying and doing about Israel.

In political quarters it is an open secret that Israeli partisans are keeping a close eye on that.

That explains why day after day the Congressional Record contains numerous demands by Republicans and Democrats for economic and military support of Israel. Few of these pronouncements appear in the press or on the air, but they are well noted and appreciated where they count most.

EQUALLY WELL noted is the failure to speak out — or evincing an unfavorable attitude toward Israel.

Rated foremost in that regard is Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and a leading opponent of the Vietnam conflict. The militant dove has consistently displayed a critical attiiude toward Israel.

Also listed in that category is another leading dove — Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore. Like Fulbright's, Hatfield's name was notably missing from the bipartisan list of 79 senators who sent a joint letter to President Nixon early this month urging that more weapons, particularly Phantom supersonic fighter-bombers, be sent to Israel.

TWO OTHER front-rank doves who declined to take part in the bipartisan letter to the President were Senators Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn.

One of those who signed the letter but has otherwise said and done nothing is Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine. Muskie has maintained a wary silence on the Middle East.

OBSCURED by the world furor over the multiple air piracy was a significant meeting between Palestine guerrilla officials and top Red Chinese in Peking.

Heading the Arab delegation were Husni Yunit and Hamdi Mehmut, who claimed to be special envoys of Yasir Arafat, chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization executive committee as well as head man of Al Fatah, largest of the 10 commando groups.

While Yunit and Mehmut are relatively minor guerrilla leaders, the importance the Peking rulers attached to their visit was evidenced by the elaborate reception accorded them.

They were received by Premier Chou En-lai, who held a long conference with them, after which the Arabs told newsmen they had been promised "arms and money." Later, a banquet was given them by Li Hsien-nien, vice-premier of the state council, with a number of leading Peking officials prersent.

At this affair Li-Hsien-nien fervently assured the Arab delegation of unswerving support.

Thomas's Chance For Judgeship Ruled Out, According To Report

Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas, paralyzed from the waist down since he was wounded in the Black Friday shootout at the Hall of Justice, has been proposed by a bipartisan group for the vacant judge's seat in Marin Municipal Court.

The committee backing Thomas is headed by two highly respected Marin attorneys — Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of superior court and William O. Weissich, former district attorney now considered by many to be the finest trial attorney in the county.

Gardiner is a Democrat and Weissich a Republican who has long been active in politics and is a Reagan appointee to the State College's Board of Trustees.

Their backing of Democrat Thomas for the judgeship is not merely a matter of sympathy. They, and many other attorneys in the county consider the assistant district attorney to be an intelligent, forceful lawyer well qualified for the job.

IT APPEARS, however, that Thomas is not even being seriously considered for the appointment by the men closest to Reagan, who advise him in such decisions.

"Municipal court judgeships are not rewards for bravery," was the hardbitten comment quoted as being made by a man close to the governor.

Our source, a high Republican spokesman, said that the comment indicated that "they aren't even going to consider his qualifications."

One San Rafael attorney said upon hearing this, "Gary was qualified for the judgeship the day before the shooting and he's qualified now."

IF THOMAS is not being seriously considered for the appointment, as our sources indicate, then who has the inside track?

The top candidates still seem to be Jack L. Blaine, who serves as a referee for juvenile court on a voluntary basis, and David Menary Jr., San Rafael city attorney.

As for the Marin Superior Court vacancy left by the death of Judge Harold J. Haley, it's generally considered that Henry J. Broderick of Tiburon, an attorney who practices in San Francisco, can have the seat if he wants it.

Broderick, who has close connections with the Reagan administration, was earlier reported wavering as to whether he wanted to give up a successful private law practice. Last week, however, a friend said he was seeking the job.

Next two leading contenders behind Broderick are reported to be Blaine and Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales — not necessarily in that order.

THE GOVERNOR'S staff apparently is waiting for a state bar evaluation of the candidates before making the appointment.

Visiting judges have been helping out in both municipal and superior courts, but the judge shortage at the Hall of Justice is beginning to enter the critical stage, with cases even more backed up than usual.

Sparkman Warns Against Return To Isolationism

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., the second-ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, warned today against a return to isolationism in foreign policy.

In a lecture prepared for the National Bar College, Sparkman said the nation's domestic policies affect foreign policy, but that events abroad also affect domestic policies in fundamental and far-reaching ways.

"Current social and economic pressures which tend to turn our thinking inward and to place greater emphasis on our domestic problems can work against an orderly re-examination of the requirements of our defense posture," Sparkman said.

"The pendulum can swing too far, forcing us into the kind of isolation that has brought the world so much grief in the past and would surely bring even greater grief in the future," he added.

It's Easy To Fly To Europe –If You Can Avoid Shopping

Most of my life, certainly all my adult life, I've been on the go. On 20 minutes notice I'm ready to fly half way round the world and be gone for weeks, month even. Nothing to it. You just live out of a suitcase. Even at home.

"Why don't you unpack and stay awhile?" says Mrs. A.

"You're so lucky," she says, "you go everywhere, see everything." There's a wistfulness in her voice. She looks out the window.

A COUPLE DAYS ago I asked her if she'd like to go to Europe. "Really?" she said, or something like that. The crescendo ended abruptly. "I must do some shopping," she says.

The uninitiated may not see the connection, but there is. You can't expect to come home and announce you're taking your lady to Europe (or Mexico, or Asia, or anywhere) and not have her say, "I must do some shopping."

If you're knowledgeable about these things and quick on the draw, you have a ready answer that's a winner. Something like, "Why not do your shopping in Paris?"

SETTLED. She'll do her shopping Paris. Now there's a swirling activity — passport, shots, visas, talking to everyone who's ever been anywhere.

"I just talked to Julie, you remember, she was in Madrid last year? Well, she told me to be sure to take along a raincoat with a zip-in lining. It gets chilly and rains unexpectedly in Spain."

We're not going to Spain but that's all right. You just say, "Don't worry, we'll buy a coat in Spain."

THE ITINERARY is simple: Paris, then Athens.

Going late like this, past the tourist season, we'll miss the bus loads of school teachers from Omaha, men bandoliered with cameras, the guy who won a trip to Paris for being the salesman of the year telling the boys at the bar in the Paris Hilton how he did it, the housewife from Sacramento trying to figure "how much is it in dollars."

"All you can take is one bag," I tell her.

"I can't possibly get everything in one bag."

"It's the law."

"What law?"

"My law."

"Tyrant!"

THE BIG QUESTION is what to do about Sam. Sam is the black labrador who lives with us.

"We'll have to put him in a kennel."

"He won't eat, he'll be lonely . . ."

"There's lots of dogs there."

"Sam likes people, he doesn't like dogs."

"Well then let him go out and make it on his own. He's been sponging off us long enough."

This is the crisis in our house, what to do about Sam.

MY ASSIGNMENT is Athens. I've read so much about the political condition there and there's so much that doesn't dovetail, so much that is contradictory, that I must go and see for myself.

"I hear the islands are beautiful — Mikinos particularly."

"Don't make too many plans — I 'm going there to work."

"I promise not to interfere . . ."

So it's off to Athens to see what the colonels have wrought.

More Integration In South Claimed

WASHINKTON (UPI) — HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson says about 90 per cent of all Negro school children in the South are attending integrated schools this fall.

The health, education and welfare secretary said the relative calm in which desegregation took place is "a remarkable achievement and one for which public school systems in the South and the people of the South, both black and white, deserve a great deal of credit."

Richardson made the comments Sunday in a television interview on NBC (Meet the Press).

Accident Victims Robbed At Scene

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A thief reached inside a wrecked auto while accident victims were still inside, grabbed a purse containing $30,000 worth of jewels, and raced away through a crowd of curious onlookers.

Police said the daring theft occurred Sunday near the heart of the Hough area.

Mrs. Clara Meisal, who suffered two broken legs in the accident, told police someone from the crowd opened the door of the car and snatched her purse from beside her. She said jewelry valued at $30,000 was in the purse.

Safest Course In Riot Is Described

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A veteran of many of Berkeley's off-campus disturbances says the safest course in a riot during business hours is to lock the doors, close any vents, move to the back of the store and say a little prayer.

Jack Foley told Northern California Pharmaceutical Association members Sunday that when disturbances break out near his drugstore he first calls the police, then the glazier.

Foley, 60, said his drug store has been victimized five times in recent years with extensive storefront damage. He warned the scene will be duplicated at every campus in the country.

Stereo Stolen

Timothy F. Aurrecoechea, 200 Walnut Street, Apt. E, Petaluma, told police Friday that a stereo, 15 tapes, a speaker and case were stolen from his car Thursday night. Value was set at $285.

Election Pamphlet To Contain All The Facts

When Marin voters receive their sample ballots before the Nov. 3 election, they will get one compact pamphlet explaining all local candidates and local measures instead of a dozen different-colored sheets of paper.

Peter C. Meyer, chief of the county elections department, announced that the county will use the single pamphlet system for the first time in the November election.

The pamphlet will contain names of local candidates and qualification statements, and pros and cons on various local measures, similar to the pamphlet issued by the state to explain statewide measures.

The local pamphlet, the state pamphlet and the polling place card will be the only items included with the sample ballot.

The idea for a single voter pamphlet came from Anne West of San Anselmo, who was a temporary election worker in June.

In past elections, the single pamphlet was not possible because various special districts had different deadlines for submitting material to the election department. A new law, which went into effect on Aug. 6, requires all special districts to conform to the general election law deadlines.

Crusade Drive Opener Is Set

Marin County's United Bay Area Crusade drive opens this week with a volunteer's luncheon Wednesday noon in the officer's club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Principal speaker will be Lawrence E. Hoyt of San Rafael, vice president of the Southern Pacific Railroad and a vice-president of the crudade.

The Screaming Eagles rock group of St. Vincent's School for Boys, led by guitarist Sister Euricha, will perform.

Reservations may be made at the crusade's office at 2144 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

College Calendar Full Of Programs

A lecture, a program of jazz music and travel film will highlight the College of Marin's calendar for the next two weeks.

An illustrated lecture, "Impact of the 20th Century on East Africa" by Prof. John Morrow will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building.

On Saturday, Cal Tjader will present a jazz concert at 8 p.m., in the Fine Arts Building and on Sept. 30, the travel film "The South Pacific and the Orient — Factual and Fanciful" will be shown in the Fine Arts Building.

When children discover a playmate wets the bed—the result can be merciless teasing. And serious psychological problems.

Even the entire family can be affected. The cost and work of taking care of a bed-wetting child can cause friction and irritability among parents. Walter C. Alvarez, M.D., Prof. Emeritus, Mayo Clinic, says: "Bedwetting . . . is hard on the unhappy child and on the mother . . . even if his parents do not scold him, he cannot help feeling that he is a terrible nuisance and a disgrace to the family."

But now bedwetting, when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Safely. Permanently.

Pacific International has ended bedwetting for tens of thousands of children and adults from ages 4 to 57 in the past two decades.

Jane Fonda Puts Up Panther Bail

NEW YORK (UPI)—Actress Jane Fonda posted bail Saturday night for a Black Panther jailed on weapons possession charges.

She said she put up $1,250 in cash and signed for an equal amount, for Zayd Malik Shakur, a deputy minister of information for the New York Panther chapter, because, "In a friend of Mr. Shakur and I know he'll show up for his trial."

The ball, she said, was excessive and "punitive," and American prisons are "dehumanizing, degrading and certainly not therapeutic."

Jobless Rate Expected To Ease Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson says the nation's 5.1 per cent rate of unemployment will ease by December without using government subsidized job programs backed by Democrats.

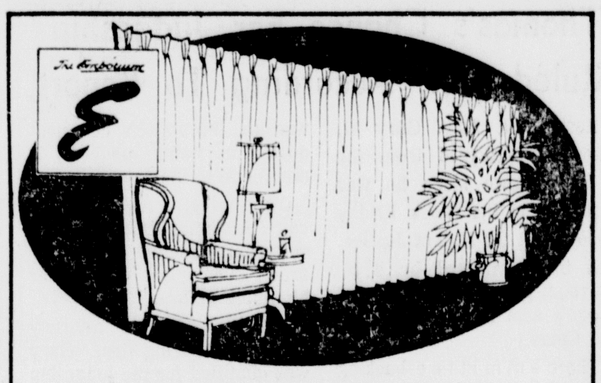

Hodgson estimated about one-third of current unemployment resulted from defense spending cuts rather than a general slump in business. In that connection, he said, the average period of idleness for jobless workers in recent months was eight to nine weeks, while the average in 1958 and 1961 was 17 weeks or longer.

Although there is a great deal of "transitional unemployment," Hodgson said, there also are "areas where there are rather deep and rather substantial unemployment." He said the Labor Department had already set aside $25 million in manpower training fund for the seven most distressed states—California, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Rhode Island, Maine and Michigan—to pay for public service employment and additional job skill training programs.

But Hodgson was wary of proposals for massive government-subsidized public service job programs of the type being advocated by Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., chairman of the senate manpower subcommittee.

"Our concern about some of the initiatives that are being advanced by Senator Nelson and others is this: That they are characterized more by volume than being tailored to the specific needs of specific groups," Hodgson said in an interview Sunday.

He said the administration proposed to use the public service job device as "a kind of halfway house between welfare and the world of real work" and "during periods of aggravated unemployment, but even there it should be done in relatively modest numbers where he would not find ourselves getting back into what might be called the old WPA routine."

With rear section cut away, you see axle as it flexes with road.

"Mercedes-Benz cars have to cope with the roughest roads in Europe. That's why we build our axles this way—not as a rigid, one-piece beam."

EVER make the mistake of taking what you thought was a shortcut?

You chose a road that looked quicker on the map. But you were soon jolted into admitting your error. You had to fight to keep control as your car bottomed and bounced at every rut and bump.

That's because most cars are designed to provide a "boulevard ride." Provided you stay on boulevards and turnpikes.

Articulated rear axle tames rough roads.

Try that same shortcut with a Mercedes-Benz. You'll appreciate the feeling of control when you slam into that first unexpected chuckhole. And you'll notice less pitching and bouncing over bumps and railroad crossings. Even washboard surfaces and cobblestones won't produce that skitterish, you're-about-to-lose-it feeling.

Independent rear suspension

Our secret: An articulated rear axle. A sophisticated and tough combination of shafts and joints that allows each rear wheel to move up and down independently of the other. Just as the front wheels do. To give you a smooth ride without compromising road-holding.

But the advantages of independent rear suspension aren't limited to rough going. On a turnpike the benefits are more subtle, but perhaps even more important.

Tracks like an arrow

When you aim a Mercedes-Benz down an expressway, you'll find it tracks like an arrow, without those tiny steering corrections you used to make for "road wander."

Slap it over tar strips. The suspension soaks them up with firm control. Not four or five reverberations.

And if you've ever been lulled by high-speed expressway driving into taking an exit just a bit too fast, you'll appreciate the adhesive cornering power of Mercedes-Benz' independent suspension. It gives you an extra margin of control that somehow keeps your palms a little drier and your brake foot a little less itchy.

Disc brakes on all four wheels

Automotive editors and engineers agree that disc brakes are superior to common drum brakes. So when it comes to brakes, our philosophy is simple. Use disc brakes. Not just on the front wheels. Not as optional extras. Use them on all four wheels. Offer no options.

The four disc brakes on a Mercedes-Benz will help you stop surer, smoother and reduce the chances of fade and lockup.

How to judge a car

Before you judge the character of a car, you should view it as a totality. Somewhat the way you judge the character of a person. So here are a few more points to help you judge a Mercedes-Benz.

1. Our overhead camshaft engines are precisely machined, balanced and bench tested to withstand the rigors of Germany's Autobahns. At American speed limits, a Mercedes-Benz is literally loafing.

2. Subtle characteristics of tires have profound effects on the overall performance of a car. Tires used on our cars are tuned to the movements of our suspension, so they'll work as integral parts of the total system.

3. All the engineering and automotive theory in the world isn't going to build a great car. The actual building is up to the craftsmen in the factory.

That's why we use skilled cabinetmakers to craft and fit the wood trim. Former dressmakers to sew the upholstery. And an assembly line that pokes along, always willing to switch off an imperfect car when one of our 2,000 or so inspectors says, "No that's not good enough."

78 YEARS ON BELVEDERE

A Conservation's Hope For The Bay

By PAT BALMES

"I hope to live to see the sea otter come back into our Bay," says Mrs. Harry B. Allen, conservationist and pioneer citizen of Belvedere. The life-time resident remembers that her mother's uncle, Edward Howard, a sea captain in the mid-nineteenth century, visited their home on Belvedere's shore facing Angel Island.

"I could hardly sail into the Bay because of the otter, sea birds, ducks, whales, porpoises and sealions in the water. The sea was black with them!" he wrote in his autobiography.

"He taught me to make my first sea ditty (seaman's bag)" remembers the 78-year-old member of Friends of the Sea Otter. The Russians had built Fort Ross for the fur trade, but they sold it before the Gold Rush because there was no more fur, she said. As the supply began to run out, the Spanish wouldn't allow the Russians to hunt in San Francisco Bay. The Russians then sent Aleuts from the Aleutian Islands in kayaks into the bay to club the sealions and otters.

Winifred Allen was made an honorary member of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society earlier this ear for her contribution to the community and to the preservation of local history and conservation.

SATURDAY WAS Winifred Bridge Allen Day in Belvedere. Her neighbors and friends placed a bronze plaque on a beach at Belvedere Point inscribed: "Winifred Bridge Allen from her friends and neighbors with loving appreciation for her life-long work in preserving the special beauty and natural charm of Belvedere."

After dedication of the plaque, the petite lady was picked up by the Belvedere Fire truck and driven to Belvedere Community Park to be honored at a picnic. Justice Richard Sims was master of ceremonies. Organization of the day, proclaimed by May or Edwin J. Drechsel, was done by Mmes. Alexis Becker, Lucile Boole, Russell Keil, Wallace Scott, Edwin Weed and Mr. Thomas Price.

In 1885 at the time of their engagement, Mrs. Allen's mother and father and their brothers and sisters came to Belvedere to row their large boat around Belvedere Island and to Angel Island for picnics. There were no people living on the island then, according to the historian. "They vowed they'd never live elsewhere, and they never did!"

In 1890 the family home was built on the Belvedere shore and Winifred was brought there as an infant in 1893. Her life has been spent in three neighboring houses on Golden Gate Avenue. In 1914 she was married in the garden of the house her father built in 1905. Next door is her present home, built in 1905, where she lived with her late husband Harry B. Allen, owner of the Belvedere Land Company. They moved there in 1934.

"It is wonderful to look down on the house near the beach all lit up at night and remember my own childhood there. And it's wonderful to have some of my nine grand children come and ask 'Can I be married in your garden, Grandma?'" says Winifred Allen.

REMEMBERING HER Belvedere childhood, Mrs. Allen says, "We felt proud to be island children." She remembers the time "before the fire, the earthquake of 1906, when Belvedere Island families spent their winter months at hotels in San Francisco, but came over to sail on weekends. We continued to attend the two-classroom school, commuting every day on the ferry from San Francisco. Our teacher traveled on that ferry and so did the Chinese vegetable man, who was the only source of vegetables for the islanders at that time. After the San Francisco hotels burned in 1906, those Belvedere families lived on the island year-round.

All the homes were on the east side of Belvedere then, according to Mrs. Allan. "There were no roads on the west side until Harry put them in in 1934. The Nights in Vienna, light fiestas, were a part of old Belvedere that was very beautiful; the Japanese lanterns on the canoes."

Another childhood memory is the military chapel bells ringing across the Bay on Sunday from Angel Island. Whenever the organist was absent the commandant would phone Mrs. Bridge to ask her, "Our organist has missed the boat. If I sent a boat over to your wharf, would you come and play our organ for us?" While working on making Angel Island a State Park, Mrs. Allen discovered that bell in a storehouse. The state plans to reinstate it in the chapel, according to Winifred.

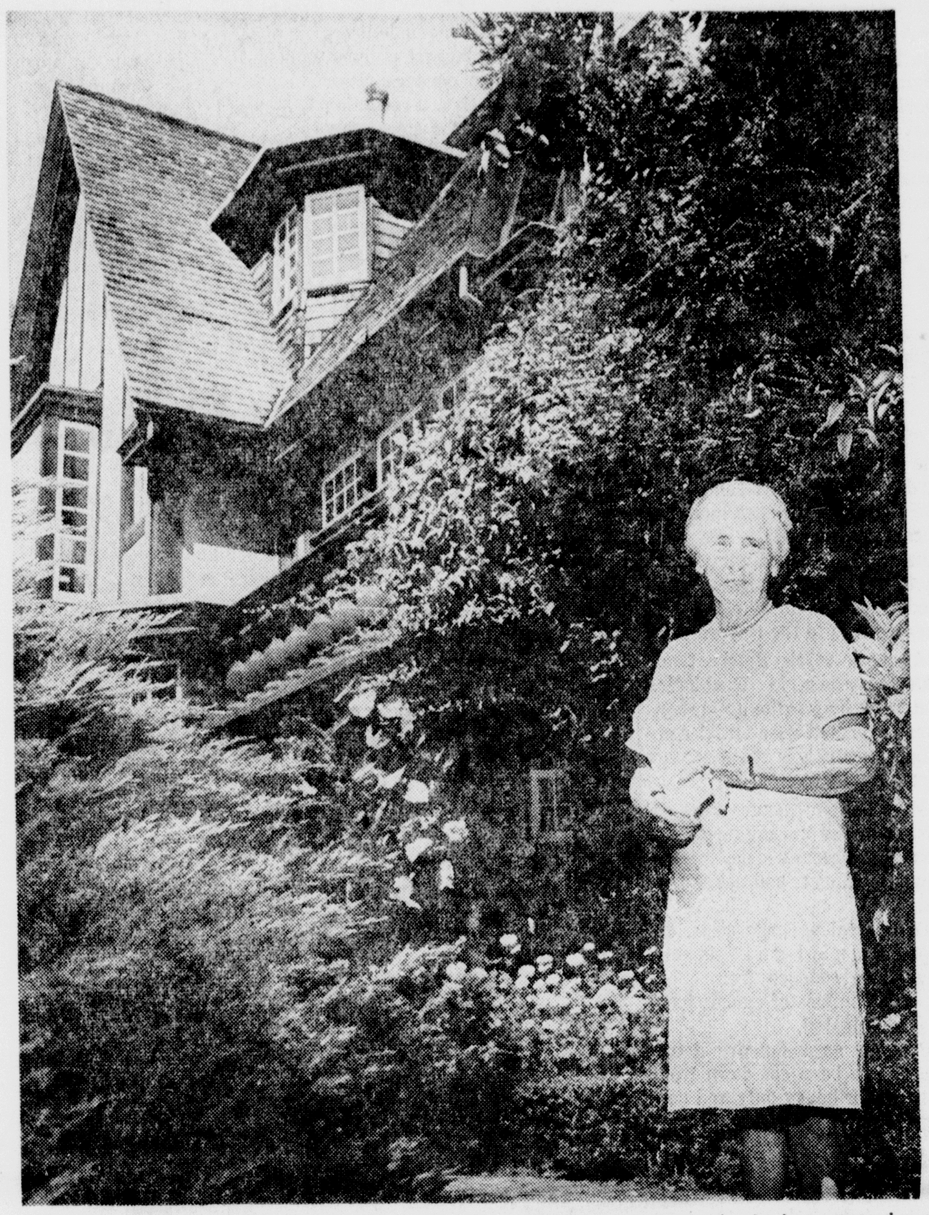

"And my mother was a worker for Sunny Hills, a lovely heritage to follow. I remember when the Grape Festival was at Mrs. Kent's home in Kentfield. She grew the grapes on her property," says the lady who founded and was the first president of the Belvedere Sunny Hills Guild.

Winifred remembers the four-masted cod fishing ships that moored on the west shore of Belvedere when she was a child. The codfishery was the first structure on Angel Island. It later burned. "The vessels fished in the Bering Sea and returned in autumn. I remember the great excitement watching them unload. The 200 men then set to work drying cod on racks in Belvedere's sunshine. The industry left and Harry later bought the property. They redecorated the fishermen's bunkhouses and used them for guest houses," she said.

EXPRESSING HER inherited love for the sea Mrs. Allen says, "When you are on a boat, you are on your own special island. You learn to tie the right knot in the right place. Then the safety of the boat is assured. That's what growing up with your feet in the water teaches. The whole family raced to Honolulu in 1934. Our two-masted ketch, the 62-foot Marilen was another island to us."

Speaking of the recent population explosion, Mrs. Allen says, "Green belts are so important to people." She is an active member of People for Open Space.

An original member of the Marin Garden Club, she has worked with the Marin Conservation League since it was founded by the Garden Club in 1934, and has also given her time to fund raising for the Audubon Society to acquire land around the Canyon Ranch.

MRS.' HARRY B. Allen of Belvedere enjoys her view of Angel Island from the hillside on Golden Gate Avenue where she has lived for 78 years. Saturday Belvedere citizens celebrated Winifred Bridge Allen Day with the dedication of a plaque and a community picnic in recognition of "her unstinting and unselfish dedication of her time to community betterment and civic improvement," in the words of a proclamation of the day by Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel. (Independent-Journal photo)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She Worked, He Went To School Now They've 'Nothing In Common'

DEAR HELEN:

The understanding was that for the first four years of our marriage, I'd work to put my husband through college. Then it would be my turn, and I could either go to school or have a family — or perhaps both, once he got started in his career.

Those four years w e r e n ' t easy. We never went out — together, that is. Jim spent his evenings at the library, but I'm beginning to wonder now if he told the truth. I did hard work in a factory because it paid more than office jobs. I think he was ashamed of that.

Well, Jim went from college into a big company as a management trainee, and he's been going up ever since. Last night I mentioned our agreement and asked if it wasn't my turn now, but I'd rather have a baby than more education.

The blow fell. Jim said he'd been thinking for a long time that we weren't suited to each other, and a friendly divorce would solve everything. After all, what do a factory worker and a business executive have in common?

Helen, looking back, I can see so many things I blanked out before. He chose me as a meal ticket, a good plodding peasant who would put him through college, then accept the fact that her job was done, and quietly leave. I was always more of a servant than a wife . . . and I idolized him.

I'm leaving, of course. I just took time out from packing to write this letter. I don't want to be bitter, but don't you think I deserve something for those five years? In the divorce settlement, couldn't I ask for compensation? Not alimony — all I want back is my invested money, and maybe wages for my housekeeping. — BAD BARGAIN

DEAR B.B.:

Most certainly you deserve the return of your "investment money" plus back wages, and a good lawyer will include this in the settlement. Normally I don't favor alimony for young, childless women, but under these circumstances, you're entitled. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

It's such a simple thing, and yet it might prevent many crimes. Burglers and other law breakers operate usually in the dark. So if we eliminated complete d a r k n e s s by everyone leaving on their porch lights at night, many thiefs, etc. just wouldn't happen.

Residential s t r e e t s, unless they have city lighting and many suburbs don't) are frighteningly dark. It costs only a penny or two a night to leave one more light burning — small outlay indeed to help insure your family's safety.

I hope you'll assist in our c a m p a i g n to — LET THE LIGHT SHINE ON.

DEAR LTLSO:

Certainly will!

Porch lights should be left burning even in street-lit areas . . . the cheapest insurance you can buy these days. H.

DEAR HELEN:

The woman who was fired (although she had seniority and was a more than satisfactory worker) because she had to give her place up to a man, should write to the National Headquarters of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc., 2012 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C., 20036. BPWs have long worked for equality and women's rights. They'll go to bat for her! — BPW OF HANFORD, CALIF.

DEAR HELEN:

It is likely that the mill where the "fired woman" works comes under the Federal Civil Rights Act provision forbidding sex discrimination in employment. She should contact the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, 1800 G Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20506, and complain about her employer. If she needs a lawyer, the Civil Liberties Union or a local women's rights group may help. She shouldn't just take her lay-off lying down. A legal fight may bring her financial reparation, and could easily stop future sex discrimination at her mill. She owes it to her fellow female workers. — A.M.B.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

IN THE MIDST of the old fashioned garden she planted in front of her little cottage home in San Rafael is Lillie Payntar who is 100 years old today. Gardening is her first love and Mrs. Payntar is sorry that in the past year or so she hasn't been able to do the heavy gardening. (Independent-Journal photo)

Just Go Day By Day And Pretty Soon You're 100

Living a century is easy, according to Lillie Paytnar who is 100 years old today.

"You go from day to day and pretty soon you're 100," she said. Long life is a family trait. Her sister, Alice Greenwood, who lives in Napa is 94 and she had another sister who lived to 102. "She hadn't been active the last year or so. Otherwise she was active in her mind," Mrs. Paytnar said.

Born in Vallejo in 1870 Mrs. Payntar's father was employed in the ship yards where later her husband also worked. The Payntars moved to Fort Bragg where her husband worked in the lumber mills and they enjoyed the social life of a small town. She especially remembers the beaches of M e n d o c i n o County. "I like outdoor life pretty well so I really enjoyed that," she said.

Sitting on the shady flower-decked patio of the San Rafael home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E.K. Paynter, Lillie Payntar said her life now consists of a little gardening and watching some television. "What I really liked best and still like is gardening and rug making. That was hard to give up. I just fuss around now, clip some blossoms here and there."

She lives in a small house separated from her son's by a large old fashioned garden she planted. She is especially proud of several fushia baskets and many roses.

Mrs. Payntar's daughter Mrs. William Brown of San Rafael will attend the family birthday dinner. Mrs. E.K. Payntar will also host a neighborhood party in honor of her mother-in-law.

SMART SHOPPER

Reduction In Package Sizes And More Uniform Weight Noticeable

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Would you believe that shopping confusion is being reduced at the supermarket?

You may not notice it yet, but two packaging changes have been taking place rather quietly during the past two years under the gentle prodding of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

They are a reduction in the number of package sizes and a switch from fractional quantities toward more uniform net quantities. In most cases, this means even-numbered ounces and multiples of two, four and eight ounces so that value comparisons can be made more easily.

A recent release from the Department's National Bureau of Standards lists 38 product categories where package quantities have been made more uniform. The list includes 31 categories where the number of package sizes have been reduced.

This is not the first listing by the Department of Commerce. And it carries no guarantee that the changes have been made according to schedule. Previous surveys have found that manufacturers have not met promised schedules despite commitments made to the Government.

A check of the International Safeway store in Washington last week by Martha Jaffe, however, indicated substantial compliance by nearly all manufacturers on the list.

Most notable changes have occurred in the packaging of dry breakfast cereals, dry detergents, toothpaste and paper towels.

Dry cereal package sizes, except for m u l t i - u n i t packets, have been reduced from 33 to 16, and fractions of ounces have been eliminated.

Package sizes for dry detergents have been cut down from 22 to six for heavy duty and normal density products but not premium packs. This represents some progress even though the package sizes are not easily comparable: 7, 20, 49, 84 and 257 ounces.

Toothpaste manufacturers have made the biggest percentage reduction in package sizes, from 57 to only five, a reduction of 91 percent. At the store, only four sizes were found: 1.75, 3.25, 5.00 and 6.75 ounces.

Paper towels are now sold in eight, rather than 33, package sizes, an improvement of 76 percent.

Many of the package changes are far less significant. For example, at the cookie and cracker aisle, any fractions are still allowed for packages of four ounces or less. From 4 to 8 ounces, one-fourth ounce increments are accepted, and from 8 to 16-ounce packages, one-half ounce increments are okay. For packages over 16 ounces, one-ounce increments are approved. The net benefit is merely a reduction from 73 to 56 sizes ,still a confusing variety.

To make matters worse, some manufacturers are still marketing packages in non-approved sizes two years after the scheduled change-over. Three brands of instant coffee were found in odd-ounce quantities although e v e n - o u n c e packages were promised by February 6, 1968.

Some 24 products are involved in the setting of voluntary packaging s t a n d a r d s, a time consuming process undertaken in conjunction with the Department of Commerce.

Progress is slow, but improvements are becoming noticeable at the store.

ON THE AGENDA

A Return Of 'Age Of Elegance' At Marin YWCA Benefit Wednesday

Elizabeth Phillips of Sausalito will present a preview of "The Age of Elegance" for the benefit of the MARIN YWCA, Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the music room at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

Selected garments, ball gowns to bathing suits, from the collection of Fashion Collectors, Ltd., will be shown including styles from the years 1860 through 1918. Gowns and accessories will be from the Civil War period and the Gay Nineties era through the turn of the century.

The costumes, according to Mrs. Phillips, are of original material, restored to like-new condition and were actually worn in the West. Accessories, from the bird on her hat to the high button shoes on her feet, are completely authentic down to the smallest detail.

The commentary which accompanies the presentation adds the humor and historic information which make Mrs. Phillips' appearance a theatrical performance done in "fashion-show" form.

A coffee hour will follow the preview. Reservations may be made through the Marin YWCA.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. D.H. Harrield at Hamilton.

THE 16th annual Fashion Spectacular, sponsored by State of Israel Bonds Women's Division, will be held Thursday at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

The fashion show and a skit, "Israel in Bloom," will be presented both at a luncheon and a dinner.

Marin County chairmen are Mmes. Richard Harris of San Anselmo and Bernard Blumberg of Greenbrae, who are also reservations chairmen.

THE LAWYERS' Wives of Marin will hold its annual membership tea Wednesday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the San Rafael home of Mrs. N. Charles Brusatori.

Chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Postel of Ross, will be assisted by Mrs. James Kennedy of San Rafael.

SAUSALITO NURSERY School will hold a flea market Oct. 4 at Central School in Sausalito from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., according to Mrs. Walter Chapman of Sausalito, chairman. For information and booth reservations call the nursery school or Mrs. Chapman.

NEW OFFICERS of the Huffs 'N Puffs Square Dance Club are Garry-Winfey, president, Joe Burkhardt, vice president; Mrs. Janice Elsishans, secretary; and Mrs. Lucy Alexander, treasurer. Delegate to the Northern California Square Dancers' Association is Jack Neiger.

The club sponsors a public beginners course in square dancing Fridays at Hoffman School in Terra Linda.

MC KINLEY School Parent-Teacher Association will have a pot luck supper followed by a visit to classrooms at the school in Petaluma Wednesday at 6 p.m.

A NEW activity, the Fun and Travel Group of the Officers Wives Club at Hamilton Air Force Base will tour two San Francisco churches tomorrow.

The bus tour will leave the non-commissioned Officers Academy Parade Ground at 9:45 a.m. and return to the base at 3 p.m.

Grace Cathedral and Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church will be visited, and a luncheon at Jo Jung's Restaurant in Chinatown will follow.

COLLEGE DEGREE AT 53

Alice Thomas Shares Her Life With Love, Poetry, Helpfulness

By C. P. McCARTHY

Alice Thomas lives outside Santa Rosa in a large house with a bit of land around it.

She shares the house and land with: her husband, four mental patients, a bird, baby goat, donkey, two ponies, a pig, some ducks and chickens, a raccoon, three dogs and six or seven cats.

She is a native of Kansas, 53 years old and received a degree in psychology in June from Sonoma State College.

She is a former resident of Sausalito and has just published a collection of poems in a paperback book entitled "To You, From Me, With Love."

The many-faceted woman sat in the kitchen of her home the other day and talked about herself.

She said she was tricked into coming to California in 1937 by a sister who had moved west to San Francisco earlier, decided she was lonely, wired Mrs. Thomas that she was very ill and asked Mrs. Thomas to come west to care for her children.

When Mrs. Thomas got out here and found her sister wasn't ill at all, she planned on returning to Kansas, but instead, met and married Anthony Thomas of Sausalito before the year was out.

The couple operated a small moving and hauling business and raised two daughters in Sausalito before moving to a ranch near Occidental in 1954.

After eight years and four foster children on the ranch, they moved to their present home at 598 Oasis Drive in the rural area outside Santa Rosa.

The four mental patients, ranging in age from 43 to 69, live at the Thomas home as part of a state-funded family care program aimed at deinstitutionalizing mental care.

The four men at the Thomas home had spent an average of 30 years each in mental institutions before joining the Thomas "family," she said.

When she got into the program, she said, she decided she didn't know enough about people so she enrolled as a fulltime student at Santa Rosa Junior College.

After picking up an Associate of Arts Degree there, she entered Sonoma State and twice made the dean's list before getting her Bachelor's degree in June.

It was through the urging of students and faculty at Sonoma state, she said, that she decided to publish the collection of poems, written over a 30-year period.

It cost her $2,300 to have the book published, but "it's positive proof that dreams really do come true," she said.

Although the book is not yet sold in stores, but available only at the Newman Center at Sonoma State or through Mrs. Thomas, "mostly because it's fun," 300 copies have been sold.

"The greatest response has been from the young people," she said. "It turns them on. Is that how you say it?"

San Quentin Inmates To Show Art Works

More than 2,500 works of art by prison inmates will be on sale from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at the 16th annual San Quentin Art Show.

For the first time, the show will honor Bank of America credit cards, said Associate Warden James W. L. Park. The credit cards and cash are all that will be accepted, no personal checks, he said.

Prison officials expect at least as many people to attend as the 18,000 who were there last year. The only clothes not acceptable are blue denims, the standard prison garb.

"We don't want to mix up our temporary guests with our permanent ones," he said.

Art works include all types of paintings, leather work, wood carvings and jewelry, Park said.

The inmates receive 75 per cent of revenue from paintings and 90 per cent from such things as wood carvings. The difference is that it may cost an inmate only about $5 for the materials for a painting, but up to 50 per cent of the cost of some other are work for the materials.

The remaining money goes into the Inmate Welfare Fund, to help the hobby program. The State does not receive any of the money, according to Park.

Prize winning works of art in all categories will be auctioned starting at 2 p.m. by radio personality, Carter B. Smith.

Woman Is Injured In Two-Car Accident

Karen Adel Nelson, 25, of 530 D. Street, San Rafael, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for a neck sprain sustained at about 4 p.m. in a two-car accident in Larkspur.

Police said today Mrs. Nelson and her husband, Donald, were traveling south on Magnolia Avenue when heavy traffic at the Alexander Avenue intersection forced Nelson to stop. Moments later his car was struck by a second southbound vehicle driven by Artemio Cortes Cuzman, 28, of March Road, Larkspur. There was no other injury.

Cleveland Musicians Reject Offer

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Insisting on a $70 weekly raise over a three year contract, striking Cleveland Orchestra musicians have overwhelmingly rejected for the third time an offer of a $25 increase.

Following the 77-18 vote Sunday, Anthony Granata, president of Musicians Union Local 4, said both sides were far apart on issues and the next move is up to management.

Granata said the two week strike now threatens to cancel the official opening of the concert season Thursday. The strike already killed a special preseason Beethoven Concert Friday, in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the composer's birth.

The only new clause in the rejected proposal was an offer to pay the musicians for one week of their strike.

Besides the $70 increase in their $225 minimum weekly pay, the musicians seek a voice in the selection of a new conductor to replace the late George Szell, and a say in the musical direction of the orchestra.

Michael Maxwell, general manager of the orchestra, said: "There seems to be little point in further negotiations, because the musicians demands' would add $600,000 to the orchestra's deficit over three years."

Maxwell said the orchestra management is "not in a position to support that kind of an increase."

New Law To Halt Disrupted Trials

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation that will allow a trial to continue in a felony case if the defendant is removed from the court because of disorderly and disruptive behavior has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill, by Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, "will prevent the accused from deliberately thwarting the system of justice by actions that disrupt the court and demonstrate contempt for our judicial process," the governor said.

Under existing law, he said, courts have had no alternative but to declare a mistrial when such disruptions occurred.

Deputies said the caller reportedly had the voice of a young, male teen-ager. No bomb was found.

Ellington Work Highlights Monterey's Jazz Festival

MONTEREY (UPI) — The 13th annual Monterey Jazz Festival apparently brought good luck, especially for a fine array of jazz greats and a wildly applauding sold out audience.

The five-concert festival concentrated on traditional jazz music this year as musicians and fans huddled in an open air arena while a cold wind blew off the foggy Pacific.

A highlight of the weekend of jazz was the world premiere of Duke Ellington's new work, "Afro Eurasian Eclipse," a 90-minute concert featuring soloists Woody Herman, Norris Turney and Russell Procope.

The Friday night opening concert also featured the Modern Jazz Quartet, the Tim Weisbert Quintet and the Alan Copeland Singers.

The Friday and also Saturday concerts concentrated on the blues and the performances left the audience and critics singing.

The singers included Big Joe Turner and Jimmy Rushing—"roughly 100 per cent of the great Kansas City male blues shouters still practicing," Wasserman said.

Others included Eddie "Cleanhead" Vinson, Ivory Joe Hunter, Roy Milton, Johnny Otis, Pee Wee Crayton, Roy Brown, Little Esther Phillips, Margie Evans and Delmar "Mighty Mouth" Evans.

Otis, master of ceremonies who also played piano, vibes and drums, happily told the audience:

"Some of these men haven't worked in ten years, and they're where the music called rock came from."

Frank Sinatra Denies Vengeance Threat To Las Vegas Operator

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Frank Sinatra, responding to charges he threatened a Las Vegas casino operator with vengeance by "the mob," said today, "I don't make threats and I'm not running for re-election."

The singer has maintained silence since the altercation at Caesars Palace casino Sept. 6 in which manager Sandford Waterman pulled a gun on him.

In an interview with United Press Internoaional, Sinatra said, "As for the remarks attributed to me relative to the mob, they're strictly out of a comic strip."

Las Vegas authorities booked Waterman for assault with a deadly weapon, then dropped the charges. Sinatra had been accused of starting a ruckus when he was refused credit at the casino and a request that stakes be raised from $8,000 to $16,000 at the baccarat table.

The singer also was accused of grabbing Waterman by the throat.

Both George Franklin, Clark County, Nev., district Attorney, and Sheriff Frank Lamb expressed interest in talking with Sinatra on his return to Las Vegas.

"If Sinatra comes back to town, he's coming downtown to get a work card, and if he gives me any trouble he's going to jail ... he's through picking on little people in this town," Lamb said.

"One remark he supposedly made to Waterman as he was going out the door was, "the mob will take care of you.' Now I'd like to have a little talk with Sinatra," Franklin said.

Both Lamb and Franklin seek re-election.

In defending himself, Sinatra spoke up for the first time in his desert home here:

"I wasn't in the baccarat game. There was no such argument about credit or how much I was going to play. As a matter of fact I just sat down at a blackjack table and hadn't even placed a bet since the dealer was shuffling the cards.

"At that point, Waterman came over and said to the dealer: "Don't deal to this man.' I just got up and said: "'Put your name on the marquee and I'll come to see what kind of business you do,' and I walked away. That was all that was said."

John Wayne, who is not a close friend of the singer, thought it was impossible for Sinatra to grab anyone by the throat.

"I saw Frank a couple of days before the incident," Wayne said. "His hand was so sore he could hardly move it."

Sinatra underwent surgery on his right hand for a nerve condition last month.

"There were many witnesses," Sinatra said. "Onlookers have come forward and offered to go before any gathering and explain exactly what happened. The district attorney also knows that fact.

"I have been informed that at that time Waterman did not have the pistol, but went to the cashier's cage to get one. It was later, after I had gone to my room and just prior to my leaving the hotel, when I met waterman in the lobby and he pulled the gun.

"As for his injuries, I never touched him.

"There were a lot of people standing around and when they saw the gun they reacted. He's lucky he wasn't seriously hurt."

Sinatra did not say whether he planned to return to Caesars Palace to fulfill his contract. His friends seriously doubt it.

Rohnert Park Store Robbed By Armed Man

A goateed gunman robbed the 7-11 Store in Rohnert Park Friday night, escaping with an undisclosed amount of cash.

Brian Peaty, 40, store manager, told police that the man entered the store at 6:45 p.m., pointed a blue, four-inch revolver at him and said, "Give me everything in your till or I'll blow your head off."

Peaty said he emptied the register and was told to lie on the floor. He described the man as being in his 40's with dark brown hair, five feet, 11 inches tall and weighing 175 pounds.

Rohnert Park police chief Robert Dennett said a man of the same description is also being sought in connection with a San Rafael robbery.

ONE WORLD FAMILY

Commune Faces Displacement

By GEORGE NEVIN

(First of Two Articles)

"Love is service done."

These few words, carved into a plaque hanging in the Mustard Seed restaurant in the Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center, summarize the philosophy of the group that operates the restaurant.

So why, then, are both the City of Larkspur and the management of the shopping center doing their best to displace this group, a commune of young people called the One World Family?

The question is simple, but the answer is not. The commune's founder, 55-year-old Allen Noonan, thinks he knows why, though.

"We represent the new age movement. A tidal wave is sweeping over the world, changing it. The revolution that's coming is going to break the economic system, and then all things will be held in common."

Because the One World Family represents a way of life that ultimately will spell the end of capitalism, Noonan believes, the city of Larkspur and the shopping center management is trying to expel the family from the restaurant.

But James Webb, manager of the shopping center, said that Town and Country Village, Inc., the Palo Alto firm that operates the shopping center, has no quarrel with the Mustard Seed.

"Our difficulties are with Simon Furman, who holds the lease on the restaurant," Webb said. The lease specifies that he may not sublease without approval of the firm's board of directors, and Webb said that Furman brought the Mustard Seed in without the board's permission.

In addition, Webb said, Furman owes the shopping center considerable back rent, which the One World Family paid but which Furman did not turn over to Webb. As a result, the Family for two months has been paying rent directly to the center and not to Furman.

Although Webb said he cannot speak for the board of directors, he feels that the Mustard Seed would have no trouble obtaining a lease if Furman did not presently hold one on the restaurant building. "We can't deal with the Mustard Seed Family as long as Furman holds the lease," Webb said.

The net effect is the same, however — the One World Family, which has been operating the Mustard Seed at a profit when other restaurants were forced out of business at the same location, may not be able to continue at Strawberry.

In Larkspur, the situation is at the same time similar and different — similar in that the city wants the commune out, yet for different reasons.

The One World Family moved into a 12-bedroom Victorian style house on Hawthorne Avenue in the late summer of 1969. One month later, the Larkspur City Council amended its zoning ordinance to prohibit more than five persons unrelated by blood or marriage from living together in one house.

The ordinance, according to City Mgr. Kent Bathurst, was aimed at "Several groups of persons" and not only at the One World Family.

Specifically, he said, the council was concerned about potentially poor sanitary conditions, parking problems and fire hazards in old buildings.

But the Family, which had just moved from Berkeley after its Mustard Seed restaurant there was forced out of business, was determined not to be displaced again.

An attorney, Stephen H. Kaufmann, was hired, and a suit was filed in Marin Superior Court asking that the ordinance be declared unconstitutional.

"This is a disguised roust ordinance, an attempt not to regulate the use but the users," Kaufmann said. "They object to the nature of the occupants rather than the number of them."

As an example of what he feels is the absurdity of the ordinance, Kaufmann said a family of five couldn't have a live-in-guest, since the total exceeds the ordinance and there is an unrelated person in the group.

After nearly a year of litigation, the case is before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Superior Court. Larkspuh City Atty. Robert W. Elliott said the judge may rule soon on the constitutiinality and whether the family should have exhausted administrative remedies before filing suit.

"They never applied for a variance," Elliott said. "They should have asked the planning commission and the city council for one. Only after one is refused should they file suit."

Five other Marin County cities have ordinances prohibiting the occupancy of a single home by five or more unrelated persons. They are Belvedere, Corte Madera, Fairfax, San Anselmo and San Rafael.

Moreover, the county of Marin and the City of Mill Valley are considering such an ordinance.

Noonan's encounters with authorities don't stop there. In 1968 he was convicted on several counts of selling marijuana and peyote and he was recently sentenced to state prison, but was released on bail pending his appeal. He was convicted after the court ruled religion an unacceptable defense.

Meanwhile, life goes on at the One World Family House in Larkspur, which commune members call the "Children's House" because most of the commune's children are kept there. The other house, in Berkeley, is a school, called the university of the universe.

Although the Larkspur population is constantly changing, about 20 adults and eight children usually reside in the 12-bedroom house. About 25 live in Berkeley, primarily to run the Family's restaurant and bakery there.

1,000 Marinites Turn Out For 'Walk Against Hunger'

Ranging from a high school track squad to a 53-year-old hiker, Marinites turned out 1,000-strong yesterday for a 20-mile "Walk Against Hunger."

Their efforts raised between $20,000 and $30,000 for three organizations battling hunger in the U.S. and in South Korea, according to Colleen Fitzhenry of Kentfield, one of the walk's organizers.

Each hiker was sponsored by organizations and private donors pledged to give a certain amount for each mile completed. Only about a fourth of the hikers gave up before the full 20-mile stroll. The average hiker raised $1 per mile.

Mrs. Leonard Chapman of 126 Morningside Drive, Corte Madera, still had the strength left to write a letter to the I-J, reporting that she and her husband felt as if they had logs instead of legs after walking 20 miles so radio station KSFO would donate $100 to the cause.

Their main impression, she said, was "the proud feelings we have for all the young people who cared enought to make such an effort for children all over the world they didn't even know. . . . So I say 'hurray' for these young people . ."

Marin Catholic High School student Mary Nelson of San Rafael had the most sponsors — 70 — on her pledge card, and Redwood High School student Dorte Rasmussen of Tiburon earned the most money for the cause, at a pledged rate of $16.48 per mile.

The walk's youngest participant was Matthew Thomas of San Anselmo. Just turned 8 years old, he trudged 13 miles, Mrs. Fitzhenry said. Senior walker was Thomas Stanton Jr., 58, of Belvedere.

Redwood High's cross country team sped across the finish line first. After starting at 7:30 a.m., the runners made the circuit by 10:11 to 10:18 a.m. Most walkers took about seven hours. The first walker across the line was Mark Shepard, 17, a Sir Francis Drake High student, at 11:20 a.m.

The first girl to finish the course at 12:04 p.m., was Cindi Iverson, 13, a student at San Rafael's Davidson Junior High School.

Drake High students led the walk numerically, with 175 participants. Redwood High has 108, Novato a dozen, College of Marin five and San Francisco State two walkers, Mrs. Fitzhenry noted.

Pounding the pavement for the cause were competing state Senate candidates Peter H. Behr and Michael R. Peevey.

The average walker was 15 years old, and girls were in the majority, Mrs. Fitzhenry noted.

She said the walk was a tuneup for a nationwide walk on May 2, 1971, and a world wide march against hunger next May 1, 2 and 3.

Funds raised by yesterday's walk will be shared among the Marin Economic Freedom Council, the American Freedom from Hunger Foundation and the South Korean campaign of Meals for Millions.

Hikers were to return their pledge cards and funds collected to the Crocker Citizens Bank in San Anselmo, Mrs. Fitzhenry said.

Juvenile Hall Escapee Arrested At Residence

A Juvenile Hall escapee, free for about two months, was arrested today at the home of a friend by San Anselmo Police.

Officers said they sighted Scott R. Shepard, 17, of Sleepy Hollow, yesterday at 11 p.m. on Red Hill Avenue near the Hub intersection in a vehicle driven by Philip S. Bundschu, 19, of 421 The Alameda, San Anselmo.

The Bundschu auto traveled into San Rafael where officers stopped it at 530 D Street. When approached Shepard fled on foot and Bundschu was arrested on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Early today, San Anselmo police received a phone call that Shephard was at the Burschu residence, where he was arrested.

Shepard escaped July 14 from the senior boys unit at the hall by braking down the back door.

Officers said they were unsure whether he would be returned to the hall or sent to the juvenile cell at the county jail. Officers said they were awaiting a decision fom Judge Samuel W. Gardiner because the youth has excaped from the hall several times before.

Davy Picked

CAMDEN, N.J. (UPI) — Frontiersman Davy Crokett, then a congressman from Kentucky, stopped at the Ferry Hotel here in 1834 while en route from Washington to Boston and shot a silver dollar at 40 feet with his rifle for the benefit of townspeople who had given him a banquet. While he did so, someone picked his pocket of $160.

Belvedere Sets Paper Collections

Belvedere City crews will collect securely bundled newspapers on Thursdays in October in an experiment to determine if the demand is sufficient to warrant service.

If the need is established, regualr service will be held on the second and fourth Thursday of each month, according to Sally Mathews, chairman of the newly formed Belvedere Committee for the Environment.

The committee is working out details for the recycling of other materials such as glass and cans, she said. Future projects will include a community mulch heap, curtailment of pesticide spraying, exposure of visual and actual pollution, advice on consumer habits and recommendations on support of needed state and federal legislation about th environment.

Persons interested in helpin the committee may attend i meetings, held the second an fourth Tuesday of each mon at the Belvedere Commun. Center, Mrs. Mathews said.

Nine Are Injured During Weekend In Six Accidents On Marin Roads

Nine persons were injured in six accidents in Marin this weekend, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Patricia Quink, 29, of San Francisco, a passenger in a car driven by Don A. Robertson, 23, also of San Francisco, was treated Saturday at Marin General Hospital for a cut knee and broken foot. Her 4-year-old son, James, was treated at the hospital for a nosebleed and Robertson for facial scrapes and a sprained shoulder.

Officers said the accident occurred about 7:20 p.m. as Robertson was rounding a curve, westbound on North San Pedro Road. The driver told the highway patrol he swerved to avoid a car which came over the center line and crashed into a utility pole.

In a Saturday crash at 4:15 p.m., Margaret Hilton, 7, of Residence 3, San Quentin, suffered a bruised scalp when her bicycle, parked behind a car on Main Street in the prison was struck by a car driven by Theodore C. Zink, 31, of Box 163, San Quentin.

After another Saturday accident, at 6:30 p.m., Lawrence A. Schoefield, 22, of 2 Hillcrest Court, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scrapes and bruises of the back and ankle. Officers said Schofield was injured when his car hit a bump on the Lucas Valley Road, as he was rounding a curve, and left the highway.

Richard A. Moghadam, 25, of 215 Bayview Street, San Rafael, was treated Saturday at the hospital after his motorcycle, westbound on the Bolinas Road west of the Meadow Club, went off the road about noon and turned over.

Two Novato boys were hurt Saturday about 9:20 when their car, eastbound on Novato Boulevard, swerved to avoid a deer and flipped over. The highway patrols said driver Roger J. Purdy, 16, of 138 Trish Drive, and Robin H. Swanson, 17, of 2468 Vineyard Drive, were taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment, but the hospital had no record of either.

And the hospital also had no record of Rodney Sample, 15, of 113 Drake Avenue, Marin City, hurt when a car operated by Eloise T. Brown, 40, of 13 Cole Drive, Marin City, backed into his bicycle Saturday at 7 p.m. in the parking lot of Hayden's Market, Marin City, according to officers.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

In many cases Preparation H gives prompt, temporary relief from such pain and itching and actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation. Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients showed this to be true in many cases. In fact, many doctors, themselves, use Preparation H® or recommend it for their families. TV REVIEW

The Rebels Slotted For Young

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—There have been a lot of wisecracks that "The Young Rebels," a new hour series that bowed in on ABC-TV Sunday night and deals with youthful Americans in the Revolutionary War, is a sort of 1777 "Mod Squad."

Among other things, "The Young Rebels" is brought to us by some of the same top executives who honor us with "The Mod Squad." And there is probably some show business justice in this because, after all, just about everyone else is doinb absurd copies of "The Mod Squad" format — with young doctors, young lawyers and what have you.

In "The Mod Squad," for those who have somehow missed it for several years, a trio of youngsters work undercover for the police. In "The Young Rebels," a group of youths fight the British during the revolution with an underground organization. Naturally we won the war.

Well, there is really no sense in overdoing the industry wisecracks about "The Young Rebels" because it is, after all, slotted in a time period for children—7 p.m. EDT—and is essentially a show that seems crafted almost entirely for that particular audience.

Its real lineage is not so much "The Mod Squad" as it is Walt Disney adventure tales and NBC-TV's old "Daniel Boone" series. It is, shall we say, a bit unusual to hear rock and roll music as the theme for a series about the Revolutionary War, but the story itself, played as broadly as a picture book, lets us know exactly what we are seeing.

Curiously, despite all the attempts to make things "relevant" by suggesting parallels between rebels now and then, and by showing how important young people were, and by offering scenes of strain between parents and children—despite these factors, the new series resembles those old-fashioned, traditional, Hollywood costume epics of three decades ago. Listen, that's no knock. Some of them were great fun.

PASSING FANCY AT NOVATO

Brodie Has A Great Day In Leading 49er Victory

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Take a golden-armed quarterback connecting on 85 per cent of his passes, add a defense which made the big plays, and you have instant success.

Those were the ingredients the San Francisco 49ers used Sunday to defeat the Washington Redskins, 26-17, and spoil Bill Austin's debut as the late Vince Lombardi's successor.

Veteran quarterback John Brodie was the man who hit on 17 of 20 passes for the 49ers, and he wasn't even aware of the fact.

DO THE JOB

"You go out and do the job the best way you can," he said. "If it helps you win that's the only reason to be happy."

Brodie threw 21 yards to Dick Witcher early in the third quarter for what proved to be the winning touchdown. The drive was kept in motion when the Redskins were called for pass interference on the 23.

"That was the big one," said San Francisco head coach Dick Nolan, returned a winner in the season opener for the first time since he took over two years ago. "That play and Brodie's general selection of calls made a big difference. We let him make all the calls except maybe five."

DEFENSE

The defense, led by Charlie Krueger, Tommy Hart, Roland Lakes, Frank Nunley and Cedrick Hardman, shut off Washington quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, forcing him to throw on the run. The defense also spilled Jurgensen a half dozen times on pass plays and Johnny Fuller picked off one pass to make it a day Sonny would just as soon forget.

Doug Cunningham ran a yard for San Francisco's first touchdown in the opening quarter. Ken Willard slanted seven yards for a second TD in the second and Bruce Gossett booted a 20-yard field goal to complete the scoring. The 49ers picked up an additional two points on a safety.

75 YARDS

Larry Brown raced 75 yards along the right sideline for one Washington touchdown and Jurgensen got the other by throwing 10 yards to Jerry Smith. Curt Knight chipped in with an 18-yard field goal.

Nolan, naturally, was pleased with Brodie's play but he emphasized the day would have not been complete without the defense.

"I've been saying right along we will sink or swim with our defense," said Nolan, "and they proved me right this time. It's a nice way to start the season. It sure beats being 1-4."

The Forty Niners won only one of five exhibition games with the defense showing improvement right along. The offense, though, at times seemed non existent.

"We know what Brodie can do," said Nolan. "He's a good

Vikings Get Some Revenge

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

With their pride at stake, the Minnesota Vikings got a measure of revenge Sunday when they downed the defending World Champion Chiefs as Kansas City's season debut was anything but super.

Dave Osborn and Oscar Reed scored touchdowns on short plunges and linebacker Roy Winston scored another on a fumble return as Minnesota defeated Kansas City, 27-10, to avenge the 23-7 Super Bowl defeat the Chiefs had engineered on January 11th.

Marin Tars Open Grid Season On Losing Note

By STEVE DREYER

Despite two strong scoring drives in the fourth quarter, College of Marin Tars lost their opening game of the football season Saturday night to host San Jose City College, 19-14.

A tiring defense and less-than-perfect pass blocking were key factors in the Tars' loss as they repeatedly failed to take advantage of Jaguar mistakes.

Marin rallied from a 13-0 deficit to a 14-13 lead in the final period only to watch the hosts storm back with less than two minutes to play.

Marin Coach Dick Read seemed satisfied with his squad's performance, commenting: "We got a maximum effort out of a lot of the freshmen. We lost mainly because the kids on defense played so much during the second quarter. As a result, we were tired in the fourth quarter. But I think we're going to be okay as the season continues."

Down 13-0 as the final period started, Marin exploded first on a 42-yard touchdown pass, quarterback Jim Peters to halfback Pat Green, then came right back on a 48-yard drive culminated by Ron Blasingame's six-yard run up the middle. The latter drive was started when safety Pete Carroll intercepted a pass, returning it to the Jaguar 48. Two penalties and a 19-yard Peters-to-George Adams pass set up Blasingame's scoring burst.

Green converted after both Tar scores.

San Jose's winning TD came with 1 minute, 25 seconds to play on Frank Bistolfo's one-yard run. It culminated a 68-yard drive highlighted by two Jim Parker-to-Steve Simpson passes worth 47 yards.

San Jose's earlier scores were on a two-yard run by halfback Glen Grimitch and on a 68-yard pass, Parker to Simpson.

Statistically the game wasn't as close as it seemed. San Jose

PROTEST FLAGS WAVE

America's Cup Series Tied

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — The Australian platoon system finally paid off in an America's Cup victory for Gretel II.

Using three helmsmen, Gretel achieved the improbable by defeating the defender Intrepid in one minute and seven seconds Sunday to even the best-of-seven series at 1-1.

The Aussie victory, however, in unofficial, since protest flags were hoisted from the masts of both 12-meter yachts during starting line maneuvers.

Intrepid's skipper, Bill Ficker, may claim that Gretel caused his yacht to veer and almost collide with the New York Yacht Club committee boat.

Jim Haryd, Gretel's skipper, contends Intrepid did not respond to his call and that Ficker probably thought he had enough room. Instead, contact was made between the craft at the starting line.

The protests will be heard by the NYYC race committee today and a decision probably is due later.

Should the committee decide in favor of Intrepid, the Gretel would be disqualified and race awarded to the Americans.

TROUBLE IN CINCY

Bengals Stun Raiders

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders could easily get a complex about coming to Cincinnati.

For the second straight year the Raiders, one of the real powerhouses in pro football, traveled to the Queen City only to lose to the low-rated Cincinnati Bengals.

The Bengals used a young, fired-up defense and some tricky running to down Oakland 31-21 Sunday and put a big smile on head coach Paul Brown's face.

PROUD BROWN

"They really carried the fight to the Raiders and I'm really proud of them," Brown said paternally of his team members.

"We were up for it. It was an inspired effort," he continued. "Defensively it was a wonderful effort."

Oakland coach John Madden was something less than ecstatic about the loss but insisted that "there are no excuses, the Bengals are a very good football team."

"This is a game of momentum," Madden said philosophically in the locker room after the game. "They had it early in the game, we got it back on some fine pass plays and they took it back again on that long draw play touchdown."

76-YARDER

The draw play Madden mentioned was a 76-yard touchdown scamper by Cincinnati fullback Jess Phillips on a third-and-30 situation.

Someone else was less than happy about the heat generated by the synthetic surface, said to be near 150 degrese on a sunny day.

"I personally do not like aritifical turf," commented Oakland's all-pro quarterback Darryl Lamonica. "I've never liked to play on it and have always preferred grass. My feet were burning all day."

It was difficult to tell from the statistics, however, as Lamonica completed 17 of 36 passes for 265 yards and two touchdowns.

KICKS

"We didn't establish a good running game and we didn't execute well," Lamonica said, "and the outstanding kicking game Cincinnati has certainly was a factor."

Cincinnati punter Dave Lewis, a product of Canadian football, averaged 48.3 yards a punt against Oakland, while place kicker Horst Muhlmann had only one kickoff which was returnable and it only came back to the 22 yard line.

Ickx Wins Canadian Grand Prix

MONT TREMBLANT, Que. (UPI)—Jacky Ickx of Belgium defeated Ferrari teammate Claude Regazzoni of Switzerland Sunday to win the Grand Prix of Canada.

Chris Amon of New Zealand was third in a March-Ford, and Mexican Pedro Rodriguez was fourth in a BRM.

Defending world champion Jackie Stewart made a blazing start, but the Scot gambled on a newer and faster Tyrell-Ford instead of the more reliable March-Tyrell he previously drove and had to drop out after leading 32 of the 90 laps.

The victory still left Ickx, second to the late Jochen Rindt, the Austrian driver killed recently at Monza, in the world point standings.

Twins Arrive In Oakland Ready For The Bubbly

OAKLAND (UPI)—Only fastballing lefthander Vida Blue of the Oakland A's can temporarily halt the flow of bubbly to the Minnesota Twins.

The Twins open their final three-game series with the A's at the Coliseum tonight with their magic number set at two for clinching the American League West pennant. Along with uniforms, bats and balls, the Twins have ordered a case or two of champagne for their dressing room at the Coliseum, just in case.

11 OF 15

A Minnesota win would give the Twins the divisional title for the second year in a row. The Twins have beaten the A's 11 of 15 times this season.

And manager Bill Rigney isn't fooling around. He has nominated 23-game winner Jim Perry to oppose Blue (1-0) in hopes of getting the clincher as soon as possible.

The Twins narrowed the magic number to two by beating the White Sox 8-1 Sunday while the California Angels whipped the A's 4-2 in Oakland.

Outfielder Alex Johnson of the Angels took over the American League batting lead with a .322 average by belting his 14th homer and two singles. Johnson was fined earlier in the season by manager Lefty Phillips for lack of hustle but Phillips never stopped praising Johnson's talents with the bat.

NO TRADE

Felipe Alou, Oakland's 35-year-old outfielder, revealed Sunday he would quit baseball if owner Charles O. Finley trades him this winter.

"Mr. Finley has been very nice to me but I have to start thinking about these things when I see such veterans like Mudcat Grant and Tommy Davis sold away from the team," said Alou who is winding up his 13th season in the big leagues.

"I just couldn't adjust to playing some place else at this stage in my career."

EASY WIN FOR RIORDAN

Terra Linda Gets Jolt

By DAVID EINSTEIN

The Terra Linda Trojans were brutally beaten by Riordan of San Francisco Saturday night and left for dead as far as the Northern California high school football rankings are concerned.

The defending Marin County Athletic League champions, who were rated No. 3 by a poll of coaches last week, were manhandled, 21-7 before 1,500 horrified onlookers at San Rafael high School.

TOUGH DEFENSE

In defeating Terra Linda for the second straight year, Riordan employed a massive pass rush that rendered the Trojans' offense inoperable. The Crusader defensive line gave quarterback Mike Sanderson a crash course in star gazing, dropping him behind the line nine times, and accounted for the first Riordan touchdown by blocking a punt with less than a minute to go in the third period.

Total yardage figures for the game explain better than words how badly the Trojans got mauled. Riordan ran for 115 yards and passed for 207, for a total of 322. Terra Linda collected only 26 yards through the air and was nailed for minus five on the ground for a total of 21.

12 OF 29

Quarterback Dan Hayes and fullback Mike Barbero were the most heroic of the Crusaders. Hayes hit on 12 of 29 passes, including a 70-yard strike to Dan Ferrigno for the final touchdown.

Terra Linda coach Don Lucas said after his team beat Palo Alto, 31-7 last week that he was not satisfied with the play of the Trojan defensive backs. Against Riordan they did a creditable job, considering they had to contend with Hayes, whom Lucas calls as fine a high school passer as he's ever seen.

Barbero did the rest of the Riordan scoring; He claimed the first touchdown when he ran that blocked punt 19 yards to paydirt, and he made it 14-0 midway through the final period when he climaxed a 46-yard drive with a five-yard burst up the middle.

TROJAN TD

Following that touchdown, Terra Linda finally got on the scoreboard, John Buckley, who earlier had intercepted two Hayes passes, deep in Terra Linda territory to thwart Crusader drives, rambled 87 yards with the kickoff. He must have run 200 yards as he stormed around, over and through people, and headed undeniably for the end zone. They should have given him the game ball for that touchdown gallop.

Besides Buckley, Terra Linda's standout performer was linebacker Larry Kerr, who made a number of sensational single-handed tackles, and even took over at quarterback late in the last quarter.

Riordan	0	0	7	14	- 21
Terra Linda	0	0	0	7	- 7

R - Barbero, 19 blocked punt return (Hayes kick).
R - Barbero, 5 run (Hayes kick).
TL - Buckley, 87 kickoff return (Corbett kick).
R - Ferrigno, 80 pass from Hayes (Hayes kick).

Redwood Blanked In Opener

The Redwood High School Giants fell prey to their own youth and inexperience Saturday as they lost their season-opening football game to Sacred Heart of San Francisco, 7-0 at Washington High School in S.F.

Three times the Giants were stopped inside the Irish five-yard line, while on defense they failed to stop the fierce running of Cyrus Kon, who rolled up 146 yards in 28 carries and scored the game's touchdown on a two-yard plunge in the third quarter.

Redwood's Phil Roark, making his debut as head coach, said after the game he was generally satisfied with his team's play. "We ran 60 plays on offense, but we just couldn't get into the end zone," he said.

Roark took a look at 24 players, many of them seeing their first varsity experience. Junior quarterback Bob Brown was impressive as he hit on nine of 20 passes, although he had one intercepted late in the game and deep in Sacred Heart territory by Irish deep back Tom Thraikill.

Brown got a tremendous performance out of wide receiver Steve Fleischman, who caught six passes for 70 yards.

Other Giants who looked especially good were guard Steve Green, tackle Joel Johnson, and fullback Mark Thomas.

SH — Kon, 2-run (Sandoval kick).

Novato Off To Flying Start In Prep Football Campaign

The Novato High School Hornets, rated as a possible dark horse in the Marin County Athletic League, opened their football season Saturday with an impressive 20-0 victory over Montgomery of Santa Rosa at Novato High School.

The Hornets combined a fired-up defense with the timely passing of Marty Moroski to register the third shutout in two days by an MCAL team. Friday night Drake blanked Petaluma, 39-0, and San Rafael demolished Washington of San Francisco, 40-0.

WIND

A crowd of nearly 500 saw Montgomery make a game of it during the first quarter, when Moroski stayed on the ground rather than risk a passing attack into the teeth of a 15 mile per hour wind.

With the wind at their backs in the second period, the Hornets moved for two touchdowns as Moroski went to the air. The first scoring drive took only two plays. Novato took possession following a punt on the Viking 15-yard line, and after Leo Magers carried for eight yards to first down, Moroski found wide receiver Dave Judnick for the touchdown.

The Hornets marched 69 yards in 10 plays the next time they got the ball, and during that drive Moroski threw the ball eight times. He completed four, including a third down and long yardage pass to Judnick that netted a first down on Montgomery's two-yard line. Moroski powered over for the touchdown, and Novato led, 13-0 at Halftime.

Novato	0	13	0	7	—20

N — Judnick, 7 pass from Moroski (kick failed).
N — Moroski, 2 run (Cooper kick).
N — Straw, 37 interception (Cooper kick).

SALESIAN TRIUMPHS

Tam Gridders Shut Out

The Tamalpais High School Indians, victimized by some overzealous officiating in addition to their own sloppy play in the first half, dropped their first football game of the season Saturday night, 13-9 to Salesian High School on poorly lit Nichol Park field in Richmond.

More than 125 yards in penalties were assesed against the Mill Valley team as the East Bay officials came up with such rare calls as "aiding and abetting the runner," and "roughing out of bounds."

Salesian scored twice during the second quarter, the second touchdown coming on a 40-yard pass that resulted from a broken play.

Tam got on the scoreboard in that period when tackle Terry Rutledge displayed a remarkable place-kicking ability by hitting a 32-yard field goal seconds after booting one from 27 that was nullified by a penalty.

The Indians closed the score to 13-9 as they marched 60 yards to score following the second half kickoff. Fullback Mark Costello banged the final five yards.

Tam Coach Mike Davlin said his team performed well in the second half, but that "we were a little disappointed with the way we looked in the first half."

He cited Costello and halfback Bill Washington as standout players in the backfield, while tackle Bill Rudolph and end Paul Ringleman shined on the line.

Pirates Take Command

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The moods of the three managers told the story better than the standings today in the three-cornered National League East race.

Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburg Pirates was satisfied. Gil Hodges of the New York Mets was glum. And Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs was protesting.

Murtaugh and Hodges had contrasting moods for the same reason — the Pirates beat the Mets, 9-5, in 10 innings after a 4-1 loss to their Sunday doubleheader, take the four-game series with the world champions, three games to one, and go two games ahead in the race.

Durocher was protesting that a lad identified only as Pierre The Ball Boy had interfered on a key play that led to the Montreal Expos' 6-4 triumph over the Cubs.

'TERRIFIC'

"It was a terrific game for us to win," said Murtaugh, referring to the nightcap, when Willie Stargell hit a tie-breaking homer in the 10th and the Pirates added three more runs with the help of a two-run triple by Gene Alley. "The way we won is bound to give the guys a charge," the Pirate pilot enthused.

The Pirates were in an uncomfortable spot after losing the opener to Jerry Koosman's two-hitter and sending Fred Cambria against Met ace Tom Seaver, an 18-game winner, in the nightcap. But they knocked out Seaver in 5 1-3 innings and then came up with their game-winning rally against relief ace Tug McGraw after the Mets fought back from a 5-3 deficit to tie the score with two runs in the seventh.

Hodges was glum because the loss left the Mets 3 1-2 games out of first place. Time is running out fast on the miracle workers of 1969. They have lost five of their last six, and the Pirates are rapidly moving into a commanding position.

PROTESTS

Durocher protested the Cubs loss on the claim that the ball boy in the Chicago bullpen, an employee of the Montreal club, kicked a double by Ron Fairly, preventing right fielder John Callison from fielding the ball, and allowing the tying and winning runs to score for the Expos. Fairly delivered the key hit off Ferguson Jenkins, making his first relief appearance of the season, during a four-run eight-inning rally which overcame the Cubs' 4-2 lead. Billy Williamson, Jim Hickman and Joe Pepitone homered for the Cubs.

The Atlanta Braves walloped the Cincinnati Reds, 11-2, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-4, and the Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the Houston Astros, 7-6 in 14 innings in other National League games. The other teams were not scheduled.

In the American League it was Baltimore 7, Cleveland 0; Minnesota 8, Chicago 1; New York 5, Detroit 1; Boston 3, Washington 1; California 4, Oakland 2; and Milwaukee 4, Kansas City 3.

Giants To Open Final Series With Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers carry a one-game lead over the San Francisco Giants into tonight's game in the race for second place in the National League West.

The Giants invade Dodger Stadium for the start of the final three-game series between the teams and the battle will be both for prestige and second place money in the Western Division race.

For the opening game, famed Dodger nemesis Juan Marichal, 11-10, will be opposed by Joe Moeller, 7-8. San Francisco goes into the series after having had a rare Sunday off during the regular season. The Giants concluded a three-game sweep against San Diego Saturday when Gaylord Perry shut out the Padres 3-0. No Sunday game was scheduled because the Padres share San Diego Stadium with the football Chargers who played there Sunday.

Perry posted his 22nd win for the Giants Saturday night as he recorded his fifth shutout of the season. Perry hurled seven hitless innings at San Diego but Rafael Robles dropped a single down the right field line to end his spell. The shutout stretched Perry's scoreless innings to 39.

Rancho Cotate Rips Cloverdale

The Brothers Wlodarczyk — fullback Mike and quarterback Steve — led Rancho oCtate High School Cougars of Rohnert Park to a 34-0 football season opening victory over the Cloverdale High Eagles Saturday night at Petaluma.

Mike W. led the Cougars in rushing yardage and compounded his value to the team by starring as a defensive back, knocking down several passes and intercepting one.

Mike's little brother Steve, a junior, passed for three touchdown to Rod Logue for five yards, to Mike Cooper for 25 and to Don Iverson for 15 yards. Steve W. also passed to Iverson for two two-point conversions.

Sherbert Wins Pac-8 Honors

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

SAN FRANCISCO — Former Terra Linda High School star Jim Sherbert and Washington State's Lionel Thomas today were chosen defensive players of the week in the Pacific 8 football conference.

Sherbert, a defensive tackle in his second varsity campaign, made 14 tackles and played a major role in the Beavers' 21-14 triumph over Iowa Saturday at Portland.

Thomas, an all-conference defensive back last year, picked off three Idaho passes and batted down a fourth in helping the Cougars to a 44-16 comeback victory.

Golf

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland — Australian Bruce Devlin Sunday fired a four-under-par 68 in the final round to win the $125,000 Alcan Golfer of the eYar Championship.

Devlin, maintaining a putting consistency which defied the gusting winds of this 7,117-yard Irish Sea links all week, won the first prize of $55,000 with a 10-under-par 278.

Only five men of the 25 man field beat par for the four rounds over the par 72 course.

ROBINSON, Ill. — "Lady Luck," chanted jubilant George Knudson after a missed two-foot putt by George Archer on the fourth hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday handed Knudson the $100,000 Robinson Open PGA Golf Classic on a $20,000 platter.

"I just didn't keep my concentration" said Archer, who dueled in the same threesome with Knudson for 40 holes under a hot sun on a par 71 course in the Sunday marathon brought on by a rain delay Thursday.

"I got a little careless," said Archer. "I had gotten tired and was hoping that it would end soon."

Tennis

LOS ANGELES — Pancho Gonzales led his teammate James Conners off the center court of the Los Angeles Tennis Club during a first round doubles match Sunday at the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament over a dispute regarding a change in the tie-breaker rules.

About 2,000 of the 2,300 fans left with Gonzales and Conners. The argument arose because the club's management decided in mid-match to replace a 12-point tie breaker rule with a 9-pointer.

SEATTLE — Arthur Ashe defeated home town favorite Tom Gorman 6-3, 6-4 Sunday to capture the men's singles title at the Seattle Tennis Invitational.

Ashe, who will become a contract professional in January, earned $4,000 for his win in the two-day tournament. Gorman picked up $2,000 in second place money.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Brother and sister Cliff and Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., took home $2,500 each Sunday after winning the men's and women's titles of the Carolinas International Tennis Classic.

Cliff beat Erik Van Dillen 6-3, 7-6, for the men's title and Nancy downed 15-year-old Chris Evert 6-4, 6-1.

Weightlifting

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Sideburned Vasily Alexeev of Russia lifted 500 pounds Sunday, the first man ever to do so in competition, to win the super heavyweight title in the World Weightlifting Championships and give his country the team trophy.

Alexeev, a 29-year-old miner, lifted a 501½ pounds 227.5 kg on his last try in the clean-and-jerk for a total of 1,350¼ pounds 612.5, equalling his world record.

Soccer

LOS ANGELES — The second largest soccer crowd in Southern California history Sunday saw World Cup champion Santos of Brazil defeat Guadalajara, 2-1 in the Coliseum.

More than 1,000 of the 24,432 rabid fans poured onto the field before the match even started, and the teams spend another 35 minutes in the dressing rooms before the fans returned to their seats.

The great Pele scored one of Brazil's points, the 1095th of his career.

Auto Racing

GREENVILLE, Ohio — Jim Smith of Burgoon, Ohio, was killed Sunday when his race car flipped over twice and hit a guard rail during the second lap of a super-modified race at nearby Eldora Speedway.

Smith was dead on arrival at Our Lady of Mercy Hospital in Coldwater.

WEST ALLIS, Wis. — Jack Bowsher won the 250-mile late model stock car race at the Fair Park Track, but Roger McCluskey finished second and won his second straight USAC national championship.

Bowsher, Springfield, Ohio, took the lead on lap 224 and finished 20 seconds ahead of McCluskey.

The winner averaged 95.483 miles per hour over the paved, one-mile oval and finished the grind in two hours and 37 minutes.

Boat Racing

SAN DIEGO — Dean Chenoweth won the national driver championship Sunday when he piloted "Miss Budweiser" to a repeat victory in the Gold Cup Classic for unlimited hydroplanes.

In winning the event for the second straight year, Chenoweth averaged 101.848 miles per hour in six laps around the Mission Bay course.

"Miss Madison" driven by Jim McCormick, tied for second with Leif Borgersen and his "Notre Dame."

Along with the national driver title, Chenoweth earned the 1970 boat championship for "Miss Budweiser," based on points accumulated during the season.

Fired Up Lions Smash Packers

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Not since the pre-Lombardi era have the Green Bay Packers suffered through a worse Sunday. The Detroit Lions roared to a 40-0 victory in which the Packers were unable to scrounge a first down in the entire first half.

The Packers managed a total of 114 yards total offense while allowing the Lions 266 yards on the ground and 132 by air.

Bart Starr, the bench-warmer Lombardi transformed into one of the NFL all-time greats, saw Lem Barney intercept one of his passes in the third quarter and return it 50 yards for a touchdown.

The Lions added embarrassment again in the fourth quarter, when a reserve quarterback, Greg Landry, romped 76 yards on a quarterback sneak to set up Bill Tripplett's 11-yard touchdown run.

Erroll Mann, a Green Bay castoff, booted four field goals in five attempts, including one for 46 yards, and Mel Farr scored two touchdowns to lead the Lions to their smashing triumph.

Sonoma State Loss

Luther Nelson's two-yard touch-down run in the first quarter gave Sonoma State College a 7-0 lead, but University of California, Riverside, rallied to score a 14-7 victory over the Cossacks in their season-opening football game at Riverside Saturday.

made 22 first downs to Marin's 13. The big difference was in rushing, where San Jose pulled off 53 plays for 168 net yards while the Tars ran 41 times for 18 net yards.

Peters completed 16 of 29 passes for 262 yards. Parker hit on 14 of 30 for 242 yards.

Larry Blackwell caught 6 passes for 91 yards to lead Marin receivers.

Green was the leading rusher for the Tars with 6 carries for 26 yards. Dave Perron was the defensive star for Marin, making 23 tackles, 18 of them unassisted.

The Tars will host the College of the Redwoods of Eureka next Saturday, 1 p.m. in the newly-constructed Kentfield stadium.

Special Stock Fee Pending New Rates

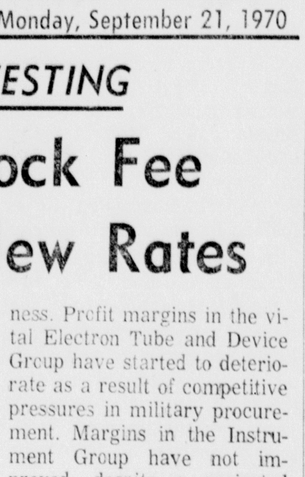

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Would you let me know when the special fee was set for stock transactions? What is the percentabe and why was it set? G.S.

A. A surcharge on trades of 1,000 shares or less was adopted by the major exchanges April 6, 1970, to be in force 90 days, but later extended indefinitely. In addition to the basic commission, a service fee of $15 or 50 per cent of the commission or the lesser of the two is charged on the transaction. The basic commission on a 100 share purchase of a $44 issue is $41; the surcharge would add $15. If the normal commission is below $30; the surcharge adds 50 per cent of that commission to the cost of the transaction. The surcharge was adopted as a stopgap measure until a new schedule of commission rates is approved in order to provide relief for deficit-ridden brokerage houses. The New York Stock Exchange has prepared a new rate plan which would add $500 million annually to member firms' commission revenue. Pending approval by the Securities Exchange Commission and then by member firms, the new rates will increase fees on orders of $5,000 or less up to 50 per cent.

Q. Some time ago, I purchased shares of Varian Associates at about 30. It is now around 13. What happened? And what do you recommend? W.A.

A. Aside from the general stock market malaise, Varian is suffering from the adverse impact of government delays and cutbacks and the overall economic sluggishness. Profit margins in the vital Electron Tube and Device Group have started to deteriorate as a result of competitive pressures in military procurement. Margins in the Instrument Group have not improved, despite a projected sales increase of 10 per cent. Moreover, earnings of recently formed Instrument Systems may be held at the break-even level due to difficulties connected with a Burroughs order While Varian's operating outlook for the remainder of the fiscal year does not augur well for a sharp near-term stock recovery move, long-term retention may prove rewarding.

"Over the years many of you have become accustomed to receiving quarterly dividends."

GM Estimates Loss Last Week At 80,000 Vehicles

DETROIT (UPI) — The strike against General Motors plunged U.S. auto output to less than 95,000 cars last week, compared with 134,000 the week before, Ward's Automotive Reports said.

GM production was limited to one day's output, Monday, after which all its assembly plan shut down by the strike. As a result Ford took close to 50 per cent of the production for the week.

Production for the week was estimated at 94,909 cars, compared with 134,488 last week and 183,158 in the corresponding week of 1969. GM production for the one day worked was set at 12,569. For the rest of the week it was estimated that 80,000 units were lost.

Truck production for the week was 26,954 compared with 36,984 a week ago and 41,671 in the same week last year.

Chrysler scheduled Saturday overtime at three car plants and one truck plant.

The five millionth car of salendar 1970 was turned out Sept. 17.

Stocks Drop Despite Rally At Offset

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks declined across a broad front today despite a flurry of demand at the outset stemming from a reduction in the prime interest rate by a leading New York bank. Trading was moderately active.

Shortly before the final bell, the Dow Jones Industrial Average of 30 selected blue chips was off 6.02 at 752.47. Of the 1,595 issues on the tape, declines outscored advances, 804 to 515.

Turnover of around 12,500,000 shares was down from 15,900,000 shares traded Friday.

Closing prices included: Am T&T 44-3-8 off 1-4; Beth St 22-3-8 even; Chrysler 26 7-8 off 1-8; DuPont 119 3-4 off 1-4; Ford 49 5-8 off 3-8; Gen El 80 3-8 up 1-4; Gen Motors 72 3-8 off 1-8; and IBM 275 1-2 off 4 3-4.

Initial demand for stocks stemmed from a reduction in the prime interest rate—that charged a bank's most creditworthy customers—to 7 1-2 per cent from 8 per cent by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., a major New York commercial bank.

Prices declined in brisk trading on the American Stock Exchange.
